FOR GRAND REVIEW.

The President May Visit Camp Thomas.

Invited to Come on the Fourth of July.

Governors Are Calling on the Soldiers.

Vaccination Prevents Many Troopers From Drilling--Camp Suffers From the Dust Nuisance.

CHICKAMAUGA, National Military Park, Tenn., June 8.—The usual hard drills and manouvres are employing the various regiments of General Brooke's big volunteer army today. The temperature continues high, but it is again relieved somewhat by a steady breeze.

What the whole army is now praying for is a hard downpour of rain.

The dust is increasing daily and unless rain soon abates it, it will become an almost unbearable nuisance. Thousands of horses and wagons constantly moving along the park roads and the long dry spell have combined to make this nuisance the worst, and in fact the only considerable one, with which the army has to contend.

Governor Bradley and staff, of Kentucky, who arrived last night, spent the night at Lookout Inn and went to the park at an early hour this morning. They were guests of two infantry regiments and the two cavalry troops of Kentucky yesterday. In their honor these commands have given a number of special drills.

Governor Hastings, of Pennsylvania, with his staff is scheduled to arrive Saturday and spend several days with the Pennsylvania regiment here.

A number of governors have been invited to visit the camp and it is believed that the invitations will be accepted.

A movement is now on foot to have President McKinley and such of his cabinet officers as can accompany him to inspect the park army on the 4th of July. A formal invitation will be extended and the president will be urged to accept.

If the invitation is accepted the president and his party will be elaborately entertained by the city and in the park.

The Leiter hospital will probably be opened tomorrow. All the most serious cases will at once be transferred to it. The place is an ideal one, and the army patients will enjoy every comfort in it.

A large number of the volunteers are still suffering with sore arms on account of the vaccinations. The men of the second Arkansas have been unable to drill for several days on this account. The third Tennessee is being vaccinated today.

Brig. Gen. John A. Wiley, of Pennsylvania, who arrived last night, reported to General Brooke at headquarters this morning.

A number of new wells are being drilled in various portions of the park. The supply of dring water is now ample and the pipe lines furnish an abundant amount for other purposes.

General Brooke has issued an order forbidding hucksters and peddlers going through the park. The order was effective today and the change is very noticeable.

Hundreds of wagons have been going from camp to camp selling stuff of various kinds, and a number have been making small fortunes off the soldiers. General Brooke ended the practice on account of the confusion it caused on account of the complaints about the poor quality of the things dispensed.

The First Ohio cavalry has been ordered to discontinue preparations for departure. It has been understood for several days that this regiment would move as soon as it could get in readiness. The reason for the change in orders is not apparent.

A number of regiments are scheduled to arrive here during the next few days. The first Kentucky is due tonight. The talk of transferring the army, or any part of it, is about at an end, and the men are settling down for the summer.

CREMATE GRIDLEY'S BODY.

Mr. Copman, of Yokohama, to be Intrusted With the Work.

WASHINGTON, June 8—At the suggestion of Mrs. Gridley, widow of Captain Gridley, late commander of the cruiser Olympia with Admiral Dewey's fleet, the acting secretary of the navy has cabled instructions to Paymaster Galt at Yokohama to turn the remains of the deceased officer over to Mr. Copman, of that city, with a view to their cremation.

This action was taken in deference to the known wishes of the deceased and was based upon information that proper facilities for such work exist in Yokohama.

KENNEY INDICTED.

Delaware Senator Charged With Complicity in Looting the Dover Bank.

WILMINGTON, Del., June 8.—The grand jury in the United States court last evening returned indictments against United States Senator R. R. Kenney, Amos Cole, president of the Commercial Fire Insurance company; J. Franc Allee, chairman of the republican state committee; Harry Foard and J. R. McGonigal, prominent residents of Dover; C. H. Butler and W. E. Coter, of Philadelphia.

They are charged with aiding and abetting the defaulting teller, William N. Boggs, to misapply funds of the National Bank of Dover. The amount charged in the indictment against Senator Kenney is $23,461.91.

The return of the indictment has caused a great sensation.

ON LIFE'S VOYAGE.

Six Young Ladies Graduate From Westminster Seminary.

J. Cunning Smith, of Indianapolis, Delivered the Address--Reception and Banquet at Seminary.

The fourteenth annual commencement exercises of Westminster seminary were held last evening in the parlors of the First Presbyterian church. There were six graduates: Miss Helen Gray Davis, of Noblesville; Miss Jessie Scott, Greenfield; Miss Jennette Adele Stahl, Laporte; Miss Olive Blanche Coulter, Arcola; Miss Harriet Elliott, Lafayette, and Miss Isabella McClure, of this city.

As Professor Meyer, who presided at the organ, played a march, the young ladies of the seminary, dressed in pretty white gowns, entered the church and took the seats assigned them. Rev. Dr. Moffat invoked the Divine blessing and the Haydn quartet sang. Mrs. Leroy L. Plummer sang the waltz song from "Il Boccacio," to the accompaniment of Mrs. F. E. Stouder, and Mrs. Wells then introduced Rev. J. Cumming Smith, of Indianapolis, who gave the main address of the evening.

At the close of Mr. Smith's address, Mrs. Wells introduced Rev. J. M. Davies, of Noblesville, who spoke of the recent decision of the synod concerning the adoption of Westminster seminary and made a plea for the support of the school by citizens of the city who are interested in a Christian education for the young. In a few words Miss Sharp then presented the members of the class with their diplomas. Miss Helen Gray Davis, president of the class, replied, thanking the principals and teachers for their labors in behalf of the class during the time which they had spent in the school. The closing remarks were made by Mrs. Wells, which, with another song by the quartet and the benediction by Dr. Moffat, closed the exercises of Westminster's class of '98.

Louis F. Curdes sang in the quartet in place of Mr. Yarnelle.

After the exercises the young ladies were tendered a reception and banquet at the seminary.

WAR AND ARBITRATION.

General Howard Addresses Congregational Societies in Cleveland.

CLEVELAND, June 8.—At the second session of the seventy-second annual meeting of the Congregational Home Missionary society today, the president, Gen. O. O. Howard, delivered his annual address. His subject was, "War, Arbitration and the New Demand for American Home Missions."

The sixteenth annual meeting of the woman's department was held today, Mrs. H. S. Caswell, of New York, presiding. She said that the woman's organizations now cover the entire territory of the United States, with the exception of Alaska.

The woman's organizations have added to the treasuries of the national societies this year over $100,000.

Before another annual meeting some plan may be evolved by which men, women and children of each church may belong, as a united company to a prosperous church missionary society, lavishly pouring their offerings into the church treasury to be forwarded from that treasury to the national missionary societies for the great and benificent work assumed by each. Mrs. Lydia Tichenor Bailley, of Seattle, Wash., delivered an address entitled "A New Vision." The concluding address was by Mrs. Alice Freeman Palmer, of Cambridge, Mass., ex-president of Wellesley college, in answer to the question "How can women save our country?"

COLUMBIA REPAIRED.

Cruiser in as Good Shape as Before Collision With the Foscolia.

NEW YORK, June 8.—The United States cruiser Columbia, which has been in dry dock at the navy yard since Decoration day on account of her collision with the British ship Foscolia, was floated today. New plates have entirely repaired the starboard side of the vessel, which was stove in by the Foscolia, and the cruiser is as sound and well protected as when she was first put into commission. The Columbia will probably resume active service before the end of the week.

NOT GUILTY.

Wife of Governor Atkinson, of West Virginia, Acquitted of Forgery.

CLEVELAND, Ohio, June 8.—A special from Glenville, W. Va., says:

The jury last night returned a verdict of not guilty in the indictment in which Mrs. Atkinson, wife of the governor, was a co-defendant. This ends the long and noted case, in which Mrs. Atkinson was charged with forgery.

Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Stewart, of West Berry street, have as their guest their daughter, Mrs. Montgomery, of Youngstown, Ohio.

DONS CLAIM VICTORY

Say Sampson's Attack Was Bravely Repulsed.

American Loss Given as Being Over a Thousand.

Spanish Tale That Captain Philip Was Killed.

There is Nothing in Sampson's Dispatch Concerning the Death of Commander of the Texas.

CAPE HAYTIEN, Hayti, June 8.—No further war news was received here this morning.

ST. THOMAS, Danish West Indies, June 8.—No war news reached here today.

MADRID, June 8.—10 a. m.—Dispatches received here from Havana, from Spanish sources, say "the Americans were again repulsed at the last bombardment of Santiago de Cuba."

Continuing these reports assert that the damage done to the batteries and all the batteries are in condition to reply to the enemy's fire. During the second attack Colonel Ordonez was on board the Reina Mercedes and personally assisted in working her guns. Every one regards Colonel Ordouez and General Linares as the heros of the day."

According to official Spanish dispatches received here, the exact loss of the Spaniards at Santiago de Cuba, on Monday, is as follows:

Land forces, one soldier killed and five officers wounded, including Colonel Ordonez, slightly wounded. Sea forces, the second officer in command of the Reina Mercedes, five sailors and twenty-nine marines killed and an officer and eleven sailors wounded. The official dispatch also says that many of the wounded, including Colonel Ordonez, are able to attend to their duties.

It is announced here that the Spanish steamer Benito has "run the blockade of Manzanillo" and arrived at Jamaica.

HAVANA VERSION OF THE SANTIAGO FIGHT.

(Copyrighted, 1898, by the Associated Press.)

HAVANA, June 7.—(Delayed in transmission)—Details from Spanish sources at Santiago de Cuba were received here today of the Spanish losses during the bombardment of the forts there by the American fleet on Monday. The "marine chief" killed on board the Reina Mercedes was former Captain Emilio Acota Eyormanu. Ensign Alejandro Molines, also of the Reina Mercedes, was killed.

Colonel Ordenez of the artillery and inventor of the cannon bearing his name was slightly wounded. Some other officers were slightly wounded by projectiles, shells and fragments scattered by the explosion of shells on land.

The insurgents today dynamited a passenger train near Canas, province of Pinar del Rio, overthrowing one car and derailing the train.

CAPTAIN OF THE TEXAS IS REPORTED KILLED.

NEW YORK, June 8.—A special cable dispatch from Madrid says that in the course of Monday's cannonading at Santiago de Cuba Captain Philip, of the United States battleship Texas was killed by a Spanish shell. There is nothing in other dispatches from West Indian waters to substantiate the report.

MOUNTAIN HOWITZERS TO BE USED AT MANILA.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 8.—General Merritt's latest order for the campaign in the Philippines is that a battery of six mountain Howitzers shall be taken on the next expedition to Manila. To move the guns, carriages and ammunition in the Philippines a pack train of mules will be required. It is understood that Lieutenant Carson, Fourth United States cavalry, will be given command of the battery.

The general court martial in session at Camp Merritt has convicted John Campbell, of the Tenth Pennsylvania volunteers, who attacked a colored man at Mount Gretna, Pa., just before the regiment left for the coast. A light sentence was imposed, as Campbell has practically been in prison a month.

CRUISER VIZCAYA SAID TO BE BADLY DAMAGED.

NEW YORK, June 8.—A special from Kingston, Jamaica, reports that the Spanish cruiser Vizcaya and the torpedo boat destroyer Furor were badly damaged during the bombardment of Santiago's defenses on Monday.

A shell from the Brooklyn is said to have burst under the Vizcaya's port quarter, dismounting a gun, injuring the cruiser's rudder and wounding several of her sailors.

A SPANISH ACCOUNT OF THE BOMBARDMENT.

MADRID, June 8.—10 A. M.—A semi-official note was published here today, purporting to give an account of the bombardment of Santiago de Cuba by the American fleet on Monday last.

"The American navy, under Admiral Sampson, has fircely attacked Santiago de Cuba and a bloody encounter ensued The Americans made three attacks on the Spanish marine and land batteries, which replied. As a consequence the Americans were repulsed with heavy losses, estimated at fifteen hundred men. The American projectiles, however, sank the Spanish cruiser Reina Mercedes."

WHAT AGUINALDO HAS ACCOMPLISHED.

MANILA, June 1, via. Hong Kong, June 8.—Following is a summary of Aguinaldo's work since his landing here two weeks ago.

He has assembled a force of 3,000 men with arms. He has fought many skirmishes.

Two good batteries have been captured.

The whole province of Cavite has been taken.

Sixteen hundred Spaniards are prisoners.

He has supplied his men with 2,009 rifles, Mausers from abroad, and 2,000 magazine rifles and six field guns taken from Spaniards.

CAPTAIN PHILIP WAS NOT KILLED.

WASHINGTON, June 8.—Reports coming from Spanish sources and apparently originating in Madrid have stated that Captain Philip, of the Texas, had been killed by a shell shot by the Spaniards. The president said today that the report undoubte,dwas untrue and said that it was evidently baseless, as Admiral Sampson's official report stated that there were no casualities.

At the navy department considerable indignation is felt at the report of Captain Philip's death, the department saying that no basis whatever for it exists and that it is calculated needlessly to alarm his family and friends.

CRUISER ST. PAUL SAILS UNDER SEALED ORDERS.

NEW YORK, June 8.—The auxiliary cruiser St. Paul sailed at noon today under sealed orders. She has taken aboard since her arrival off St. George, S. I., on Friday, nearly 5,000 tons of coal and 250,000 gallons of water.

ALL IS QUIET ALONG THE BLOCKADE LINE.

KEY WEST, Fla., June 8.—10 A. M.—An auxiliary gun boat which arrived here this morning from Cardenas reports all quiet there, except that the auxiliary gun boat Leyden is making things very lively for the Spaniards by blazing away at them whenever she sees a movement on the Spanish gun boats or on the defensive works at Cardenas.

The British collier Roath, a sister ship of the Restormel, was held up on June 4 by an American gun boat. Not responding promptly to a blank shot, a solid shot was sent across her. Next day she was held up by a second gun boat and obeyed immediately.

The Roath was in ballast, bound for Mobile from San Juan de Porto Rico, where she had discharged her cargo of coa'.

CASES GO OVER.

Schell and Compton Will Not Be Tried Before December.

No Criminal Cases Will Be Tried in Fort Wayne This Term and There May Be No Session of Court.

Ed. Schell and his erstwhile partner, Compton, may yet escape from the clutches of Uncle Sam. United States Commissioner Logan has received information that at the coming session of the United States court in Fort Wayne no criminal cases will be tried. This means that the cases against Schell and Compton will go over until the December term of court. In conversation with THE SENTINEL Schell remarked that he had not had his say, and if the cases ever came to trial he was certain of acquittal. The litigation, however, he says, is expensive.

Commissioner Logan has also notified Judge Baker of the civil cases on the docket and there may be no session of the United States court in Fort Wayne this summer. At the soonest it will not convene before June 21.

JUDGE GRINNELL DEAD.

The Man Who Prosecuted the Chicago Anarchists Dies Suddenly.

CHICAGO, June 8.—Judge Julius F. Grinnell died suddenly today at the Illinois Trust and Savings bank.

Judge Grinnell was famous for the record he made as a fearless public servant, particularly as state's attorney during the prosecution of the Haymarket anarchists.

Judge Grinnell was born at Massena, N. Y., in 1842. He was at one time a professor in the Ogdenburg academy.

New Jerusalem Conference.

CLEVELAND, June 8.—The conference of the church of the New Jerusalem of the United States was opened today with a business session which continued until nearly noon, after which a number of papers were read and discussed. The annual address was delivered by Rev. Willis L. Gladish, the subject being, "The Lord's Temptation."

Miss Margaret Doan, of Ossian, was visiting in the city yesterday.

CORKING THE NEWS.

War Department Holding Up All Information.

Will Not Affirm Embarkation of Invading Army.

Landing Place is Kept Strictly a Secret.

It is Expected, However, That News of the Sailing of Transports Will Soon Be Received.

WASHINGTON, June 8.—Secretary Alger this morning positively declined to say whether or not the United States troops had sailed yet from Tampa for Cuba. He holds that, notwithstanding the bottling up of the Spanish squadron in Santiago, there are still good and sufficient reasons why every precaution should be adopted to prevent the Spaniards from obtaining information as to the departure of our troops, the point selected for their debarkation and the strength of the expedition.

He was a good deal annoyed at the attempt of some of the newspapers to indicate the very point selected for landing the troops and siege guns in the neighborhood of Santiago.

If it were true that the department had selected a place where there is a strong wharf upon which the vessels may discharge the heavy seige train directly, the publication of that fact, if authenticated, might very naturally lead the Spaniards to destroy that particular wharf and thus seriously hamper the operations of the troops. Careful inquiry at other places in the war department, where information as to the movement of the troops might naturally be expected, developed the fact that no word had yet come of the departure of the military expedition from Tampa. As the troops are under orders to go to sea just as soon as they can be made ready without further direction from the department is deemed probable that they will get off some time during the day and notice to that effect will be the next news received at the department.

No further word from Admiral Sampson was received at the navy department. The bulletin made public by the department last night in confirmation of the press reports of the attack upon Santiago last Monday is believed to be merely a skeleton statement of Admiral Sampson's cablegram, which it is surmised contained a good deal more information than it was deemed prudent to make public.

Of course to protect the naval cipher, the matter published was a paraphrase, and it was said at the department this morning that the term used in the bulletin "silenced works quickly without injury at any time," was based upon a statement in the original dispatch broad enough to indicate that the ships had sustained no injury, and that there had been no casualties among the personnel of the American fleet.

Naval officers today expressed the belief that about all of the force landed Monday from Sampson's fleet were marines, and that their purpose was not so much to take military possession of the landing as perhaps to spike some guns and destroy some batteries that might have been reoccupied by the Spaniards to advantage after the retirement of the American fleet from the action. One object of Admiral Sampson's attack which has escaped general observation, though exceeding important, was pointed out at the navy department.

This was to prevent the Spaniards from making a successful attempt to remove the obstruction of the channel caused by the wreck of the Merrimac. Having silenced the forts at the entrance of the harbor, which, when effective, obliged the American fleet to lie many miles out at sea to keep out of range of their guns, Sampson will now be able to place one or more of his ships close to the mouth of the bottle where it can lie in comparative safety and yet be able to command easily with its guns the wreck of the Merrimac.

MORE TRANSPORTS FOR PHILIPPINES.

WASHINGTON, June 8.—Assistant Secretary Meiklejohn has chartered the steamships Indiana, Morgan City and City of Para for transport of troops to the Philippines; has closed a contract for the Victoria, Olympia and Arizo, of the Northern Pacific steamship line, and secured the privilege of acquiring the Tacoma and the Columbia if needed—all five on condition they are given an American register. He also ordered impressed into service the Senator, Queen and City of Pueblo, of the Pacific Coast Steamship company, if found satisfactory.

THE NEWS FROM CAPE HAYTIEN.

(Copyrighted, 1898, by the Associated Press.)

CAPE HAYTIEN, Hayti, June 28.—(Correspondence of the Associated Press)—There are some 900 tons of coal at this port, held by foreign manufacturing concern which they will not sell except at an exorbitant price. This concern has cabled to the United States for a further supply of 2,000 tons of coal, but it is uncertain yet whether it will get so much.

The correspondent of the Associated Press has information showing the completeness of the control exercised by the censor at Santiago de Cuba over all cable communication between that place and points on foreign territory. The censor has a special apparatus on his desk in front of him which records all messages sent over the cable, even the private gossip exchanged between operators.

A consular case has just arisen at Goniaves, which has rested the question as to whether the Haytien government has the right to perscribe the language in which a dispatch written by a diplomatic or consular officer to another officer of his government and presented for transmission over the state telegraph shall be couched. Great Britain has no consular agent at Goniaves. On May 12 the British consul general at Port Au Prince requested the American minister, Mr. Powell, to extend his protection over an English subject at Goniaves. The nature of the difficulty into which this person had fallen is unknown to the correspondent, and in any event, is not essential to the matter in question.

United States Minister Powell addressed a telegram in English to the American consul at Goniaves. At the office of the government telegraph office in Port Au Prince the message was refused because it was not written in French, according to the regulations devised by the government.

Mr. Powell declined to be controlled by these regulations in communicating with a United States officer on matters of purely official importance and informed the Haytien authorities that he considered the effort to force him to use the French language an infringement of his ministerial rights.

The minister of the interior offered to frank the message and send it free if he were permitted to translate it into French beforehand. To this Minister Powell refused to accede and at last the Haytien minister yielded.

It is said that this is the first time the government has waived its regulations in this particular.

BUTKE'S HEAD OFF.

Mayor Scherer Has Him Removed as Weighmaster.

Captain C. E. Reese Appointed to Succeed Him--Patrolman Palmer's Head Also Drops--Collins a Copper.

The board of safety held a special meeting this morning and carried out Mayor Scherer's orders that Henry Butke should be removed from the position of weighmaster. It was alleged that he had been neglectful of his duties in not collecting from farmers the full amount owing for use of the city scales. The truth, however, is that Mr. Butke was removed to make room for Captain C. E. Reese, who was appointed to succeed him and will commence work in the morning as weighmaster unless Mr. Butke refuses to give up the place, which he may do. The change is not received well in democratic circles and there may be a contest before the matter is finally settled.

OFFICER PALMER FIRED.

At the regular meeting of the board of safety last evening Patrolman Palmer was relieved of his star and Pete Collins was elected a policeman to succeed him. It was alleged that Palmer violated rule 45 of the laws governing the police department. Collins went on duty last night and this morning filed his bond.

SOLD WITHOUT LICENSE.

Poundmaster Tremmel has filed an affidavit against A. A. Martin, charging him with selling liquor without a city license and a warrant has been issued for Martin's arrest.

NOTES.

The city council will meet this evening in committee of the whole to discuss the proposed annexation of property contiguous to the southern limits of the city.

There was no police court this morning.

The board of works this morning inspected the work on the streets in South Wayne which are about to be paved. This afternoon they are investigating sewers just completed in Fletcher's and Winch's addition.

Clerk A. M. Schmidt today sent out scores of notices to property owners to repair sidewalks.

The receipts from gardeners and farmers for market space this spring did not reach the amount expected for the reason that there is no roof over the market place. There has been some agitation in favor of roofing the market, and there is no doubt that the additional revenue received would in a few years pay the expenses of making the improvement.

The test of the two new LaFrance engines was satisfactory, and this morning the board of safety ordered a voucher drawn for $5,919, payment in full for the old engines and part payment for the new. Mr. LaFrance has been here a week or more and may not leave for a few days to come.

The Dorcas society of Trinity English Lutheran church will picnic at Robison park tomorrow, if the weather permits. The party expects to start at 2 o'clock. This will be the closing meeting of the year and is generally devoted to pleasure instead of work.

HAWAII IN THE HOUSE

Grosvenor Tries to Give it the Inside Track.

Resolution to Allow it Precedence Defeated.

Johnson and Henderson Make Strong Protests.

Senator Mason Presents a Bill Extending the Postal Franking Privilege to the Soldiers.

WASHINGTON, June 8.—Today's session of the house begun with a slightest burst of the annexation of Hawaii. The regular order pursuant to unanimous consent granted yesterday was the consideration of the conference report upon the sundry civil bill.

Mr. Smith (Rep. Mich.) demanded the regular order, but withdrew it temporarily to permit the consideration of a minor measure.

Mr. Grosvenor (Rep. Ohio), a leader of the annexationists, gained recoguition and asked unanimous consent to read and have referred to the committee on rules a resolution providing for giving the Hawaiian resolution precedence over all other business except conference reports until disposed of.

"I will say to the gentleman," quickly interjected Mr. Henderson, republican, of Iowa, a member of the rules committee, "that it is entirely unnecessary to read or present to the house his resolution. He has only to deposit it with the clerk and it will be referred appropriately."

"I understand," responded Mr. Grosvenor, "but I want it made plain that the resolution has been introduced and sent to the committee."

"I object," cried Mr. Johnson, republican, of Indiana, and Mr. Smith, republican, of Michigan, renewed his demand for the regular order and the resolution was forced through the regular channel.

IN THE SENATE.

WASHINGTON, June 8.—Soon after the senate convened today Mr. Hale, of Maine, chairman of the naval affairs committee, reported favorably a bill to organize a hospital corps of the United States navy, to define its duties and regulate its pay. The bill passed.

Under the bill the pay of hospital stewards shall be $60 a month, hospital apprentices, first clas, $30 a month and hospital apprentices $20 a month with the increase on account of length of service as is now or may hereafter be allowed by law to other enlisted men in the navy. The house provision that the application of the act be limited to the duration of the present war with Spain was elimnated from the bill.

Mr. Mason, of Illinois, reported from the committee on postoffices and post roads, a bill extending the franking privilege through the mails to the officers and men of the army and navy during the existing war, the privilege to extend only to first-class matter, each piece weighing not more than one ounce.

Mr. Platt, of Connecticut, regarded the measure as very sweeping in its provisions and while he desired, he said, to extend all proper privileges to American soldiers and sailors he could not let this bill go through without examination. On his objection the measure went over.

Mr. Quay, of Pennsylvania, resigned from the committee on commerce, and his colleague, Mr. Penrose, was appointed to fill the vacancy.

The senate concurred in the house amendment to the joint resolution directing the secretary of war to return to the state of Ohio flags of certain volunteer regiments of Ohio, the house amendment being also to return the flags of the One Hundred and Thirteenth New York volunteer infantry.

BUSY DAY AT THE WHITE HOUSE.

WASHINGTON, June 8.—Secretary Day was the first caller to greet the president today. He spent about half an hour with him. On leaving he said there were no important dispatches and no developments in the war situation. One story that was current during the day at the white house was that Captain Philip, of the battleship Texas, had been killed by a shell fired by the Spaniards in the recent bombardment. The president was in consultation with a senator when he received a press dispatch to that effect. He promptly handed over the dispatch to be read and remarked that it was "nonsense" and that there was no reason to believe it to be true.

He cited Admiral Sampson's official dispatch announcing no casualties, and said if the report was to be given credence, he would have been wired immediately.

Throughout the forenoon there was a long line of callers. Practically all of them sought war appointments. Senators Lodge, Turpie, Fry and Fairbanks, Platt, Thurston and White were among the callers.

LIGHT UNIFORMS ORDERED.

Thirty Thousand Cotton Duck Suits are to be Sent to the Troops.

NEW YORK, June 8.—The award of the contract for the light-weight uniforms for the troops which are sweltering in the south in heavy winter-weight woolen garments was made today.

The exasperating delay has been due to various causes, the final complication having resulted from the effort to substitute cotton drilling for canvas. The result has been that the greater part of the suits will be made of cotton duck, which has been found superior to both of these and in some respects better than the imported Khaki cloth, which has been highly recommended.

The test to which the different materials, including canvas, drilling, Khaki cloth and duck, were submitted, showed conclusively that the duck was the best. It is stronger, more impervious to rain and more flexible than the others under the same tests. The result was a decision to order 30,000 suits of cotton duck, six and a half ounces to the yard in weight and of a brown color. To give a fair field test to cotton drilling there will be 2,000 suits of it ordered and put alongside the others.

The contract will call for the delivery of 5,000 suits a day within five days after the contract is made. As fast as made they will be sent to the troops, those farthest south getting them first.

LOGAN'S CAVALRY.

J. T. McElfatrick Receives a Letter From the Adjutant.

The Quota of the Fort Wayne Company Has Been Increased From Twenty-Five to Forty.

J. T. McElfatrick this morning received a communication from J. E. Allison, first lieutenant and adjutant of Logan's volunteer cavalry, notifying him that the quota of the Fort Wayne company had been increased to forty and advised him to have several reserves. The officers of the regiment held a meeting June 4 and decided to urge the continuation of organization and examination. The members of the several companies are also urged to be in readiness to move on short notice as Mr. Logan has received information from the United States authorities that as soon as the companies already enlisted are filled to their maximum there will be a call for more volunteers and the company's soonest ready to respond will be the ones enlisted. Mr. McElfatrick has thirty men now ready for duty and will increase them to forty as soon as possible.

At noon yesterday, at Huntington, occurred the death of William H. Cast, from a complication of diseases. Mr. Cast had been in poor health for a number of years and the result was not altogether unexpected. He was fifty-six years of age and had lived in Huntington many years. Until his health failed he was actively identified with the business interests of the city. Some years ago he was leader of the Emerson male quartet, a musical organization which was frequently heard in Fort Wayne. He leaves a wife. Mrs. Sylvester Dinius, of Fort Wayne, is a sister, and Mayor S. T. Cast, of Huntington, is a brother.

Masonic Temple—Attractions for this week:
Jolly Pathfinders in "A Devil's Gold Mine."

THERE is prospect that the war revenue bill will become a law this week and congress thereafter will have to show cause for continuing in session.

THE optimism of Blanco is sublime. What a western boomer the Spanish commander would make!

IT IS about time for the Hon. Marcus A. Hanna to come to the surface for air. His retirement from the public view has left a vast abyss of emptiness.

DEWEY sticks to his post in Manila bay like a grown-up Casabianca. He won't leave without orders and when he does he may not leave the town.

THAT affair at Manila has shown the people of America what the Spaniard considers a licking. He won't admit the worst of it until he is entirely wiped out. So far there have been only "Spanish victories" in Cuba.

THE Havana authorities, acting under the impulse of dire necessity, have decided to develop coal mines in Cuba. The presence of the deposits has been known for years, but no attempt has been made to turn them to account. This well illustrates the non-progressive character of Spanish rule in Cuba. The natural resources of the island have never been more than partly developed, and the unenterprising Spaniards have deliberately wasted their opportunities. When they are driven away Cuba should enjoy an era of prosperity unknown in her previous history.

THE wheat harvest has already begun in Texas and in states farther north the reapers will soon be hard at it. This year's crop is estimated by statisticians of repute at from 650,000,000 to 700,000,000 bushels. It is very evident that the farmers have freely followed the advice given them and have planted more wheat, for last year's crop amounted to only 530,000,000 bushels. The enormous increase would furnish a splendid bear card were it not for the war and the fact that Europe is still short. Even as it is there is some reason to look for a year of declining prices, in strong contrast to the year of advancing prices now closing.

THE torpedo boat, which gained such a high reputation during the Chinese-Japanese unpleasantness, may lose it during the present war. At any rate, it has done nothing yet to demonstrate its efficiency. The only vessel on the American side to be badly damaged since hostilities opened was a torpedo boat, while on the Spanish side the showing made is still worse. At the very outset the Spanish torpedo boats demonstrated their inability to make a long voyage, and even the torpedo boat destroyers have proved most disappointing. One of them was so disabled after the trip from the Cape Verdes that it was compelled to leave the fleet, while the other two failed utterly in the only attempt that they have made so far to attack American ships. Possibly the torpeds boats and torpedo boat destroyers will redeem themselves later on, but it does seem now as if they had been overrated.

ON MONDAY the fleet under Admiral Sampson engaged the forts that defend the water approaches to Santiago de Cuba and for several hours a terrific bombardment ensued. The result was the dismantling of the strongest defenses of the city and the silencing of the Spanish batteries. At the same time, under cover of American warships, a considerable military force was landed near Santiago. There is yet some hard fighting in prospect at Santiago and further bombardment will be necessary in order to effectually reduce the fortifications, but a good start has been made and the work will grow easier as it progresses. A large military expedition is now en route from Tampa to Santiago and it will make an assault on the landside in conjunction with the insurgents. The doom of Santiago is sealed and the destruction of the bottled fleet of Spain is assured. Immediately following the successful investment of Santiago will doubtless come an attack on San Juan and occupation of Porto Rico. After that Havana will be given attention. The Cuban capital presents the hardest problem of the Cuban campaign, but it cannot long hold out against a combined attack of the American fleets and the army. The campaign is moving along with a vigor it has not heretofore been given and a speedy ending of the war will be the result—if the administration does not get another fit of compunction against fighting.

Poorly Rewarded Services.

It will probably surprise many persons to be told by "Ex-Attache" in the New York Tribune that the late William E. Gladstone, who has just been buried in Westminster Abbey, London, amid almost unexampled demonstrations of national sorrow and affection, "spent the greater part of his public career, extending over threescore years, in monetary difficulties of so acute a character that he was forced by the precarious condition of his finances to dispose of his celebrated collection of porcelain and pottery, his much cherished library, as well as his town house." The statement is added that the eventide of the famous British statesman's life was made free from anxieties of this character through the kindness and generosity of his brother-in-law, the late Sir Stephen Glynne, who left him the use for life of his castle and estate of Hawarden.

"Ex-Attache," who has from time to time shown intimate knowledge of European affairs, says further that "Mr. Gladstone's principal rival, the late Lord Beaconsfield, died heavily in debt and was only preserved from premature political extinction by his marriage with that wealthy widow whose kindness of heart and devotion to her husband atoned for her lack of comeliness, for her vulgarity and downright stupidity." These facts are referred to as proving that public life in England is not a source of revenue and emolument. Numerous other instances are cited and it is shown that such service is no longer possible except to rich men. This is conspicuously illustrated in the house of commons, the members of which receive no pay. Consequently it has come to be the case that only men with large incomes will enter parliament or assume the onerous financial burdens which are involved. A body which is composed wholly of the wealthy and leisured class certainly cannot with propriety be called representative, and it is not surprising that there is a movement on foot to pay members of the British house of commons, much after the manner of compensating American congressmen. The United States system may have its defects, but it also seems to have some merits which are attracting the attention of British statesmen.

The rewards of public life surely are not well distributed when a statesman like Gladstone, whose inestimable services to Great Britain entitled him to the highest honors and rewards, is saved from financial distress only by the generosity of friends and relatives.

BURNED WITH GAS.

An Explosion Slightly Injures Two Employes at the New Court House.

George McGuire and Edward Redding were badly burned while at work on the new court house yesteryday. They tried to ignite the gas in the furnace and it wouldn't burn on the first attempt. Another piece of paper was thrown into the furnace and there was an explosion, flames shooting from the doors and burning both the men about the face. Dr. Dinnen dressed the burns, which are not considered dangerous. Charles Martin, another employe at the court house, had one of his hands badly mashed, and three fingers were amputated.

Wesley Johnson, of Eel River township, went to Chickamauga yesterday to visit his son who is a soldier in camp there, and who has written to his friends at home that he is home sick. Mr. Johnson was once a soldier and he remarked that he knew what it was to be home sick, for he had spent three months in Libby prison.

TOLEDO WON AGAIN.

The Mud Hens are Determined to Even Up Old Scores.

Kilm Made a Terrific Home Run--Springfield, Mansfield and Youngstown the Other Winners.

The Mud Hens won another game from the Fort Waynes yesterday, when a lucky hit might have registered the game on the won side of the per centage column. Several times there were men on bases and a hit meant runs, but the hit wasn't made and the runs didn't come. The feature of the game was a terrific home run hit by Kilm. He landed on one of Mr. Ewing's curves with so much force that the ball alighted on the roof of the armory, a hit which was equalled only once before, Lew Whistler having batted the ball over the armory. The game was close and exciting enough, but Fort Wayne had to be on the losing end of the score. The same teams play today, then the Fort Waynes go to Grand Rapids for four games. Score:

NOTES.

Mansfield has released Pitcher Emig.

Pitcher Campbell, of Grand Rapids, has been sent home. He is taking treatment for his arm. The ligaments of his pitching wing seem to be in a hard knot, and unless that knot can be untied his days of usefulness in the box this season are over.

Toledo Commercial: "The Fort Wayne team is a nice lot of gentlemen. There was an absence of kicking and wrangling that was refreshing to the crowd. Eddie O'Meara played second base, as Sharp is out of the team, and he did very well."

Grand Rapids Press: "Grand Rapids is supporting her ball team better than any town in the Inter-State league. This is the verdict of the management on the present trip. The attendance in Ohio is something fearful. Home towns are going down in their cash boxes continually to make good the guarantees."

State Journal: "Will wonders ever cease? The Detroit team has signed 'Peck' Sharp to play second base, and he will join the Tigers in Kansas city, if he does not miss a train or get off at Bonaparte, Iowa, to see his 'pa,' who runs the hotel in that town. Sharp was released by the Columbus team in 1896 on account of failure to keep in condition, and the following year he bobbed up as second baseman of the Dubuque club in the Western association. His release soon followed and 'Uncle Peck' drifted to the Fort Wayne team of the Inter-state league, where he finished the season of 1897 and has been playing this year. A deal of some kind was made by Van Der Beck, who secured the release of Sharp from Fort Wayne. Sharp is a comedian of an original type, a corking good hitter and a fair fielder in his position, and if he cuts out the extract of malt, keeps good hours and takes care of himself, he is of far more value to a team than a weak second baseman."

HOW GET YOUR GUNS.

There will be a base ball game that is a base ball game at Lakeside park Sunday when the Lean and the Fat Elks meet in deadly combat. It is not announced at what hour the game will commence but probably as soon as "Old Sol" peeks over the horizon in the morning the Elks athletes will commence to prance about the diamond so that at least five innings may be completed by sundown. Curiosity seekers will be compelled to keep hands off, but anybody will be entitled to take a glimpse of the pretty fellows in tights and knickerbockers. There will be plenty of men to fill up the gaps which may appear in the nine during the day. The Leans will be made up as follows: Catcher, Ogden Pierce; pitcher, Will Peltier; first base, Louis Geib; second base and captain, Frank Mohr; third base, Joseph Freiburger; short stop, Joe Schwartzkopf; left garden, Lee Ivans; right garden, Frank Caley; center garden, W. W. Wagoner; bench, Louis Centlivre, Chas. Centlivre, Russ Viberg, Von Goetz, M. V. Walsh, Sid Hubbard, Harry Pickard; water boy, Cooney Bayer; umpire, A. C. Alter.

The Fats are as follows: Catcher, Henry Taylor; pitcher, Dave Eckert; first base, Abe (Ohmy) Minsky; second base and captain, F. E. Purcell; third base, William Urbahns; short stop, Fred Beach; left garden, John Mohr; center garden, Bide Barnett; right garden, George Ohneck (who agrees not to make a speech); bench, Patrick Kane, Phil Rapp, John Reuss, Ben Lohman, Andrew Glutting, Byron Hattersley; surgeons, Dr. G. C. Stemen, Dr. McOscar; water boy, Murray Hartnett.

Al Jaxtheimer, F. E. Purcell and Frank Mohr are making the arrangements for the game and promise there will be something on third base that every batter will relish.

THE COUNTY WINS.

Circuit Court Jury Decides Against Water Power Co.

A Verdict of $1,400.49 for Allen County Commissioners--Sheriff Dunn Takes Horse Thief.

The county commissioners have won their case against the Fort Wayne Water Power company. The case was on trial three days before Judge O'Rourke and a jury and last evening arguments were completed and the jury retired with instructions to returned a sealed verdict. This verdict, when opened this morning, was a finding in favor of the commissioners for $1,400.49, the full amount of the claim, with interest. It is possible an appeal will be taken. On a previous trial Judge O'Rourke decided in favor of the Water Power company, but the supreme court reversed the finding and sent the case back for rehearing with the above result.

TAKEN TO PERU.

H. T. Probeck arrived in Fort Wayne last evening and identified his stolen colt. Later he started to ride it back to Peru. Sheriff Dunn, of Miami county, also came to the city last evening and at 6:30 left for Peru with Isaiah Hipshire, the old fellow who stole the colt. He is certain to serve a term in prison.

COURT NOTES.

LADIES' AID SOCIETY.

An Interdsting Meeting Held Last Evening--Dyke Fisher's Report.

Ladies Aid society No. 19, held a very important meeting last evening. Dyke Fisher, the delegate to the convention May 18 and 19, handed in her report and the suggestions offered at the state convention and adopted were found very helpful for the year's work. After the business session there followed short talks by Comrades Dougall, Griswold and Bricker. The society is in a prosperous condition. Captain Dougall presented the society with a beautiful song book of the national airs. The national convention will convene at Omaha, Neb., in September, and the Indiana division will be represented by Miss Nellie Ried, of this city, as a delegate-at-large.

HOOLEY BANKRUPT.

Promoter of the Dunlop Tire Deal Has Gone Broke.

Was Britain's Greatest Financial Promoter and Was Thought to be Worth Many Millions.

LONDON, June 8.—A receiving order in bankruptcy has been issued against Ernest Terhe Hooley, for years prominent as the biggest company promoter in this country, prominently interested in bicycles, land and other concerns, and who was supposed to be a multi-millionaire.

Mr. Hooley reached the pinacle of prominence in 1896 when he promoted the Dunlop Tire company and was supposed to have cleared $12,500,000 by that deal alone. He has since been identified with the promotion of the Bovril company and with many bicycle companies. It is understood that not any of the latter was profitable to the stock holders.

In the meanwhile, however, Mr. Hooley lived a sort of Monte Cristo existence, bought yachts and race horses and numerous historic country seats. In January of the present year Mr. Hooley purchased the racing cutter Britannia, formerly the property of the prince of Wales, from John Lawson Johnstone. During 1896 he purchased the schooner yacht Verona from the earl of Lonsdale. Mr. Hooley is a member of a number of yacht clubs.

For months past financiers have predicted that Mr. Hooley was in deep water.

OIL CAN EXPLODED.

Three Children Meet a Frightful Death in Allegheny.

PITTSBURG, Pa., June 8.—Three children met death in a frightful manner last evening in Allegheny. By the explosion of a can of oil their clothing was ignited and the children burned so terribly that they died in a short time.

The victims were Ella, Edith and Harville Watts, children of Charles Watts, of Ferney's Hill, near Woods Run avenue, aged eleven and seven years and four months respectively.

The eldest child proved herself a heroine, for with the flames roasting her body, she tried to carry her baby brother to a place of safety. Mrs. Watts was also burned in trying to save her children.

The children were playing in an out-house in the yard and one of them struck a match. In the same room was a large can containing two gallons of oil.

When the match was thrown down it dropped into the can, and the explosion followed instantly.

ALLEGED PILOT A SPY.

Harvard Brings Prisoner From Kingston Who is Too Inquisitive.

FORT MONROE, Va., June 8.—The auxiliary cruiser Harvard arrived at Hampton roads at 4:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon with a Spanish prisoner on board. He is believed to be a spy. The man was sent to Commodore Schley last week by Mr. Dent, American consul at Kingston, Jamaica. Consul Dent sent the man with information that he was a pilot, thoroughly conversant with the harbor of Santiago.

The so-called pilot was allowed to board the St. Paul at the consul's suggestion and was taken to the flagship Brooklyn. He had no sooner boarded the vessel than he began to ask questions about the warships off Santiago. His actions at once aroused the suspicions of Commodore Schley.

CASE OF MALINGERING.

Private Shoots Off His Finger to Avoid War Service.

ATLANTA, Ga., June 8.—Private Maps, company A, Eleventh United States infantry, has presented the first instance of malingering in the present war. Maps was stationed at Mobile and May 10 went to his commander, exhibited a bloody stump of a finger and declared that he had shot it off accidentally.

He was tried by court martial, convicted of mutilating his own body for the purpose of avoiding active service and sentenced to two years' imprisonment.

He arrived at McPherson barracks Sunday to begin his term. Up to that time he had strenuously denied his guilt, but now he has confessed to an old comrade whom he met at the post that the wounding was intentional, as he did not care to expose himself to Spanish shot and shell.

SPIES MUST LEAVE CANADA.

Colonial Secretary Chamberlain Sends an Order Against Them.

OTTAWA, Ont., June 8.—The official notification from the British government that Lieutenant Carranza and Mr. DuBosc must get out of Canada, has reached the government, and it is now under discussion. The order came from Right Hon. Joseph Chamberlain, the colonial secretary, to the governor general, and was by the governor general transmitted to the cabinet.

MONUMENT TO GLADSTONE.

Queen Victoria Announces Her Intention of Honoring the Statesman.

LONDON, June 8.—In the house of commons a message from Queen Victoria was read announcing her majesty's intentention to direct the erection of a monument to the late William E. Gladstone in Westminster abbey, in accordance with the wishes expressed in the address of the house of commons to the queen.

READY FOR A BOND ISSUE.

Treasury Department Prepares to Invite Bids When Authorized.

WASHINGTON, June 8.—Preparations are substantially complete at the treasury department to invite offers for the bonds for carrying on the Spanish war as soon as the bonds are authorized by congress. There will be no delay in issuing a circular stating the terms under which the bonds are offered and inviting bids at par. Envelopes have been made ready to enclose with each bond and will be addressed to the postmaster at every money order office and to the representatives of certain express companies who have offered to aid in the placing of the loan.

The circulars announcing the loan will be placed in these envelopes and dispatched as soon as the exact terms of the act of congress are known. It is the present intention to offer $200,000,000 in bonds at once, reserving the right to issue an additional $100,000,000 under the proposals of the minority of the finance committee, in case an additional issue becomes necessary.

Thirty days will probably be given for receiving bids before the loan is allotted. Allotments will be made at once, however, for the full amount of all bids for $1,000. It is not anticipated that these will reach a sufficient amount to absorb the whole loan, but it is desired to give the preference to the small bidders.

JABE COOK'S TWO RATTLERS

He Caught One Asleep, but Never Could Tell How He Got the Other.

"No, young man, I can't tell you nothin, not but there's things enough happened along the Delaware, an, for that matter, right here in Calliconn, to fill a hundred little books chock full, but I ain't no composer. But I wish to land you'd come 'round before Jabe Cook died. He could a 'commodated you with as many yarns as you could shake a stick at. True ones! Of course. Jabe wan't no great hand on lyin—not ginerally. He ferried here for—oh, I don't know how long. Begun when I was a boy. Run a small boat, an when there was teams or many people took them over in a big scow.

"There ain't scasly any heft of work 'bout runnin a scow. Jabe wouldn't a-took to it if there had been, for he was a sort of lazy coot—didn't hanker after work. When you pole out an git pinted right, the scow'll run itself, an then there's time for swappin horses an talkin. That's where Jabe's talent come in—on talkin. He could talk a blue streak—beat the bull shootin match at it. It beat all how much he knowed about everybody for miles round. An when he begun on one o' his stories he was bound to go through with it. Never knowed him to leave a story half way but oncet.

"One day a passel of us young chaps had been up Hollister brook fishin. When we got back to the ferry, Jabe wan't to be seen, an we set down on the beach to wait for him to come an take us across the river. We'd been settin quite a spell, when all of a suddint we heard him shoutin an callin to us. He was comin from an old stone quarry, an I swan if the feller didn't have a live rattlesnake in each hand. We were fast enough 'bout runnin to meet him, but a little skittish 'bout gittin very clost to the snakes, until we were sure he had each one gripped clost enough to the head so's it couldn't turn to bite. It's safe enough carryin rattlers that way—if you hold on tight. The day was hot an Jake was that excited he fairly stuttered a-tryin to tell us how he ketched the snakes an the way we slung questions at him didn't help to cool him down none. A city chap, he said, had promised him $5 an a good jackknife for a live rattler. He'd kinder calkerlated on findin one that day because all the signs were 'bout right for their bein out.

"'Say,' interrupted Si Brown, 'ain't you gittin to know 'most too much 'bout rattlers?'

"'You'll know more about manners when you're growed up,' was Jabe's answer. This was a sockdologer on Si, for, though he was nigh on to 40, he was a little cuss.

"Well, Jabe's story was awful long, for he'd had ruther a rough an tumble sort of a hunt, but the upshot of it all was he found the first rattler asleep behind a holler log, an, said he, 'I crept up as still's a cat after a mouse, an reached over my forked stick an nabbed him.' An sultin his actions to his words, Jabe brought his right hand over—brought it over too near the left. Quicker'n you could say 'Jack Robinson,' the left hand snake stuck his fangs into Jabe's right hand, an the right hand snake did the same for his left hand.

"Jabe's yells, which was enough to wake the dead, an the general thrashin 'round of arms an snakes, scart us boys till every one of us went lickety split up the river bank. We went back when the snakes were gone an helped Jabe home. Si ran for the doctor, an I was soon a-legin it up the road after whisky.

"No, Jabe didn't die, though he come within an ace of it. He felt awfully cut up 'bout the hull business an to this day we don't know how he ketched that other snake."—New York Sun.

Children's Fetiches.

Dr. Gould cited some peculiar instances of personification of objects by children and of devotion to them so intense as to amount almost to worship. Two small girls made a special pet of a stone, to which they gave the name Tom; others, becoming interested in all mice through affection for one small, white mouse, formed themselves into a secret society for the protection of the creatures which are usually the detestation of all womankind. Other instances were given of children who cherished particular affection for special pillows or blankets, who even had pet names for them and who refused to be comforted if separated from the beloved object.—Lecture Before Baltimore Folklore Society.

"I have been in the business 40 years," said the floorwalker, "but I don't know it all yet. You saw that young woman with the green hair?"

"Yes," replied the ribbon clerk.

"She came up to me and asked if we had any nice house gowns especially suitable for wearing when one was looking for burglars."—Cincinnati Enquirer.

BRAKEMAN SHOT.

Al. Baldwin Tries to Kill Him at Toledo.

First Sent a Pistol Ball Through the Man's Body and Then Filled Him With Bird Shot.

Mrs. Richard Kelley, of 73 Hoagland avenue, was summoned to Toledo yesterday by a telegram which stated that her husband, a brakeman on the Wabash road, had been injured. The message contained no particulars and it was supposed that the brakeman had met with an accident while in the performance of his train duties. But such was not the case, as will be seen in the following extract from the Toledo Bee of last evening:

"Al. Baldwin, of the Wabash hotel, at the foot of Sumner street, is under arrest on a charge of shooting one Richard Kelley, a brakeman, with intent to wound. The shooting occurred about 11:30 last night during a row at the house and immediately Baldwin came down to the police station and made a report of the affair, giving himself up a prisoner. He was sent back with two officers to make an investigation. The officers found that Kelley had been twice shot, once in the side with a revolver and once in the back and hips with a shotgun. Dr. Lawless had been summoned and decided that neither of the wounds were dangerous. Kelley was removed to St. Vincent hospital and Baldwin was brought back to the station for the night. He will probably be liberated on bail.

"His version of the trouble as told to a Bee this morning is that he and an ex-engineer, C. Hubbard, had some trouble early in the evening and he punched Hubbard. Kelly, according to Baldwin's story, rather took the matter up and there was a good deal of quarreling between the two men all night. Finally about 11 o'clock Baldwin closed the hotel. A moment afterwards he stepped outside the door. He says that as he did so Kelly rushed at him. Baldwin had a gun in his coat pocket which he always takes up stairs with him at night and he drew this. In the scuffle it went off and Kelly was slightly wounded in the side. Kelly then got the gun, and, as Baldwin avers, snapped it at him several times. Baldwin says he ran into the house, Kelly following him with the revolver. Baldwin grabbed a shotgun which stood in the hall and as Kelly turned to run back fired, putting the charge into Kelly's legs and back. The latter is resting easy at the hospital this morning and his condition is not considered at all serious."

Al Baldwin formerly resided in Fort Wayne. He was for many years employed on the Wabash road, first as an engineer and later as a conductor. He was one of the men let out during the American Railway union strike, and since that time has conducted a boarding house in Toledo, his chief patrons being railway men. The story told here of the shooting differs from that published in the Bee, inasmuch as it lays the blame entirely upon Baldwin. Kelly made no effort to hurt the old man in the scuffle, his object being to take the revolver from Baldwin. He succeeded in this, but not until he had been shot. The ball entered the side and passed through the body, but did not touch any of the vital organs. When the revolver was taken from Baldwin, he ran up stairs and soon returned with a shotgun. This he leveled at Kelley and sent a charge of bird shot into his back and hips. The matter was kept as quiet as possible, nobody here knowing anything of the shooting until last evening. Kelley, the unfortunate brakeman, bears an estimable reputation for sobriety and good behavior and his friends in Fort Wayne will be surprised to hear of him being wounded in a fight.

A HALF HOLIDAY.

Until October the Bass offices will not be open Saturday afternoons and the men therein employed will be free to spend the half holiday as best suits themselves. This is a practice that could well be emulated by other establishments in the city. The men effected appreciate it and show their gratitude by giving better service, if such a thing is possible, during the hours they are on duty. Mr. Bass has always shown due consideration of the rights of his employes and it is to this fact probably that there is always many applications when it is known there is to be a vacancy in any department of the great works. It is said that there has never been a strike at the Bass works.

A PERMANENT SCHOOL.

The Fort Wayne school of instruction for engine men in the employ of the Pennsylvania company, which was inaugurated by Road Foreman J. M. Lindley, of the Vandalia, is to be a permanent thing. This morning a car in which to hold the meetings was placed in one of the courts at the shops and it will be equipped with all the necessary apparatus for illustrating subjects which have a bearing upon the trade. The air brake car will also remain here, a part of the school's equipment, and will be presided over by Capt. H. M. Diehl. The school will be under the supervision of Louis Kinnaird, who will call to his assistance at various times Frank Crawford, Dr. Drayer and other gentlemen qualified for work of that character. For several weeks the school met in the carpenter shop.

THE FOUR RATS.

A shopman told his wife, on awakening one morning, a curious dream which he had during the night. He dreamed that he saw coming toward him, in order, four rats. The first one was very fat, and was followed by two lean rats, the rear rat being blind. The dreamer was greatly perplexed as to what evil might follow, as it has been understood that to dream of rats denotes calamity. He appealed to his wife concerning this; but she, poor woman, could not help him. His son, who heard his father tell the story, volunteered to be the interpreter. "The fat rat," he said, "is the man who keeps the saloon you go to so often, the two lean rats are my mother and me, and the blind rat, father, is yourself."

The color blind and the air brake cars of the Nickel Plate are in the city. The former is in charge of T. J. Callahan and Frank Beall, and the latter car is in charge of Mr. Caldwell. The air brake car will remain here a week, instructing two classes daily.

The Haskell & Barker car works, Michigan City, are employing more men than ever before, and on full time, in some departments running over time. Yesterday they commenced the building of 900 box cars and 100 refrigerator cars for the Illinois Central.

George W. Boyd, assistant general passenger agent of the Pennsylvania, has issued a book of 220 pages, illustrated and replete with valuable information as to summer excursion rates and pleasure resorts reached by the Pennsylvania lines, including not only rail routes, but water lines controlled by the Pennsylvania.

The employes of the Bass works have ordered the largest and most expensive flag ever brought to Fort Wayne. It will measure 26x40 feet and will be floated from a handsome pole erected on the machine shop building. The Kerr Murray employes will also purchase a flag and will endeavor to get one still larger than the banner ordered by the Bass employes.

KLONDIKE RATES SLASHED.

A big cut in Klondike rates was announced yesterday by the West Shore and the Nickel Plate railroads. These roads have put in force a new through second-class passenger rate of $25 from New York to Seattle, as against a previous rate of $69.75. This is the first time the Vanderbilt roads have taken part in the Northwestern passenger rate war which the Canadian Pacific began.

TALK OF LIGHT.

National Electric Light Association in Session.

President Insull's Annual Address—Favors Municipal Control of Electric Lighting.

CHICAGO, June 8.—The twenty-first convention of the National Electric Light association, commenced a three days' session at the Auditorium today. After a meeting of the executive committee, President Samuel Insull, of the Chicago Edison company, delivered his annual address.

President Insull pointed out that American manufacturing methods, by standardizing machinery, tools and products, resulted in economies that permitted the sale of American made apparatus throughout the world in competition with apparatus produced at a labor cost on wage very much lower than the pay of American workmen.

On the other hand American standardizing manufacturing methods decreased the cost and increased the efficiency of the apparatus used by those engaged in the manufacture and a sale of electricity to a degree that enabled central station managers to do a profitable business on a scale of prices that has decreased a with rapidity unknown in any other industry.

A most searching investigation was made to determine how small a profit it was safe to exact from each customer. Mr. Insull showed that the determination of a fair price that would encourage the use of electricity and make a reasonable profit for the station, must apportion the cost in such a way as to induce the largest possible use and for all practical purposes.

It was a sound proposition, he said, that profits were limited by advantages given; therefore, each service should bear only its fair portion of cost. This would give to each its full share of advantage.

The discussion of cost and price, he said, led naturally to the consideration of legislative control of electrical central station competencies. He contended that reliance upon competition as a regulator of prices had always been, and in the nature of the business, must always be a failure. He agreed with those who demand legislative control of these monopolies. He said there should be one organization in a municipality, its products to be sold on the basis of cost plus a reasonable profit and its property and franchises taxed as much as users were willing to pay in their service bills, and when it was thought desirable that the industry should be operated by the municipality, let the franchises provide for the taking of the plant, and this put the municipality in a position to serve all users to the best advantage.

By settling many vexatious questions on these lines the bad effects of much ill-advised legislation could, he maintained, be speedily overcome and benefit in proportion to the stability of the business will be realized by public and private users. Summarized, his position was embodied in these two sentences:

"First, franchises granted public service corporations should secure them the same degree of protection in their rights to their property as it enjoyed by other investments.

"Second, public control of charges for service based on cost, plus a reasonable profit and eliminating the factor of competition, is the proper safeguard for the interests of users, taxpayers and investors."

Calvin R. Rice, of Brooklyn, read a paper on "Cost of Generation and Distribution of a Unit of Electricity."

Following this paper, there was a general discussion of "Prices and Discounts for Electric Current and Methods of Billing Current to Customers." Among the notable visitors to the convention is Professor Fujic, the principal authority on electric lighting in Japan.

SWEDEHBORGIANS.

General Convention of the New Jerusalem Church Meets in Cleveland.

CLEVELAND, Ohio, June 8.—The seventy-eighth session of the general convention of the New Jerusalem church (Swedenborgians) of the United States of America began here today. Delegates are present from nearly all parts of the country, as well as several from foreign lands.

The first five days of the convention will be devoted to the council of ministers, after which the work of the general convention will be taken up. The session today was largely of a preliminary nature, the first business session not being held until tomorrow.

The convention promises to be one of the most successful in the history of the church.

A ROCK ON THE TRACK.

Baltimore and Ohio Train Derailed and Engineer Killed.

CAIRO, W. Va., June 8.—The eastbound passenger train No. 4, on the Baltimore and Ohio road, due here at 8 a. m., was derailed a quarter of a mile west of here last night. Engineer Hanway was fatally injured, Fireman Griffith slightly and two tramps, Dan Reardon and Thomas Perts, had broken legs. No passengers were hurt.

The derailment was caused by a rock being placed on the track.

Milwaukee Coal Heavers Strike.

MILWAUKEE, Wis., June 8—About 200 coal heavers employed along the docks in Milwaukee have gone on a strike for an advance of one cent per ton for unloading coal. As a result twelve boats laden with coal are tied up, with the prospect of remaining so for several days.

ORGANIZE A BALL CLUB.

The Battery Boys Win a Ten Inning Game From the Zanesville Club.

CHICKAMAUGA PARK, June 6, '98.

The Fort Wayne battery has organized a base ball club as follows:

Corporal Chas. C. Mangen, captain and first base; M. Hewitt, second; F. Barr, third; J. Smith, left field; R. Brannan, center field; Corporal Vodermark, right field and pitcher; Christ Weller, short stop; George Wilcox, catcher; F. Hendrix, pitcher; Meyers, pitcher; Gumpper, pitcher; Knoll, third base.

The battery had a ten inning game with Battery C, of Zanesville, Ohio, last Thursday afternoon, defeating them by a score of 12 to 7, amid the cheers of all the batteries camped here.

Corporal Mangen was absent from roll call Saturday night, and came in after all was over. When questioned as to where he was he replied that he had coralled a pie wagon and at once took his section to bring in the prize. They have been eating pie ever since.

Private Kid Smith has been appointed rubber for all the base ball players, and says he is stuck on his job.

The boys are getting disgruntled at the cigar men of Fort Wayne. The batteries on each side of us receive good home-made cigars every week, while we have to smoke Georgia weeds or go without. We don't want the earth, but just a little remembrance.

The friends of Lieutenant Cleary had better tell him to ring off on his old, old pipes. From

A TASTE FOR READING.

Benefits Derived From a Fondness For Good Literature.

Ask any hostess of your acquaintance what type of guest she has found the hardest to entertain during a protracted visit and she will answer, "The woman who never reads," says a writer in the Philadelphia Inquirer.

Probably you know her yourself. She slips into your guestroom some day, with the promising assurance: "Now, I don't want to be made company of. Just let me be one of the family and look out for myself."

You are a busy woman, and you congratulate yourself that your hospitality is to be extended to one of your sex who is capable of making her stay something besides a nervous strain on the part of yourself as hostess and your household in general.

You have fitted up that guestroom of yours with especial reference to the hoped for bookish tastes of its occupants. There is a goodly assortment of current literature scattered about. Being a reader yourself, you can imagine nothing more delightsome than an opportunity for cozy companionship with the latest magazine or novel.

You delicately allude to your thoughtfulness in providing the, to you, literary feasts, and suggest to your guest that she take her pick of all that the family library contains and then—well, then comes the disillusionment.

Never while that woman is in your house do you catch her with a book or paper in her hand. Days when you run short of amusements for her she wanders aimlessly about from room to room, is plainly despondent over bad weather and sets all your hospitable instincts on edge by the ill concealed fact that she is bored.

"Oh," you sigh, "if she would only read! Just to see her 15 minutes of the day with her eyes fastened interestedly upon some bit of printed matter!"

A taste for reading may be as surely cultivated as any other taste, and a healthy appetite for good literature is as necessary for mental nourishment as good food is for physical well being.

To get right at the root of the matter, the reading habit needs to be cultivated in the nursery. As soon as children are able to pick out the words in their primers they should be taught to consider that more enjoyment is to be found between the covers of a book than among all the toys and gimcracks that clutter up the playroom. No need to make bookworms of them, but a tactful mother may implant the reading idea into the juvenile mind and so carefully nurture it that in after years it will bear intellectual fruits of incalculable benefit.

Laziness is usually the foundation for the childish request, "Please read to me," provided the youthful petitioner is able to read to himself. The same obliging grandmother or gracious aunt who is always ready to do the youngsters' bidding in this direction is also responsible for the fad of spinning nursery yarns to listeners who are old enough and schooled enough to cull their own tales from books.

When there is no personal application on the child's part, how can there be any mental stimulus? No wonder we find so many insipid, vacillating minds among grown ups when we remember how little thought concentration is exacted from the average child.

There would be fewer restless men and certainly fewer discontented women if the reading habit were made a feature of nursery training.

Fortunate is the man or woman who has discovered in books that world which will widen the most contracted sphere and glorify the most commonplace existence.

The Donnelly Cipher.

Ignatius Donnelly discovers in the inscription on Shakespeare's tomb a cryptogram which reads, "Francis Bacon wrote the Green, Marlowe and Shakespeare's plays." He goes even further and suggests that Bacon wrote "Don Quixote." Perhaps he is right. Everybody remembers, says the Boston Pilot, the philologist who derived the word "restaurant" from two Latin roots, res, a thing, and taurus, a bull; ergo, restaurant, "a bully thing." There is also the case of the scholar who found the origin of the English word "nag" in the Latin "equus," a horse; whence came the adjective "equine;" whence, omitting the "equi," and changing the final "e" into "ag," "for the sake of euphony," came the colloquial form "nag." But thus far we have no proof that Francis Bacon was the author of "Marching Through Georgia."

Ruinously Fond.

"Dobson's wife seems to be an indulgent woman."

Heart Photography.

"Say," exclaimed little Willie, suddenly breaking a long silence and turning to his mother, "is there such a thing as a photographic heart?"

"Why, what do you mean, Willie?" asked his mother in surprise.

"Well, I heard that man who was here last night tell sister Sue that her features were photographed on his heart," explained the boy, "and, judging from the way he was holding her, I should think they ought to have been."—Chicago Post.

Recovering French Treasure.

For many years local legend in Frankfort-on-the-Main had it that a big treasure of gold lay buried in the Main river just beneath the big old bridge. On moonlight nights, it was said, one could see the gold glisten in the water. Recently the fact became patent that there must be a foundation for this old tradition, for skippers steadily fished up gold pieces from the river bed in the vicinity named. At last the Prussian government made a thorough investigation, and within a week one treasure at least was brought to light—about 1,500 French gold coins of the times from Louis XIV. to Louis XVIII. as well as of the first republic. This is evidently part of a French war treasure lost or buried there during the troublesome Napoleonic period.

A Star Ancestress.

Mrs. Sallie Shiver, of Acree, Ga., now 90 years old, has, according to a local paper, 235 children, grandchildren, great-grandchildren and great-great-grandchildren, and in addition to this formidable number, seventy-five have died. Therefore, the total reaches the remarkable sum of 310. There are seven children, the oldest of whom is 70 and the youngest 43, and none of them have ever figured in a case at court.—Tribune.

No Flattery Accepted.

De Mille—"If there is one thing I detest, it is flattery." Measley—"That's so! As I was saying to Sniggleton the other day: De Mille is generous to a fault, but he cannot stand flattery." The Only Thing Needed

To Remove Bronchitis, Catarrh, Consumption and Pneumonia

From the List of Dangerous Diseases is the Education of the People.

Ever since the discovery that catarrh, bronchitis, pneumonia and consumption were purely local diseases, caused by the presence of bacilli in the air passages, the medical profession throughout the whole world have bent all their energies to finding some method or remedy by which these bacilli could be reached and destroyed. How they have succeeded is best told by a glance at the reports published by the different boards of health in all the larger cities in this country, which show not only a great increase in the number of deaths yearly from these diseases, but a startling growth in the number of persons afflicted. This failure to find a cure for diseases of the respiratory organs must not be construed to mean a lack of ability on the part of the medical profession, for they have discovered many remedies which would kill these germs. Yet, strange to say, not one of them could be conveyed to the parts affected by dry air. It can be readily seen, then, that the discovery of "Hyomei," a germicide of sufficient power to kill at once the bacilli of these diseases, and at the same time volatile enough to impregnate every particle of air breathed by the patient, yet leaving it free from moisture, was one of vital importance to the medical world. Doctors throughout the whole country began to test the efficacy of this new remedy, and now, after two years' trial in hundreds of cases under their own care, over 3,800 physicians claim that "Hyomei," the Australian Dry Air Cure, is the only treatment by which all the diseased parts of the respiratory organs can be reached and cured.

Furthermore, it is claimed that in families who are predisposed to catarrh and consumption, if the fathers and mothers will but instruct their children in the use of "Hyomei," the rising generation will be freed from those dread diseases. It would seem, then, that nothing remains to be done in order to remove these diseases from the list of dangerous ones but to teach the people the value of "Hyomei."

"Hyomei" Outfit, $1.00. Extra Bottles, 50c. "Hyomei" Balm (a wonderful healer), 25c. Sold by all druggists or sent by mail. Send for the Story of "Hyomei." Mailed free.

NO PINKERTONS.

Chicago Detective Agency Not Employed to Hunt Down Spanish Spies.

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 5.—In reference to repeated assertions that William A. Pinkerton, of Chicago, had been to Washington, to confer with the war and navy departments, in reference to spies in this country, it is authoritatively stated at the treasury department that Mr. Pinkerton received no such call as has been reported. He visited Washington principally for the purpose, it is said, of assuring the various heads of departments that his agency was not engaged in working for Spain.

The fact that his people had been employed to make investigations in connection with the filibustering expeditions before the present war broke out, and the necessarily intimate relations that had existed between the agency and the Spanish representatives in this country, led to a belief in some directions that he had continued in the Spanish employ after hostilities began, and it was for the purpose of explaining the exact attitude of his agency, and of expressing his loyalty to the government, it is said, that Mr. Pinkerton came to Washington.

The employment of the Pinkertons to do any work in this connection, it is said, has never been thought of, inasmuch as its own secret service, under the direction of Mr Wilikie, is doing excellent work, and further that there is a legal bar to such employment.

Have you seen that 50c madras shirt at Patterson's?

The Epworth league of Wayne street M. E. church held a very enjoyable lawn social last evening.

A Startling Salutation.

A pastor, listening to the outline of a sermon based upon the dying thief, took a card from his pocket, and wrote this sentence which had impressed him, "He was a dying thief, you are a living thief." The next day he called upon the Methodist minister, and, finding him absent, left his card. Imagine his horror when he discovered that he had left that card with the suggestive accusation upon its back. It naturally required some little circumlocution and diplomacy to "unstrain" the relations thus put into a state of dangerous tension by this apparently De Lome-like card.

See the new summer neckwear at Patterson's.

Cracks in Stoves.

Cracks in cast-iron stoves may be effectively closed up and cemented by the use of a mixture composed of wood ashes (passed through a sieve), finely powdered clay, and a little common salt. These ingredients are worked up with some water, and applied to the stove when cold. The cement hardens on being heated, and it is said, will neither split nor crack.

SKINNED THEM.

Some Gullible People Buy Worthless Paper.

The Diamond Investment Company Proves as Big a Fraud as Its Predecessor, the Bond Investment Company.

The holders of the Diamond Investment bonds have complained to the police that the paper now held by them and long overdue remains unpaid. This company was gotten up by the genius who sprung the Bond Investment company upon an unsuspecting and gullible public a few years ago, for which he spent a term in the penitentiary. The Diamond company paid a few bonds in the start and then quit. It is estimated that the management is $12,000 ahead of Fort Wayne. The police say no action can be brought against any but the man who negotiated the sale of the bonds.

GOLD SEEKERS DROWNED.

Several Prospectors Lose Their Lives Crossing Lake Bennett.

SKAGUAY, June 2, via Victoria, B. C., June 8.—B. J. Keeler, who has just returned from Tagish Lake, says that steam and gasoline launches are now running on Lakes Bennett and Lindemann. No steam vessels have got past the Cariboo Crossing this spring, but small boats are daily making the run. Mr. Keeler says that a week ago Sunday three men, whose names he could not ascertain, were drowned close to Cariboo Crossing, on Lake Bennett. He has been in camp at the head of Tagish for over six weeks. It is his belief that at least twenty persons have been drowned on the lake since the ice began to break up.

KLONDIKE STEAMER WRECKED.

VICTORIA, B. C., June 8.—The new stern wheeler Iskoot, belonging to the Klondike Mining, Trading and Transportation company has been wrecked on a rock in the west inlet. She will be a total loss. She was on her way to the Stickeen in charge of Captain McLennan and Pilot O'Brien. It is stated that the pilot mistook the channel which lends into west inlet for the mouth of the Skeena river. The Iskoot was one of the finest equipped river vessels on the Pacific coast. She was insured for $20,000.

A NARROW ESCAPE.

Clothing of Solo Foster Ablaze, But Her Mother Tears Them Off.

Solo, the twelve-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Foster, of No. 19 Lavina street, narrowly escaped being burned to death yesterday. Her clothing caught fire from a gas stove. The child became excited and ran screaming from the house. The presence of mind of her mother saved her, she tearing the clothing from the child, who luckily escaped with slight injuries.

SCALP HUMOR
CURED BY CUTICURA
I was suffering tortures from a diseased scalp. I was scratching my head from morning till night. Little pimples broke out all over my head. I had no rest. I washed my head with hot water and CUTICURA SOAP, and applied CUTICURA as a dressing. Now my head hasn't a pimple on it, and my hair is growing splendidly. ADA C. HARRELL, 230 Grand St., Jersey City, N. J.
I thought I would go frantic with itching scalp humors. I lost considerable of my hair of which I had an abundance. I tried several remedies, they failed. I tried CUTICURA SOAP, relief immediate, itching completely gone. Mrs. L. HUMAN, 296 Halsey St., Jersey City.

FOR GRAND REVIEW.

The President May Visit Camp Thomas.

Invited to Come on the Fourth of July.

Governors Are Calling on the Soldiers.

Vaccination Prevents Many Troopers From Drilling—Camp Suffers From the Dust Nuisance.

CHICKAMAUGA, National Military Park, Tenn., June 8.—The usual hard drills and manouvres are employing the various regiments of General Brooke's big volunteer army today. The temperature continues high, but it is again relieved somewhat by a steady breeze.

What the whole army is now praying for is a hard downpour of rain.

The dust is increasing daily and unless rain soon abates it, it will become an almost unbearable nuisance. Thousands of horses and wagons constantly moving along the park roads and the long dry spell have combined to make this nuisance the worst, and in fact the only considerable one, with which the army has to contend.

Governor Bradley and staff, of Kentucky, who arrived last night, spent the night at Lookout Inn and went to the park at an early hour this morning. They were guests of two infantry regiments and the two cavalry troops of Kentucky yesterday. In their honor these commands have given a number of special drills.

Governor Hastings, of Pennsylvania, with his staff is scheduled to arrive Saturday and spend several days with the Pennsylvania regiment here.

A number of governors have been invited to visit the camp and it is believed that the invitations will be accepted.

A movement is now on foot to have President McKinley and such of his cabinet officers as can accompany him to inspect the park army on the 4th of July. A formal invitation will be extended and the president will be urged to accept.

If the invitation is accepted the president and his party will be elaborately entertained by the city and in the park.

The Leiter hospital will probably be opened tomorrow. All the most serious cases will at once be transferred to it. The place is an ideal one, and the army patients will enjoy every comfort in it.

A large number of the volunteers are still suffering with sore arms on account of the vaccinations. The men of the second Arkansas have been unable to drill for several days on this account. The third Tennessee is being vaccinated today.

Brig. Gen. John A. Wiley, of Pennsylvania, who arrived last night, reported to General Brooke at headquarters this morning.

A number of new wells are being drilled in various portions of the park. The supply of drinking water is now ample and the pipe lines furnish an abundant amount for other purposes.

General Brooke has issued an order forbidding hucksters and peddlers going through the park. The order was effective today and the change is very noticeable.

Hundreds of wagons have been going from camp to camp selling stuff of various kinds, and a number have been making small fortunes off the soldiers. General Brooke ended the practice on account of the confusion it caused on account of the complaints about the poor quality of the things dispensed.

The First Ohio cavalry has been ordered to discontinue preparations for departure. It has been understood for several days that this regiment would move as soon as it could get in readiness. The reason for the change in orders is not apparent.

A number of regiments are scheduled to arrive here during the next few days. The first Kentucky is due tonight. The talk of transferring the army, or any part of it, is about at an end, and the men are settling down for the summer.

CREMATE GRIDLEY'S BODY.

Mr. Copman, of Yokohama, to be Intrusted With the Work.

WASHINGTON, June 8—At the suggestion of Mrs. Gridley, widow of Captain Gridley, late commander of the cruiser Olympia with Admiral Dewey's fleet, the acting secretary of the navy has cabled instructions to Paymaster Galt at Yokohama to turn the remains of the deceased officer over to Mr. Copman, of that city, with a view to their cremation.

This action was taken in deference to the known wishes of the deceased and was based upon information that proper facilities for such work exist in Yokohama.

KENNEY INDICTED.

Delaware Senator Charged With Complicity in Looting the Dover Bank.

WILMINGTON, Del., June 8.—The grand jury in the United States court last evening returned indictments against United States Senator R. R. Kenney, Amos Cole, president of the Commercial Fire Insurance company; J. Franc Allee, chairman of the republican state committee; Harry Foard and J. R. McConigal, prominent residents of Dover; C. H. Butler and W. E. Coter, of Philadelphia.

They are charged with aiding and abetting the defaulting teller, William N. Boggs, to misapply funds of the National Bank of Dover. The amount charged in the indictment against Senator Kenney is $23,461.91.

The return of the indictment has caused a great sensation.

ON LIFE'S VOYAGE.

Six Young Ladies Graduate From Westminster Seminary.

J. Cumming Smith, of Indianapolis, Delivered the Address—Reception and Banquet at Seminary.

The fourteenth annual commencement exercises of Westminster seminary were held last evening in the parlors of the First Presbyterian church. There were six graduates: Miss Helen Gray Davis, of Noblesville; Miss Jessie Scott, Greenfield; Miss Jennetto Adele Stahl, Laporte; Miss Olive Blanche Coulter, Arcola; Miss Harriet Elliott, Lafayette, and Miss Isabella McClure, of this city.

As Professor Meyer, who presided at the organ, played a march, the young ladies of the seminary, dressed in pretty white gowns, entered the church and took the seats assigned them. Rev. Dr. Moffat invoked the Divine blessing and the Haydn quartet sang. Mrs. Leroy L. Plummer sang the waltz song from "Il Bacciamo," to the accompaniment of Mrs. F. E. Stouder, and Mrs. Wells then introduced Rev. J. Cumming Smith, of Indianapolis, who gave the main address of the evening.

At the close of Mr. Smith's address, Mrs. Wells introduced Rev. J. M. Davies, of Noblesville, who spoke of the recent decision of the synod concerning the adoption of Westminster seminary and made a plea for the support of the school by citizens of the city who are interested in a Christian education for the young. In a few words Miss Sharp then presented the members of the class with their diplomas. Miss Helen Gray Davis, president of the class, replied, thanking the principals and teachers for their labors in behalf of the class during the time which they had spent in the school. The closing remarks were made by Mrs. Wells, which, with another song by the quartet and the benediction by Dr. Moffat, closed the exercises of Westminster's class of '98.

Louis F. Curdes sang in the quartet in place of Mr. Yarnelle.

After the exercises the young ladies were tendered a reception and banquet at the seminary.

WAR AND ARBITRATION.

General Howard Addresses Congregational Societies in Cleveland.

CLEVELAND, June 8.—At the second session of the seventy-second annual meeting of the Congregational Home Missionary society today, the president, Gen. O. O. Howard, delivered his annual address. His subject was, "War, Arbitration and the New Demand for American Home Missions."

The sixteenth annual meeting of the woman's department was held today, Mrs. H. S. Caswell, of New York, presiding. She said that the woman's organizations now cover the entire territory of the United States, with the exception of Alaska.

The woman's organizations have added to the treasuries of the national societies this year over $100,000.

Before another annual meeting some plan may be evolved by which men, women and children of each church may belong, as a united company to a prosperous church missionary society, lavishly pouring their offerings into the church treasury to be forwarded from that treasury to the national missionary societies for the great and beneficent work assumed by each. Mrs. Lydia Tichenor Bailley, of Seattle, Wash., delivered an address entitled "A New Vision." The concluding address was by Mrs. Alice Freeman Palmer, of Cambridge, Mass., ex-president of Wellesley college, in answer to the question "How can women save our country?"

COLUMBIA REPAIRED.

Cruiser in as Good Shape as Before Collision With the Foscolia.

NEW YORK, June 8.—The United States cruiser Columbia, which has been in dry dock at the navy yard since Decoration day on account of her collision with the British ship Foscolia, was floated today. New plates have entirely repaired the starboard side of the vessel, which was stove in by the Foscolia, and the cruiser is as sound and well protected as when she was first put into commission. The Columbia will probably resume active service before the end of the week.

NOT GUILTY.

Wife of Governor Atkinson, of West Virginia, Acquitted of Forgery.

CLEVELAND, Ohio, June 8.—A special from Glenville, W. Va., says:

The jury last night returned a verdict of not guilty in the indictment in which Mrs. Atkinson, wife of the governor, was a co-defendant. This ends the long and noted case, in which Mrs. Atkinson was charged with forgery.

Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Stewart, of West Berry street, have as their guest their daughter, Mrs. Montgomery, of Youngstown, Ohio.

DONS CLAIM VICTORY

Say Sampson's Attack Was Bravely Repulsed.

American Loss Given as Being Over a Thousand.

Spanish Tale That Captain Philip Was Killed.

There is Nothing in Sampson's Dispatch Concerning the Death of Commander of the Texas.

CAPE HAYTIEN, Hayti, June 8.—No further war news was received here this morning.

ST. THOMAS, Danish West Indies, June 8.—No war news reached here today.

MADRID, June 8.—10 a. m.—Dispatches received here from Havana, from Spanish sources, say "the Americans were again repulsed at the last bombardment of Santiago de Cuba."

Continuing these reports assert that the damage done to the batteries and all the batteries are in condition to reply to the enemy's fire. During the second attack Colonel Ordonez was on board the Reina Mercedes and personally assisted in working her guns. Every one regards Colonel Ordonez and General Linares as the heros of the day."

According to official Spanish dispatches received here, the exact loss of the Spaniards at Santiago de Cuba, on Monday, is as follows:

Land forces, one soldier killed and five officers wounded, including Colonel Ordonez, slightly wounded. Sea forces, the second officer in command of the Reina Mercedes, five sailors and twenty-nine marines killed and an officer and eleven sailors wounded. The official dispatch also says that many of the wounded, including Colonel Ordonez, are able to attend to their duties.

It is announced here that the Spanish steamer Benito has "run the blockade of Manzanillo" and arrived at Jamaica.

HAVANA VERSION OF THE SANTIAGO FIGHT.

(Copyrighted, 1898, by the Associated Press.)

HAVANA, June 7.—(Delayed in transmission)—Details from Spanish sources at Santiago de Cuba were received here today of the Spanish losses during the bombardment of the forts there by the American fleet on Monday. The "marine chief" killed on board the Reina Mercedes was former Captain Emilio Acota Eyormanu. Ensign Alejandro Molines, also of the Reina Mercedes, was killed.

Colonel Ordanez of the artillery and inventor of the cannon bearing his name was slightly wounded. Some other officers were slightly wounded by projectiles, shells and fragments scattered by the explosion of shells on land.

The insurgents today dynamited a passenger train near Canas, province of Pinar del Rio, overthrowing one car and derailing the train.

CAPTAIN OF THE TEXAS IS REPORTED KILLED.

NEW YORK, June 8.—A special cable dispatch from Madrid says that in the course of Monday's cannonading at Santiago de Cuba Captain Philip, of the United States battleship Texas was killed by a Spanish shell. There is nothing in other dispatches from West Indian waters to substantiate the report.

MOUNTAIN HOWITZERS TO BE USED AT MANILA.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 8.—General Merritt's latest order for the campaign in the Philippines is that a battery of six mountain Howitzers shall be taken on the next expedition to Manila. To move the guns, carriages and ammunition in the Philippines a pack train of mules will be required. It is understood that Lieutenant Carson, Fourth United States cavalry, will be given command of the battery.

The general court martial in session at Camp Merritt has convicted John Campbell, of the Tenth Pennsylvania volunteers, who attacked a colored man at Mount Gretna, Pa., just before the regiment left for the coast. A light sentence was imposed, as Campbell has practically been in prison a month.

CRUISER VIZCAYA SAID TO BE BADLY DAMAGED.

NEW YORK, June 8.—A special from Kingston, Jamaica, reports that the Spanish cruiser Vizcaya and the torpedo boat destroyer Furor were badly damaged during the bombardment of Santiago's defenses on Monday.

A shell from the Brooklyn is said to have burst under the Vizcaya's port quarter, dismounting a gun, injuring the cruiser's rudder and wounding several of her sailors.

A SPANISH ACCOUNT OF THE BOMBARDMENT.

MADRID, June 8.—10 A. M.—A semi-official note was published here today, purporting to give an account of the bombardment of Santiago de Cuba by the American fleet on Monday last.

"The American navy, under Admiral Sampson, has freely attacked Santiago de Cuba and a bloody encounter ensued. The Americans made three attacks on the Spanish marine and land batteries, which replied. As a consequence the Americans were repulsed with heavy losses, estimated at fifteen hundred men. The American projectiles, however, sank the Spanish cruiser Reina Mercedes."

WHAT AGUINALDO HAS ACCOMPLISHED.

MANILA, June 1, via. Hong Kong, June 8.—Following is a summary of Aguinaldo's work since his landing here two weeks ago.

He has assembled a force of 3,000 men with arms. He has fought many skirmishes.

Two good batteries have been captured.

The whole province of Cavite has been taken.

Sixteen hundred Spaniards are prisoners.

He has supplied his men with 2,000 rifles, Mausers from abroad, and 2,000 magazine rifles and six field guns taken from Spaniards.

CAPTAIN PHILIP WAS NOT KILLED.

WASHINGTON, June 8.—Reports coming from Spanish sources and apparently originating in Madrid have stated that Captain Philip, of the Texas, had been killed by a shell shot by the Spaniards. The president said today that the report undoubtedly was untrue and said that it was evidently baseless, as Admiral Sampson's official report stated that there were no casualties.

At the navy department considerable indignation is felt at the report of Captain Philip's death, the department saying that no basis whatever for it exists and that it is calculated needlessly to alarm his family and friends.

CRUISER ST. PAUL SAILS UNDER SEALED ORDERS.

NEW YORK, June 8.—The auxiliary cruiser St. Paul sailed at noon today under sealed orders. She has taken aboard since her arrival off St. George, S. I., on Friday, nearly 5,000 tons of coal and 250,000 gallons of water.

ALL IS QUIET ALONG THE BLOCKADE LINE.

KEY WEST, Fla., June 8.—10 a. m.—An auxiliary gun boat which arrived here this morning from Cardenas reports all quiet there, except that the auxiliary gun boat Leyden is making things very lively for the Spaniards by blazing away at them whenever she sees a movement on the Spanish gun boats or on the defensive works at Cardenas.

The British collier Roath, a sister ship of the Restormel, was held up on June 4 by an American gun boat. Not responding promptly to a blank shot, a solid shot was sent across her. Next day she was held up by a second gun boat and obeyed immediately.

The Roath was in ballast, bound for Mobile from San Juan de Porto Rico, where she had discharged her cargo of coal.

CASES GO OVER.

Schell and Compton Will Not Be Tried Before December.

No Criminal Cases Will Be Tried in Fort Wayne This Term and There May Be No Session of Court.

Ed. Schell and his erstwhile partner, Compton, may yet escape from the clutches of Uncle Sam. United States Commissioner Logan has received information that at the coming session of the United States court in Fort Wayne no criminal cases will be tried. This means that the cases against Schell and Compton will go over until the December term of court. In conversation with THE SENTINEL Schell remarked that he had not had his say, and if the cases ever came to trial he was certain of acquittal. The litigation, however, he says, is expensive.

Commissioner Logan has also notified Judge Baker of the civil cases on the docket and there may be no session of the United States court in Fort Wayne this summer. At the soonest it will not convene before June 21.

JUDGE GRINNELL DEAD.

The Man Who Prosecuted the Chicago Anarchists Dies Suddenly.

CHICAGO, June 8.—Judge Julius F. Grinnell died suddenly today at the Illinois Trust and Savings bank.

Judge Grinnell was famous for the record he made as a fearless public servant, particularly as state's attorney during the prosecution of the Haymarket anarchists.

Judge Grinnell was born at Massena, N. Y., in 1842. He was at one time a professor in the Oglenburg academy.

New Jerusalem Conference.

CLEVELAND, June 8.—The conference of the church of the New Jerusalem of the United States was opened today with a business session which continued until nearly noon, after which a number of papers were read and discussed. The annual address was delivered by Rev. Willis L. Gladish, the subject being, "The Lord's Temptation."

Miss Margaret Dean, of Ossian, was visiting in the city yesterday.

CORKING THE NEWS.

War Department Holding Up All Information.

Will Not Affirm Embarkation of Invading Army.

Landing Place is Kept Strictly a Secret.

It is Expected, However, That News of the Sailing of Transports Will Soon Be Received.

WASHINGTON, June 8.—Secretary Alger this morning positively declined to say whether or not the United States troops had sailed yet from Tampa for Cuba. He holds that, notwithstanding the bottling up of the Spanish squadron in Santiago, there are still good and sufficient reasons why every precaution should be adopted to prevent the Spaniards from obtaining information as to the departure of our troops, the point selected for their debarkation and the strength of the expedition.

He was a good deal annoyed at the attempt of some of the newspapers to indicate the very point selected for landing the troops and siege guns in the neighborhood of Santiago.

If it were true that the department had selected a place where there is a strong wharf upon which the vessels may discharge the heavy siege train directly, the publication of that fact, if authenticated, might very naturally lead the Spaniards to destroy that particular wharf and thus seriously hamper the operations of the troops. Careful inquiry at other places in the war department, where information as to the movement of the troops might naturally be expected, developed the fact that no word had yet come of the departure of the military expedition from Tampa. As the troops are under orders to go to sea just as soon as they can be made ready without further direction from the department is deemed probable that they will get off some time during the day and notice to that effect will be the next news received at the department.

No further word from Admiral Sampson was received at the navy department. The bulletin made public by the department last night in confirmation of the press reports of the attack upon Santiago last Monday is believed to be merely a skeleton statement of Admiral Sampson's cablegram, which it is surmised contained a good deal more information than it was deemed prudent to make public.

Of course to protect the naval cipher, the matter published was a paraphrase, and it was said at the department this morning that the term used in the bulletin "silenced works quickly without injury at any time," was based upon a statement in the original dispatch broad enough to indicate that the ships had sustained no injury, and that there had been no casualties among the personnel of the American fleet.

Naval officers today expressed the belief that about all of the force landed Monday from Sampson's fleet were marines, and that their purpose was not so much to take military possession of the landing as perhaps to spike some guns and destroy some batteries that might have been reoccupied by the Spaniards to advantage after the retirement of the American fleet from the action. One object of Admiral Sampson's attack which has escaped general observation, though exceedingly important, was pointed out at the navy department.

This was to prevent the Spaniards from making a successful attempt to remove the obstruction of the channel caused by the wreck of the Merrimac. Having silenced the forts at the entrance of the harbor, which, when effective, obliged the American fleet to lie many miles out at sea to keep out of range of their guns, Sampson will now be able to place one or more of his ships close to the mouth of the bottle where it can lie in comparative safety and yet be able to command easily with its guns the wreck of the Merrimac.

MORE TRANSPORTS FOR PHILIPPINES.

WASHINGTON, June 8.—Assistant Secretary Meiklejohn has chartered the steamships Indiana, Morgan City and City of Para for transport of troops to the Philippines; has closed a contract for the Victoria, Olympia and Arizo, of the Northern Pacific steamship line, and secured the privilege of acquiring the Tacoma and the Columbia if needed—all five on condition they are given an American register. He also ordered impressed into service the Senator, Queen and City of Pueblo, of the Pacific Coast Steamship company, if found satisfactory.

THE NEWS FROM CAPE HAYTIEN.

(Copyrighted, 1898, by the Associated Press.)

CAPE HAYTIEN, Hayti, June 28.—(Correspondence of the Associated Press)—There are some 900 tons of coal at this port, held by foreign manufacturing concern which they will not sell except at an exorbitant price. This concern has cabled to the United States for a further supply of 2,000 tons of coal, but it is uncertain yet whether it will get so much.

The correspondent of the Associated Press has information showing the completeness of the control exercised by the censor at Santiago de Cuba over all cable communication between that place and points on foreign territory. The censor has a special apparatus on his desk in front of him which records all messages sent over the cable, even the private gossip exchanged between operators.

A consular case has just arisen at Gonaives, which has tested the question as to whether the Haytien government has the right to prescribe the language in which a dispatch written by a diplomatic or consular officer to another officer of his government and presented for transmission over the state telegraph shall be couched. Great Britain has no consular agent at Gonaives. On May 12 the British consul general at Port Au Prince requested the American minister, Mr. Powell, to extend his protection over an English subject at Gonaives. The nature of the difficulty into which this person had fallen is unknown to the correspondent, and in any event, is not essential to the matter in question.

United States Minister Powell addressed a telegram in English to the American consul at Gonaives. At the office of the government telegraph office in Port Au Prince the message was refused because it was not written in French, according to the regulations devised by the government.

Mr. Powell declined to be controlled by these regulations in communicating with a United States officer on matters of purely official importance and informed the Haytien authorities that he considered the effort to force him to use the French language an infringement of his ministerial rights.

The minister of the interior offered to frank the message and send it free if he were permitted to translate it into French beforehand. To this Minister Powell refused to accede and at last the Haytien minister yielded.

It is said that this is the first time the government has waived its regulations in this particular.

BUTKE'S HEAD OFF.

Mayor Scherer Has Him Removed as Weighmaster.

Captain C. E. Reese Appointed to Succeed Him—Patrolman Palmer's Head Also Drops—Collins a Copper.

The board of safety held a special meeting this morning and carried out Mayor Scherer's orders that Henry Butke should be removed from the position of weighmaster. It was alleged that he had been neglectful of his duties in not collecting from farmers the full amount owing for use of the city scales. The truth, however, is that Mr. Butke was removed to make room for Captain C. E. Reese, who was appointed to succeed him and will commence work in the morning as weighmaster unless Mr. Butke refuses to give up the place, which he may do. The change is not received well in democratic circles and there may be a contest before the matter is finally settled.

OFFICER PALMER FIRED.

At the regular meeting of the board of safety last evening Patrolman Palmer was relieved of his star and Pete Collins was elected a policeman to succeed him. It was alleged that Palmer violated rule 45 of the laws governing the police department. Collins went on duty last night and this morning filed his bond.

SOLD WITHOUT LICENSE.

Poundmaster Tremmel has filed an affidavit against A. A. Martin, charging him with selling liquor without a city license and a warrant has been issued for Martin's arrest.

NOTES.

The city council will meet this evening in committee of the whole to discuss the proposed annexation of property contiguous to the southern limits of the city.

There was no police court this morning.

The board of works this morning inspected the work on the streets in South Wayne which are about to be paved. This afternoon they are investigating sewers just completed in Fletcher's and Winch's addition.

Clerk A. M. Schmidt today sent out scores of notices to property owners to repair sidewalks.

The receipts from gardeners and farmers for market space this spring did not reach the amount expected for the reason that there is no roof over the market place. There has been some agitation in favor of roofing the market, and there is no doubt that the additional revenue received would in a few years pay the expenses of making the improvement.

The test of the two new LaFrance engines was satisfactory, and this morning the board of safety ordered a voucher drawn for $5,919, payment in full for the old engines and part payment for the new. Mr. LaFrance has been here a week or more and may not leave for a few days to come.

The Dorcas society of Trinity English Lutheran church will picnic at Robison park tomorrow, if the weather permits. The party expects to start at 2 o'clock. This will be the closing meeting of the year and is generally devoted to pleasure instead of work.

HAWAII IN THE HOUSE

Grosvenor Tries to Give it the Inside Track.

Resolution to Allow it Precedence Defeated.

Johnson and Henderson Make Strong Protests.

Senator Mason Presents a Bill Extending the Postal Franking Privilege to the Soldiers.

WASHINGTON, June 8.—Today's session of the house began with a slightest burst of the annexation of Hawaii. The regular order pursuant to unanimous consent granted yesterday was the consideration of the conference report upon the sundry civil bill.

Mr. Smith (Rep. Mich.) demanded the regular order, but withdrew it temporarily to permit the consideration of a minor measure.

Mr. Grosvenor (Rep. Ohio), a leader of the annexationists, gained recognition and asked unanimous consent to read and have referred to the committee on rules a resolution providing for giving the Hawaiian resolution precedence over all other business except conference reports until disposed of.

"I will say to the gentleman," quickly interjected Mr. Henderson, republican, of Iowa, a member of the rules committee, "that it is entirely unnecessary to read or present to the house his resolution. He has only to deposit it with the clerk and it will be referred appropriately."

"I understand," responded Mr. Grosvenor, "but I want it made plain that the resolution has been introduced and sent to the committee."

"I object," cried Mr. Johnson, republican, of Indiana, and Mr. Smith, republican, of Michigan, renewed his demand for the regular order and the resolution was forced through the regular channel.

IN THE SENATE.

WASHINGTON, June 8.—Soon after the senate convened today Mr. Hale, of Maine, chairman of the naval affairs committee, reported favorably a bill to organize a hospital corps of the United States navy, to define its duties and regulate its pay. The bill passed.

Under the bill the pay of hospital stewards shall be $60 a month, hospital apprentices, first class, $30 a month and hospital apprentices $20 a month with the increase on account of length of service as is now or may hereafter be allowed by law to other enlisted men in the navy. The house provision that the application of the act be limited to the duration of the present war with Spain was eliminated from the bill.

Mr. Mason, of Illinois, reported from the committee on postoffices and post roads, a bill extending the franking privilege through the mails to the officers and men of the army and navy during the existing war, the privilege to extend only to first-class matter, each piece weighing not more than one ounce.

Mr. Platt, of Connecticut, regarded the measure as very sweeping in its provisions and while he desired, he said, to extend all proper privileges to American soldiers and sailors he could not let this bill go through without examination. On his objection the measure went over.

Mr. Quay, of Pennsylvania, resigned from the committee on commerce, and his colleague, Mr. Penrose, was appointed to fill the vacancy.

The senate concurred in the house amendment to the joint resolution directing the secretary of war to return to the state of Ohio flags of certain volunteer regiments of Ohio, the house amendment being also to return the flags of the One Hundred and Thirteenth New York volunteer infantry.

BUSY DAY AT THE WHITE HOUSE.

WASHINGTON, June 8.—Secretary Day was the first caller to greet the president today. He spent about half an hour with him. On leaving he said there were no important dispatches and no developments in the war situation. One story that was current during the day at the white house was that Captain Philip, of the battleship Texas, had been killed by a shell fired by the Spaniards in the recent bombardment. The president was in consultation with a senator when he received a press dispatch to that effect. He promptly handed over the dispatch to be read and remarked that it was "nonsense" and that there was no reason to believe it to be true.

He cited Admiral Sampson's official dispatch announcing no casualties, and said if the report was to be given credence, he would have been wired immediately.

Throughout the forenoon there was a long line of callers. Practically all of them sought war appointments. Senators Lodge, Turpie, Fry and Fairbanks, Platt, Thurston and White were among the callers.

LIGHT UNIFORMS ORDERED.

Thirty Thousand Cotton Duck Suits are to be Sent to the Troops.

NEW YORK, June 8.—The award of the contract for the light-weight uniforms for the troops which are sweltering in the south in heavy winter-weight woolen garments was made today.

The exasperating delay has been due to various causes, the final complication having resulted from the effort to substitute cotton duck for canvas. The result has been that the greater part of the suits will be made of cotton duck which has been found superior both of these and in some respects better than the imported Khaki cloth, which has been highly recommended.

The test to which the different materials, including canvas, drilling, Khaki cloth and duck, were submitted, showed conclusively that the duck was the best. It is stronger, more impervious to rain and more flexible than the other under the same tests. The result was a decision to order 30,000 suits of cotton duck, six and a half ounces to the yard in weight and of a brown color. To give a fair field test to cotton drilling there will be 2,000 suits of it ordered and put alongside the others.

The contract will call for the delivery of 5,000 suits a day within five days after the contract is made. As fast as made they will be sent to the troops, those farthest south getting them first.

LOGAN'S CAVALRY.

J. T. McElfatrick Receives a Letter From the Adjutant.

The Quota of the Fort Wayne Company Has Been Increased From Twenty-Five to Forty.

J. T. McElfatrick this morning received a communication from J. E. Allison, first lieutenant and adjutant of Logan's volunteer cavalry, notifying him that the quota of the Fort Wayne company had been increased to forty and advised him to have several reserves. The officers of the regiment held a meeting June 4 and decided to urge the continuation of organization and examination. The members of the several companies are also urged to be in readiness to move on short notice as Mr. Logan has received information from the United States authorities that as soon as the companies already enlisted are filled to their maximum there will be a call for more volunteers and the company's soonest ready to respond will be the ones enlisted. Mr. McElfatrick has thirty men now ready for duty and will increase them to forty as soon as possible.

J. O. Brown has been awarded a contract to remodel the front of the Rurode dry goods store. The plate glass in the show windows will be removed and after the columns are taken down new glass will be placed in the windows. In each of the windows there will be only one immense pane.

Rev. L. L. Henson will deliver an address at the annual convention of the Northern Indiana Baptist association, now in session at Elkhart. There are fifteen charges in this association, covering the northwestern corner of the state, and each is represented by the pastor and two delegates at-large and one more delegate for every ten members.

At noon yesterday, at Huntington, occurred the death of William H. Cast, from a complication of diseases. Mr. Cast had been in poor health for a number of years and the result was not altogether unexpected. He was fifty-six years of age and had lived in Huntington many years. Until his health failed he was actively identified with the business interests of the city. Some years ago he was leader of the Emerson male quartet, a musical organization which was frequently heard in Fort Wayne. He leaves a wife. Mrs. Sylvester Dinius, of Fort Wayne, is a sister, and Mayor S. T. Cast, of Huntington, is a brother.

THERE is prospect that the war revenue bill will become a law this week and congress thereafter will have to show cause for continuing in session.

THE optimism of Blanco is sublime. What a western boomer the Spanish commander would make!

IT IS about time for the Hon. Marcus A. Hanna to come to the surface for air. His retirement from the public view has left a vast abyss of emptiness.

DEWEY sticks to his post in Manila bay like a grown-up Casabianca. He won't leave without orders and when he does he may not leave the town.

THAT affair at Manila has shown the people of America what the Spaniard considers a licking. He won't admit the worst of it until he is entirely wiped out. So far there have been only "Spanish victories" in Cuba.

THE Havana authorities, acting under the impulse of dire necessity, have decided to develop coal mines in Cuba. The presence of the deposits has been known for years, but no attempt has been made to turn them to account. This well illustrates the non-progressive character of Spanish rule in Cuba. The natural resources of the island have never been more than partly developed, and the unenterprising Spaniards have deliberately wasted their opportunities. When they are driven away Cuba should enjoy an era of prosperity unknown in her previous history.

THE wheat harvest has already begun in Texas and in states farther north the reapers will soon be hard at it. This year's crop is estimated by statisticians of repute at from 650,000,000 to 700,000,000 bushels. It is very evident that the farmers have freely followed the advice given them and have planted more wheat, for last year's crop amounted to only 530,000,000 bushels. The enormous increase would furnish a splendid bear card were it not for the war and the fact that Europe is still short. Even as it is there is some reason to look for a year of declining prices, in strong contrast to the year of advancing prices now closing.

THE torpedo boat, which gained such a high reputation during the Chinese-Japanese unpleasantness, may lose it during the present war. At any rate, it has done nothing yet to demonstrate its efficiency. The only vessel on the American side to be badly damaged since hostilities opened was a torpedo boat, while on the Spanish side the showing made is still worse. At the very outset the Spanish torpedo boats demonstrated their inability to make a long voyage, and even the torpedo boat destroyers have proved most disappointing. One of them was so disabled after the trip from the Cape Verdes that it was compelled to leave the fleet, while the other two failed utterly in the only attempt that they have made so far to attack American ships. Possibly the torpeds boats and torpedo boat destroyers will redeem themselves later on, but it does seem now as if they had been overrated.

ON MONDAY the fleet under Admiral Sampson engaged the forts that defend the water approaches to Santiago de Cuba and for several hours a terrific bombardment ensued. The result was the dismantling of the strongest defenses of the city and the silencing of the Spanish batteries. At the same time, under cover of American warships, a considerable military force was landed near Santiago. There is yet some hard fighting in prospect at Santiago and further bombardment will be necessary in order to effectually reduce the fortifications, but a good start has been made and the work will grow easier as it progresses. A large military expedition is now en route from Tampa to Santiago and it will make an assault on the landside in conjunction with the insurgents. The doom of Santiago is sealed and the destruction of the bottled fleet of Spain is assured. Immediately following the successful investment of Santiago will doubtless come an attack on San Juan and occupation of Porto Rico. After that Havana will be given attention. The Cuban capital presents the hardest problem of the Cuban campaign, but it cannot long hold out against a combined attack of the American fleets and the army. The campaign is moving along with a vigor it has not heretofore been given and a speedy ending of the war will be the result—if the administration does not get another fit of compunction against fighting.

Poorly Rewarded Services.

It will probably surprise many persons to be told by "Ex-Attache" in the New York Tribune that the late William E. Gladstone, who has just been buried in Westminster Abbey, London, amid almost unexampled demonstrations of national sorrow and affection, "spent the greater part of his public career, extending over threescore years, in monetary difficulties of so acute a character that he was forced by the precarious condition of his finances to dispose of his celebrated collection of porcelain and pottery, his much cherished library, as well as his town house." The statement is added that the eventide of the famous British statesman's life was made free from anxieties of this character through the kindness and generosity of his brother-in-law, the late Sir Stephen Glynne, who left him the use for life of his castle and estate of Hawarden.

"Ex-Attache," who has from time to time shown intimate knowledge of European affairs, says further that "Mr. Gladstone's principal rival, the late Lord Beaconsfield, died heavily in debt and was only preserved from premature political extinction by his marriage with that wealthy widow whose kindness of heart and devotion to her husband atoned for her lack of comeliness, for her vulgarity and downright stupidity." These facts are referred to as proving that public life in England is not a source of revenue and emolument. Numerous other instances are cited and it is shown that such service is no longer possible except to rich men. This is conspicuously illustrated in the house of commons, the members of which receive no pay. Consequently it has come to be the case that only men with large incomes will enter parliament or assume the onerous financial burdens which are involved. A body which is composed wholly of the wealthy and leisured class certainly cannot with propriety be called representative, and it is not surprising that there is a movement on foot to pay members of the British house of commons, much after the manner of compensating American congressmen. The United States system may have its defects, but it also seems to have some merits which are attracting the attention of British statesmen.

The rewards of public life surely are not well distributed when a statesman like Gladstone, whose inestimable services to Great Britain entitled him to the highest honors and rewards, is saved from financial distress only by the generosity of friends and relatives.

BURNED WITH GAS.

An Explosion Slightly Injures Two Employes at the New Court House.

George McGuire and Edward Redding were badly burned while at work on the new court house yesterday. They tried to ignite the gas in the furnace and it wouldn't burn on the first attempt. Another piece of paper was thrown into the furnace and there was an explosion, flames shooting from the doors and burning both the men about the face. Dr. Dinnen dressed the burns, which are not considered dangerous. Charles Martin, another employe at the court house, had one of his hands badly mashed, and three fingers were amputated.

Wesley Johnson, of Eel River township, went to Chickamauga yesterday to visit his son who is a soldier in camp there, and who has written to his friends at home that he is home sick. Mr. Johnson was once a soldier and he remarked that he knew what it was to be home sick, for he had spent three months in Libby prison.

TOLEDO WON AGAIN.

The Mud Hens are Determined to Even Up Old Scores.

Kilm Made a Terrific Home Run—Springfield, Mansfield and Youngstown the Other Winners.

The Mud Hens won another game from the Fort Waynes yesterday, when a lucky hit might have registered the game on the won side of the per centage column. Several times there were men on bases and a hit meant runs, but the hit wasn't made and the runs didn't come. The feature of the game was a terrific home run hit by Kilm. He landed on one of Mr. Ewing's curves with so much force that the ball alighted on the roof of the armory, a hit which was equalled only once before, Lew Whistler having batted the ball over the armory. The game was close and exciting enough, but Fort Wayne had to be on the losing end of the score. The same teams play today, then the Fort Waynes go to Grand Rapids for four games. Score:

NOTES.

Mansfield has released Pitcher Emig.

Pitcher Campbell, of Grand Rapids, has been sent home. He is taking treatment for his arm. The ligaments of his pitching wing seem to be in a hard knot, and unless that knot can be untied his days of usefulness in the box this season are over.

Toledo Commercial: "The Fort Wayne team is a nice lot of gentlemen. There was an absence of kicking and wrangling that was refreshing to the crowd. Eddie O'Meara played second base, as Sharp is out of the team, and he did very well."

Grand Rapids Press: "Grand Rapids is supporting her ball team better than any town in the Inter-State league. This is the verdict of the management on the present trip. The attendance in Ohio is something fearful. Home towns are going down in their cash boxes continually to make good the guarantees."

State Journal: "Will wonders ever cease? The Detroit team has signed 'Peck' Sharp to play second base, and he will join the Tigers in Kansas city, if he does not miss a train or get off at Bonaparte, Iowa, to see his 'pa,' who runs the hotel in that town. Sharp was released by the Columbus team in 1896 on account of failure to keep in condition, and the following year he bobbed up as second baseman of the Dubuque club in the Western association. His release soon followed and 'Uncle Peck' drifted to the Fort Wayne team of the Inter-state league, where he finished the season of 1897 and has been playing this year. A deal of some kind was made by Van Der Beck, who secured the release of Sharp from Fort Wayne. Sharp is a comedian of an original type, a corking good hitter and a fair fielder in his position, and if he cuts out the extract of malt, keeps good hours and takes care of himself, he is of far more value to a team than several Western league second basemen."

NOW GET YOUR GUNS.

There will be a base ball game that is a base ball game at Lakeside park Sunday when the Leas and the Fat Elks meet in deadly combat. It is not announced at what hour the game will commence but probably as soon as "Old Sol" peeks over the horizon in the morning the Elks athletes will commence to prance about the diamond so that at least five innings may be completed by sundown. Curiosity seekers will be compelled to keep hands off, but anybody will be entitled to take a glimpse of the pretty fellows in tights and knickerbockers. There will be plenty of men to fill up the gaps which may appear in the nine during the day. The Leans will be made up as follows: Catcher, Ogden Pierce; pitcher, Will Peltier; first base, Louis Geib; second base and captain, Frank Mohr; third base, Joseph Freiburger; short stop, Joe Schwartzkopf; left garden, Lee Ivans; right garden, Frank Caley; center garden, W. W. Wagoner; bench, Louis Centlivre, Chas. Centlivre, Russ Viberg, Von Goetz, M. V. Walsh, Sid Hubbard, Harry Pickard; water boy, Cooney Bayer; umpire, A. C. Alter.

The Fats are as follows: Catcher, Henry Taylor; pitcher, Dave Eckert; first base, Abe (Ohmy) Minsky; second base and captain, F. E. Purcell; third base, William Urbahns; short stop, Fred Beach; left garden, John Mohr; center garden, Bide Barnett; right garden, George Ohneck (who agrees not to make a speech); bench, Patrick Kane, Phil Rapp, John Reuss, Ben Lehman, Andrew Glutting, Byron Hattersley; surgeons, Dr. G. C. Siemen, Dr. McOscar; water boy, Murray Hartnett.

Al Jaxtheimer, F. E. Purcell and Frank Mohr are making the arrangements for the game and promise there will be something on third base that every batter will relish.

THE COUNTY WINS.

Circuit Court Jury Decides Against Water Power Co.

A Verdict of $1,400.49 for Allen County Commissioners—Sheriff Dunn Takes Horse Thief.

The county commissioners have won their case against the Fort Wayne Water Power company. The case was on trial three days before Judge O'Rourke and a jury and last evening arguments were completed and the jury retired with instructions to returned a sealed verdict. This verdict, when opened this morning, was a finding in favor of the commissioners for $1,400.49, the full amount of the claim, with interest. It is possible an appeal will be taken. On a previous trial Judge O'Rourke decided in favor of the Water Power company, but the supreme court reversed the finding and sent the case back for rehearing with the above result.

TAKEN TO PERU.

H. T. Probeck arrived in Fort Wayne last evening and identified his stolen colt. Later he started to ride it back to Peru. Sheriff Dunn, of Miami county, also came to the city last evening and at 6:30 left for Peru with Isaiah Hipshire, the old fellow who stole the colt. He is certain to serve a term in prison.

COURT NOTES.

Seven criminals now confined in the county jail were this morning taken to the city building where Photographer Miner took their pictures for the rogue's gallery.

James Noecker, who has been held in jail on a paternity charge, was released yesterday by order of Judge O'Rourke.

The case of Henry Schale against the city was stricken from the circuit court docket yesterday.

Henry L. Bley has begun action for a divorce from Minnie A. Bley. Colerick & France are attorneys.

Lucretia Green has qualified as guardian of Minnie May Green.

LADIES' AID SOCIETY.

An Interesting Meeting Held Last Evening—Dyke Fisher's Report.

Ladies Aid society No. 19, held a very important meeting last evening. Dyke Fisher, the delegate to the convention May 18 and 19, handed in her report and the suggestions offered at the state convention and adopted were found very helpful for the year's work. After the business session there followed short talks by Comrades Dougall, Griswold and Bricker. The society is in a prosperous condition. Captain Dougall presented the society with a beautiful song book of the national airs. The national convention will convene at Omaha, Neb., in September, and the Indiana division will be represented by Miss Nellie Ried, of this city, as a delegate at-large.

HOOLEY BANKRUPT.

Promoter of the Dunlop Tire Deal Has Gone Broke.

Was Britain's Greatest Financial Promoter and Was Thought to be Worth Many Millions.

LONDON, June 8.—A receiving order in bankruptcy has been issued against Ernest Terhe Hooley, for years prominent as the biggest company promoter in this country, prominently interested in bicycles, land and other concerns, and who was supposed to be a multi-millionaire.

Mr. Hooley reached the pinacle of prominence in 1896 when he promoted the Dunlop Tire company and was supposed to have cleared $12,500,000 by that deal alone. He has since been identified with the promotion of the Bovril company and with many bicycle companies. It is understood that not any of the latter was profitable to the stock holders.

In the meanwhile, however, Mr. Hooley lived a sort of Monte Cristo existence, bought yachts and race horses and numerous historic country seats. In January of the present year Mr. Hooley purchased the racing cutter Britannia, formerly the property of the prince of Wales, from John Lawson Johnstone. During 1898 he purchased the schooner yacht Verena from the earl of Lonsdale. Mr. Hooley is a member of a number of yacht clubs.

For months past financiers have predicted that Mr. Hooley was in deep water.

OIL CAN EXPLODED.

Three Children Meet a Frightful Death in Allegheny.

PITTSBURG, Pa., June 8.—Three children met death in a frightful manner last evening in Allegheny. By the explosion of a can of oil their clothing was ignited and the children burned so terribly that they died in a short time.

The victims were Ella, Edith and Harville Watts, children of Charles Watts, of Ferney's Hill, near Woods Run avenue, aged eleven and seven years and four months respectively.

The eldest child proved herself a heroine, for with the flames roasting her body, she tried to carry her baby brother to a place of safety. Mrs. Watts was also burned in trying to save her children.

The children were playing in an out-house in the yard and one of them struck a match. In the same room was a large can containing two gallons of oil.

When the match was thrown down it dropped into the can, and the explosion followed instantly.

ALLEGED PILOT A SPY.

Harvard Brings Prisoner From Kingston Who is Too Inquisitive.

FORT MONROE, Va., June 8.—The auxiliary cruiser Harvard arrived at Hampton roads at 4:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon with a Spanish prisoner on board. He is believed to be a spy. The man was sent to Commodore Schley last week by Mr. Dent, American consul at Kingston, Jamaica. Consul Dent sent the man with information that he was a pilot, thoroughly conversant with the harbor of Santiago.

The so-called pilot was allowed to board the St. Paul at the consul's suggestion and was taken to the flagship Brooklyn. He had no sooner boarded the vessel than he began to ask questions about the warships off Santiago. His actions at once aroused the suspicions of Commodore Schley.

CASE OF MALINGERING.

Private Shoots Off His Finger to Avoid War Service.

ATLANTA, Ga., June 8.—Private Maps, company A, Eleventh United States infantry, has presented the first instance of malingering in the present war. Maps was stationed at Mobile and May 10 went to his commander, exhibited a bloody stump of a finger and declared that he had shot it off accidentally.

He was tried by court martial, convicted of mutilating his own body for the purpose of avoiding active service and sentenced to two years' imprisonment.

He arrived at McPherson barracks Sunday to begin his term. Up to that time he had strenuously denied his guilt, but now he has confessed to an old comrade whom he met at the post that the wounding was intentional, as he did not care to expose himself to Spanish shot and shell.

SPIES MUST LEAVE CANADA.

Colonial Secretary Chamberlain Sends an Order Against Them.

OTTAWA, Ont., June 8.—The official notification from the British government that Lieutenant Carranza and Mr. DuBosc must get out of Canada, has reached the government, and it is now under discussion. The order came from Right Hon. Joseph Chamberlain, the colonial secretary, to the governor general, and was by the governor general transmitted to the cabinet.

MONUMENT TO GLADSTONE.

Queen Victoria Announces Her Intention of Honoring the Statesman.

LONDON, June 8.—In the house of commons a message from Queen Victoria was read announcing her majesty's intentention to direct the erection of a monument to the late William E. Gladstone in Westminster abbey, in accordance with the wishes expressed in the address of the house of commons to the queen.

READY FOR A BOND ISSUE.

Treasury Department Prepares to Invite Bids When Authorized.

WASHINGTON, June 8.—Preparations are substantially complete at the treasury department to invite offers for the bonds for carrying on the Spanish war as soon as the bonds are authorized by congress. There will be no delay in issuing a circular stating the terms under which the bonds are offered and inviting bids at par. Envelopes have already been prepared, addressed to every national bank, to the postmaster at every money order office and to the representatives of certain express companies who have offered to aid in the placing of the loan.

The circulars announcing the loan will be placed in these envelopes and dispatched as soon as the exact terms of the act of congress are known. It is the present intention to offer $200,000,000 in bonds at once, reserving the right to issue an additional $100,000,000 under the proposals of the minority of the finance committee, in case an additional issue becomes necessary.

Thirty days will probably be given for receiving bids before the loan is allotted. Allotments will be made at once, however, for the full amount of all bids for $1,000. It is not anticipated that these will reach a sufficient amount to absorb the whole loan, but it is desired to give the preference to the small bidders

He Caught One Asleep, but Never Could Tell How He Got the Other.

"No, young man, I can't tell you nothin, not but there's things enough happened along the Delaware, an, for that matter, right here in Callicoon, to fill a hundred little books chock full, but I ain't no composer. But I wish to land you'd come 'round before Jabe Cook died. He could a 'commodated you with as many yarns as you could shake a stick at. True ones! Of course. Jabe wan't no great hand on lyin—not ginerally. He ferried here for—oh, I don't know how long. Begun when I was a boy. Run a small boat, an when there was teams or many people took them over in a big scow.

"There ain't scasly any hoft of work 'bout runnin a scow. Jabe wouldn't a took to it if there had been, for he was a sort of lazy coot—didn't hanker after work. When you pole out an git pinted right, the scow'll run itself, an then there's time for swappin horses an talkin. That's where Jabe's talent come in—on talkin. He could talk a blue streak—beat the hull shootin match at it. It beat all how much he knowed about everybody for miles round. An when he begun on one o' his stories he was bound to go through with it. Never knowed him to leave a story half way but oncet.

"One day a passel of us young chaps had been up Hollister brook fishin. When we got back to the ferry, Jabe wan't to be seen, an we set down on the beach to wait for him to come an take us acrost the river. We'd been settin quite a spell, when all of a suddint we heard him shoutin an callin to us. He was comin from an old stone quarry, an I swan if the feller didn't have a live rattlesnake in each hand. We were fast enough 'bout runnin to meet him, but a little skittish 'bout gittin very clost to the snakes, until we were sure he had each one gripped clost enough to the head so's it couldn't turn to bite. It's safe enough carryin rattlers that way—if you hold on tight. The day was hot an Jake was that excited he fairly stuttered a-tryin to tell us how he ketched the snakes an the way we slung questions at him didn't help to cool him down none. A city chap, he said, had promised him $5 an a good jackknife for a live rattler. He'd kinder calkerlated on findin one that day because all the signs were 'bout right for their bein out.

"'Say,' interrupted Si Brown, 'ain't you gittin to know 'most too much 'bout rattlers?'

"'You'll know more about manners when you're growed up,' was Jabe's answer. This was a sockdologer on Si, for, though he was nigh on to 40, he was a little cuss.

"Well, Jabe's story was awful long, for he'd had ruther a rough an tumble sort of a hunt, but the upshot of it all was he found the first rattler asleep behind a holler log, an, said he, 'I crept up as still's a cat after a mouse, an reached over my forked stick an nabbed him.' An suitin his actions to his words, Jabe brought his right hand over—brought it over too near the left. Quicker'n you could say 'Jack Robinson,' the left hand snake stuck his fangs into Jabe's right hand, an the right hand snake did the same for his left hand.

"Jabe's yells, which was enough to wake the dead, an the general thrashin 'round of arms an snakes, scart us boys till every one of us went lickety split up the river bank. We went back when the snakes were gone an helped Jabe home. Si ran for the doctor, an I was soon a-leggin it up the road after whisky.

"No, Jabe didn't die, though he come within an ace of it. He felt awfully cut up 'bout the hull business an to this day we don't know how he ketched that other snake."—New York Sun.

Children's Patiches.

Dr. Gould cited some peculiar instances of personification of objects by children and of devotion to them so intense as to amount almost to worship. Two small girls made a special pet of a stone, to which they gave the name Tom; others, becoming interested in all mice through affection for one small, white mouse, formed themselves into a secret society for the protection of the creatures which are usually the detestation of all womankind. Other instances were given of children who cherished particular affection for special pillows or blankets, who even had pet names for them and who refused to be comforted if separated from the beloved object.—Lecture Before Baltimore Folklore Society.

None In Stock.

"I have been in the business 40 years," said the floorwalker, "but I don't know it all yet. You saw that young woman with the green hair?"

"Yes," replied the ribbon clerk.

"She came up to me and asked if we had any nice house gowns especially suitable for wearing when one was looking for burglars."—Cincinnati Enquirer.

BRAKEMAN SHOT.

Al. Baldwin Tries to Kill Him at Toledo.

First Sent a Pistol Ball Through the Man's Body and Then Filled Him With Bird Shot.

Mrs. Richard Kelley, of 73 Hoagland avenue, was summoned to Toledo yesterday by a telegram which stated that her husband, a brakeman on the Wabash road, had been injured. The message contained no particulars and it was supposed that the brakeman had met with an accident while in the performance of his train duties. But such was not the case, as will be seen in the following extract from the Toledo Bee of last evening:

"Al. Baldwin, of the Wabash hotel, at the foot of Sumner street, is under arrest on a charge of shooting one Richard Kelley, a brakeman, with intent to wound. The shooting occurred about 11:30 last night during a row at the house and immediately Baldwin came down to the police station and made a report of the affair, giving himself up a prisoner. He was sent back with two officers to make an investigation. The officers found that Kelley had been twice shot, once in the side with a revolver and once in the back and hips with a shotgun. Dr. Lawless had been summoned and decided that neither of the wounds were dangerous. Kelley was removed to St. Vincent hospital and Baldwin was brought back to the station for the night. He will probably be liberated on bail.

"His version of the trouble as told to a Bee this morning is that he and an ex-engineer, C. Hubbard, had some trouble early in the evening and he punched Hubbard. Kelly, according to Baldwin's story, rather took the matter up and there was a good deal of quarreling between the two men all night. Finally about 11 o'clock Baldwin closed the hotel. A moment afterwards he stepped outside the door. He says that as he did so Kelly rushed at him. Baldwin had a gun in his coat pocket which he always takes up stairs with him at night and he drew this. In the scuffle it went off and Kelly was slightly wounded in the side. Kelly then got the gun, and, as Baldwin avers, snapped it at him several times. Baldwin says he ran into the house, Kelly following him with the revolver. Baldwin grabbed a shotgun which stood in the hall and as Kelly turned to run back fired, putting the charge into Kelly's legs and back. The latter is resting easy at the hospital this morning and his condition is not considered at all serious."

Al Baldwin formerly resided in Fort Wayne. He was for many years employed on the Wabash road, first as an engineer and later as a conductor. He was one of the men let out during the American Railway union strike, and since that time has conducted a boarding house in Toledo, his chief patrons being railway men. The story told here of the shooting differs from that published in the Bee, inasmuch as it lays the blame entirely upon Baldwin. Kelly made no effort to hurt the old man in the scuffle, his object being to take the revolver from Baldwin. He succeeded in this, but not until he had been shot. The ball entered the side and passed through the body, but did not touch any of the vital organs. When the revolver was taken from Baldwin, he ran up stairs and soon returned with a shotgun. This he leveled at Kelley and sent a charge of bird shot into his back and hips. The matter was kept as quiet as possible, nobody here knowing anything of the shooting until last evening. Kelley, the unfortunate brakeman, bears an estimable reputation for sobriety and good behavior and his friends in Fort Wayne will be surprised to hear of him being wounded in a fight.

A HALF HOLIDAY.

Until October the Bass offices will not be open Saturday afternoons and the men therein employed will be free to spend the half holiday as best suits themselves. This is a practice that could well be emulated by other establishments in the city. The men effected appreciate it and show their gratitude by giving better service, if such a thing is possible, during the hours they are on duty. Mr. Bass has always shown due consideration of the rights of his employes and it is to this fact probably that there is always many applications when it is known there is to be a vacancy in any department of the great works. It is said that there has never been a strike at the Bass works.

A PERMANENT SCHOOL.

The Fort Wayne school of instruction for engine men in the employ of the Pennsylvania company, which was inaugurated by Road Foreman J. M. Lindley, of the Vandalia, is to be a permanent thing. This morning a car in which to hold the meetings was placed in one of the courts at the shops and it will be equipped with all the necessary apparatus for illustrating subjects which have a bearing upon the trade. The air brake car will also remain here, a part of the school's equipment, and will be presided over by Capt. H. M. Diehl. The school will be under the supervision of Louis Kinnaird, who will call to his assistance at various times Frank Crawford, Dr. Drayer and other gentlemen qualified for work of that character. For several weeks the school met in the carpenter shop.

THE FOUR RATS.

A shopman told his wife, on awakening one morning, a curious dream which he had during the night. He dreamed that he saw coming toward him, in order, four rats. The first one was very fat, and was followed by two lean rats, the rear rat being blind. The dreamer was greatly perplexed as to what evil might follow, as it has been understood that to dream of rats denotes calamity. He appealed to his wife concerning this; but she, poor woman, could not help him. His son, who heard his father tell the story, volunteered to be the interpreter. "The fat rat," he said, "is the man who keeps the saloon you go to so often, the two lean rats are my mother and me, and the blind rat, father, is yourself."

George Mason, of the Bass blacksmith shop, is kept from his work by the serious illness of his mother.

Ed Jenney, night clerk at the Lake Shore, has moved his family from 131 West Third to 98 Harrison street.

Machinist Philip Singleton resumed his place in the Pittsburg shops this morning. He was sick over three weeks.

Machinist Herman Regel, of the Bass works, went to Columbia City this morning to do some repair work on a steam plant.

C. W. Bradley, who on June 1 retired from the position of general superintendent of the West Shore lines, was for years on the Wabash as one of its officials.

There is but little hope entertained for the life of the five-year old son of Fred Lenz, the well-known blacksmith at the Pittsburg shops. The little one has brain fever.

William Dawkins, of the Pittsburg lumber yards, is attending the wedding of his sister-in-law, Miss Horstmeyer, who was married to a gentleman residing in Chicago.

John Koehl, a car inspector at the Pittsburg yards, received a painful cut under the left eye yesterday, by a coal chisel flying up and striking him. Dr. George C. Stemen dressed the wound.

Engine 41, just out of the repair shops, is hauling one of the local freight trains on the Nickel Plate, between this city and Leipsic. Engineer Al. Becker and Fireman H. Minser have charge.

Brakeman George W. Clark, of the Grand Rapids and Indiana road, has returned from northern Michigan, where he spent two days in brook trout fishing. He brought eighty-six of the speckled beauties home with him.

Joseph Steinbach, of the Kerr Murray works, was the victim of a painful accident yesterday, when his right hand was caught beneath a heavy piece and two of the fingers were crushed. Dr. C. C. F. Neischang was the attending surgeon.

J. A. Emslie has recovered from an attack of typhoid fever which, had there been a demand for angels, might have resulted fatally. Mr. Emslie is the traveling freight agent of the Santa Fe and is one of the best known men "on the road."

The color blind and the air brake cars of the Nickel Plate are in the city. The former is in charge of T. J. Callahan and Frank Beall, and the latter car is in charge of Mr. Caldwell. The air brake car will remain here a week, instructing two classes daily.

The Haskell & Barker car works, Michigan City, are employing more men than ever before, and on full time, in some departments running over time. Yesterday they commenced the building of 900 box cars and 100 refrigerator cars for the Illinois Central.

George W. Boyd, assistant general passenger agent of the Pennsylvania, has issued a book of 220 pages, illustrated and replete with valuable information as to summer excursion rates and pleasure resorts reached by the Pennsylvania lines, including not only rail routes, but water lines controlled by the Pennsylvania.

The employes of the Bass works have ordered the largest and most expensive flag ever brought to Fort Wayne. It will measure 26x40 feet and will be floated from a handsome pole erected on the machine shop building. The Kerr Murray employes will also purchase a flag and will endeavor to get one still larger than the banner ordered by the Bass employes.

KLONDIKE RATES SLASHED.

A big cut in Klondike rates was announced yesterday by the West Shore and the Nickel Plate railroads. These roads have put in force a new through second-class passenger rate of $25 from New York to Seattle, as against a previous rate of $69.75. This is the first time the Vanderbilt roads have taken part in the Northwestern passenger rate war which the Canadian Pacific began.

TALK OF LIGHT.

National Electric Light Association in Session.

President Insull's Annual Address—Favors Municipal Control of Electric Lighting.

CHICAGO, June 8.—The twenty first convention of the National Electric Light association, commenced a three days' session at the Auditorium today. After a meeting of the executive committee, President Samuel Insull, of the Chicago Edison company, delivered his annual address.

President Insull pointed out that American manufacturing methods, by standardizing machinery, tools and products, resulted in economies that permitted the sale of American made apparatus throughout the world in competition with apparatus produced at a labor cost on wage very much lower than the pay of American workmen.

On the other hand American standardizing manufacturing methods decreased the cost and increased the efficiency of the apparatus used by those engaged in the manufacture and a sale of electricity to a degree that enabled central station managers to do a profitable business on a scale of prices that has decreased a with rapidity unknown in any other industry.

A most searching investigation was made to determine how small a profit it was safe to exact from each customer. Mr Insull showed that the determination of a fair price that would encourage the use of electricity and make a reasonable profit for the station, must apportion the cost in such a way as to induce the largest possible use and for all practical purposes.

It was a sound proposition, he said, that profits were limited by advantages given; therefore, each service should bear only its fair portion of cost. This would give to each its full share of advantage.

The discussion of cost and price, he said, led naturally to the consideration of legislative control of electrical central station competencies. He contended that reliance upon competition as a regulator of prices had always been, and in the nature of the business, must always be a failure. He agreed with those who demand legislative control of these monopolies. He said there should be one organization in a municipality, its products to be sold on the basis of cost plus a reasonable profit and its property and franchises taxed as much as users were willing to pay in their service bills, and when it was thought desirable that the industry should be operated by the municipality, let the franchises provided for the taking of the plant, and this put the municipality in a position to serve all users to the best advantage.

By settling many vexatious questions on these lines the bad effects of much ill-advised legislation could, he maintained, be speedily overcome and benefit in proportion to the stability of the business will be realized by public and private users. Summarized, his position was embodied in these two sentences:

"First, franchises granted public service corporations should secure them the same degree of protection in their rights to their property as it enjoyed by other investments.

"Second, public control of charges for service based on cost, plus a reasonable profit and eliminating the factor of competition, is the proper safeguard for the interests of users, taxpayers and investors."

Calvin R. Rice, of Brooklyn, read a paper on "Cost of Generation and Distribution of a Unit of Electricity."

Following this paper, there was a general discussion of "Prices and Discounts for Electric Current and Methods of Billing Current to Customers." Among the notable visitors to the convention is Professor Fujic, the principal authority on electric lighting in Japan.

SWEDENBORGIANS.

General Convention of the New Jerusalem Church Meets in Cleveland.

CLEVELAND, Ohio, June 8.—The seventy-eighth session of the general convention of the New Jerusalem church (Swedenborgians) of the United States of America began here today. Delegates are present from nearly all parts of the country, as well as several from foreign lands.

The first five days of the convention will be devoted to the council of ministers, after which the work of the general convention will be taken up. The session today was largely of a preliminary nature, the first business session not being held until tomorrow.

The convention promises to be one of the most successful in the history of the church.

A ROCK ON THE TRACK.

Baltimore and Ohio Train Derailed and Engineer Killed.

CAIRO, W. Va., June 8.—The eastbound passenger train No. 4, on the Baltimore and Ohio road, due here at 8 a. m., was derailed a quarter of a mile west of here last night. Engineer Hanway was fatally injured, Fireman Griffith slightly and two tramps, Dan Reardon and Thomas Perts, had broken legs. No passengers were hurt.

The derailment was caused by a rock being placed on the track.

Milwaukee Coal Heavers Strike.

MILWAUKEE, Wis., June 8—About 200 coal heavers employed along the docks in Milwaukee have gone on a strike for an advance of one cent per ton for unloading coal. As a result twelve boats laden with coal are tied up, with the prospect of remaining so for several days.

ORGANIZE A BALL CLUB.

The Battery Boys Win a Ten Inning Game From the Zanesville Club.

CHICKAMAUGA PARK, June 6, '98.

The Fort Wayne battery has organized a base ball club as follows:

Corporal Chas. C Mungen, captain and first base; M. Hewitt, second; F. Barr, third; J. Smith, left field; R. Brannan, center field; Corporal Vodermark, right field and pitcher; Christ Weller, short stop; George Wilcox, catcher; F. Hendrix, pitcher; Meyers, pitcher; Gumpper, pitcher; Knoll, third base.

The battery had a ten inning game with Battery C, of Zanesville, Ohio, last Thursday afternoon, defeating them by a score of 12 to 7, amid the cheers of all the batteries camped here.

Corporal Mungen was absent from roll call Saturday night, and came in after all was over. When questioned as to where he was he replied that he had coralled a pie wagon and at once took his section to bring in the prize. They have been eating pie ever since.

Private Kid Smith has been appointed rubber for all the base ball players, and says he is stuck on his job.

The boys are getting disgruntled at the cigar men of Fort Wayne. The batteries on each side of us receive good home-made cigars every week, while we have to smoke Georgia weeds or go without. We don't want the earth, but just a little remembrance.

The friends of Lieutenant Cleary had better tell him to ring off on his old, old pipes. From

A TASTE FOR READING.

Benefits Derived From a Fondness For Good Literature.

Ask any hostess of your acquaintance what type of guest she has found the hardest to entertain during a protracted visit and she will answer, "The woman who never reads," says a writer in the Philadelphia Inquirer.

Probably you know her yourself. She slips into your guestroom some day, with the promising assurance: "Now, I don't want to be made company of. Just let me be one of the family and look out for myself."

You are a busy woman, and you congratulate yourself that your hospitality is to be extended to one of your sex who is capable of making her stay something besides a nervous strain on the part of yourself as hostess and your household in general.

You have fitted up that guestroom of yours with especial reference to the hoped for bookish tastes of its occupants. There is a goodly assortment of current literature scattered about. Being a reader yourself, you can imagine nothing more delightsome than an opportunity for cozy companionship with the latest magazine or novel.

You delicately allude to your thoughtfulness in providing the, to you, literary feasts, and suggest to your guest that she take her pick of all that the family library contains and then—well, then comes the disillusionment.

Never while that woman is in your house do you catch her with a book or paper in her hand. Days when you run short of amusements for her she wanders aimlessly about from room to room, is plainly despondent over bad weather and sets all your hospitable instincts on edge by the ill concealed fact that she is bored.

"Oh," you sigh, "if she would only read! Just to see her 15 minutes of the day with her eyes fastened interestedly upon some bit of printed matter!"

A taste for reading may be as surely cultivated as any other taste, and a healthy appetite for good literature is as necessary for mental nourishment as good food is for physical well being.

To get right at the root of the matter, the reading habit needs to be cultivated in the nursery. As soon as children are able to pick out the words in their primers they should be taught to consider that more enjoyment is to be found between the covers of a book than among all the toys and gimcracks that clutter up the playroom. No need to make bookworms of them, but a tactful mother may implant the reading idea into the juvenile mind and so carefully nurture it that in after years it will bear intellectual fruits of incalculable benefit.

Laziness is usually the foundation for the childish request, "Please read to me," provided the youthful petitioner is able to read to himself. The same obliging grandmother or gracious aunt who is always ready to do the youngsters' bidding in this direction is also responsible for the fad of spinning nursery yarns to listeners who are old enough and schooled enough to cull their own tales from books.

When there is no personal application on the child's part, how can there be any mental stimulus? No wonder we find so many insipid, vacillating minds among grown ups when we remember how little thought concentration is exacted from the average child.

There would be fewer restless men and certainly fewer discontented women if the reading habit were made a feature of nursery training.

Fortunate is the man or woman who has discovered in books that world which will widen the most contracted sphere and glorify the most commonplace existence.

The Donnelly Cipher.

Ignatius Donnelly discovers in the inscription on Shakespeare's tomba cryptogram which reads, "Francis Bacon wrote the Green, Marlowe and Shakespeare's plays." He goes even further and suggests that Bacon wrote "Don Quixote." Perhaps he is right. Everybody remembers, says the Boston Pilot, the philologist who derived the word "restaurant" from two Latin roots, res, a thing, and taurus, a bull; ergo, restaurant, "a bully thing." There is also the case of the scholar who found the origin of the English word "nag" in the Latin "equus, "a horse, whence came the adjective "equine," whence, omitting the "equ," and changing the final "e" into "ag," "for the sake of euphony," came the colloquial form "nag." But thus far we have no proof that Francis Bacon was the author of "Marching Through Georgia."

Recovering French Treasure.

For many years a local legend in Frankfort on the Main had it that a big treasure of gold lay buried in the Main river just beneath the big old bridge. On moonlight nights, it was said, one could see the gold glisten in the water. Recently the fact became patent that there must be a foundation for the old tradition, for skippers steadily fished up gold pieces from the river bed in the vicinity named. At last the Prussian government made a thorough investigation and within a week one treasure at least was brought to light—about 1,500 French gold coins of the times from Louis XIV. to Louis XVIII as well as of the first republic. This is evidently part of a French war treasure lost or buried there during the troublesome Napoleonic period.

A Star Ancestress.

Mrs Sallie Shaver of Acree, Ga., now 90 years old, has, according to a local paper, 245 children, grandchildren, great grandchildren and great-great-grandchildren, and in addition to this formidable number, seventy-five have died. Therefore the total reaches the remarkable sum of 310. There are seven children, the oldest of whom is 70 and the youngest 43, and none of them have ever figured in a case at court.—Tribune.

The Only Thing Needed

To Remove Bronchitis, Catarrh, Consumption and Pneumonia

From the List of Dangerous Diseases in the Estimation of the People.

Ever since the discovery that catarrh, bronchitis, pneumonia and consumption were purely local diseases, caused by the presence of bacilli in the air passages, the medical profession throughout the whole world have been making strenuous efforts to find some remedy by which these bacilli could be reached and destroyed. How they have succeeded is recorded in the Choice at the reports published by the different boards of health, in all the larger cities in the country, which show not only a great increase in the number of deaths yearly from these diseases, but a surprising growth in the number of persons afflicted. The effort to find a cure for diseases of the respiratory organs must not be construed to mean a lack of ability on the part of the medical profession, for they have discovered many remedies which would kill these germs. Yet, strange to say, not one of them could be conveyed to the parts affected by any means. It can be readily seen, then, that the discovery of "Hyomei," a germicide of such power to kill at once the bacilli of these diseases, and at the same time volatile enough to impregnate every particle of air breathed by the patient, yet leaving it free from moisture, was one of vital importance to the medical world. Physicians throughout the whole country began to test the efficacy of this new remedy, and now, after six years' trial in this and other countries, over 3,500 physicians claim that "Hyomei," the Australian Dry Air Cure, is the only treatment by which all the diseased parts of the respiratory organs can be reached and cured.

Furthermore, it is claimed that in families who are predisposed to catarrh and consumption, if the fathers and mothers will but instruct their children in the use of "Hyomei," the rising generation will be freed from those dread diseases. It would seem, then, that nothing remains to be done in order to remove these diseases from the list of dangerous ones but to teach the people the value of "Hyomei."

NO PINKERTONS.

Chicago Detective Agency Not Employed to Hunt Down Spanish Spies.

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 5.—In reference to repeated assertions that William A. Pinkerton, of Chicago, had been to Washington, to confer with the war and navy departments, in reference to spies in this country, it is authoritatively stated at the treasury department that Mr. Pinkerton received no such call as has been reported. He visited Washington principally for the purpose, it is said, of assuring the various heads of departments that his agency was not engaged in working for Spain.

The fact that his people had been employed to make investigations in connection with the filibustering expeditions before the present war broke out, and the necessarily intimate relations that had existed between the agency and the Spanish representatives in this country, led to a belief in some directions that he had continued in the Spanish employ after hostilities began, and it was for the purpose of explaining the exact attitude of his agency, and of expressing his loyalty to the government, it is said, that Mr. Pinkerton came to Washington.

The employment of the Pinkertons to do any work in this connection, it is said, has never been thought of, inasmuch as its own secret service, under the direction of Mr Willkie, is doing excellent work, and further that there is a legal bar to such employment.

Have you seen that 50c madras shirt at Patterson's?

The Epworth league of Wayne street M. E. church held a very enjoyable lawn social last evening.

A Startling Salutation.

A pastor, listening to the outline of a sermon based upon the dying thief, took a card from his pocket, and wrote this sentence which had impressed him, "He was a dying thief, you are a living thief." The next day he called upon the Methodist minister, and, finding him absent, left his card. Imagine his horror when he discovered that he had left that card with the suggestive accusation upon its back. It naturally required some little circumlocution and diplomacy to "unstrain" the relations thus put into a state of dangerous tension by this apparently Dr Lome-like card.

See the new summer neckwear at Patterson's.

Cracks in Stoves.

Cracks in cast-iron stoves may be effectively closed up and cemented by the use of a mixture composed of wood ashes (passed through a sieve), finely powdered clay, and a little common salt. These ingredients are worked up with some water, and applied to the stove when cold. The cement hardens on being heated, and it is said, will neither split nor crack.

SKINNED THEM.

Some Gullible People Buy Worthless Paper.

The Diamond Investment Company Proves as Big a Fraud as Its Predecessor, the Bond Investment Company.

The holders of the Diamond Investment bonds have complained to the police that the paper now held by them and long overdue remains unpaid. This company was gotten up by the genius who sprung the Bond Investment company upon an unsuspecting and gullible public a few years ago, for which he spent a term in the penitentiary. The Diamond company paid a few bonds in the start and then quit. It is estimated that the management is $12,000 ahead of Fort Wayne. The police say no action can be brought against any but the man who negotiated the sale of the bonds.

GOLD SEEKERS DROWNED.

Several Prospectors Lose Their Lives Crossing Lake Bennett.

SKAGWAY, June 2, via Victoria, B. C., June 8.—B. J. Keeler, who has just returned from Tarish Lake, says that steam and gasoline launches are now running on Lakes Bennett and Lindemann. No steam vessels have got past the Cariboo Crossing this spring, but small boats are daily making the run. Mr. Keeler says that a week ago Sunday three men, whose names he could not ascertain, were drowned close to Cariboo Crossing, on Lake Bennett. He has been in camp at the head of Tagish for over six weeks. It is his belief that at least twenty persons have been drowned on the lake since the ice began to break up.

KLONDIKE STEAMER WRECKED.

VICTORIA, B. C., June 8.—The new stern wheeler Iskoot, belonging to the Klondike Mining, Trading and Transportation company has been wrecked on a rock in the west inlet. She will be a total loss. She was on her way to the Stickeen in charge of Captain McLennan and Pilot O'Brien. It is stated that the pilot mistook the channel which leads into west inlet for the mouth of the Skeena river. The Iskoot was one of the finest equipped river vessels on the Pacific coast. She was insured for $20,000

CURED BY CUTICURA
I was suffering tortures from a diseased scalp. I was scratching my head from morning till night. Little pimples broke out all over my head. I had no rest. I washed my head with the best medicated Cuticura Soap, and applied Cuticura, as a dressing. Soon my head had not a pimple on it, and my hair is growing splendidly. ADA C. BARRELL, 2539 Forest St., Jersey City, N. J.
I therefore I could go further with ticking medicaments. I kept covering all my hair, of which I had an abundance. Little bits of scab, as they fell off, I tried to remove. Scaly and immovable, finding nothing to help me, I at last tried Cuticura. Now, behold, my hair is restored, and I am as free from dandruff as I could be. I am a young man, and I am glad to say that I am entirely cured. JOHN H. HOLLAND, Jr., Bellefonte, Pa.

FOR GRAND REVIEW.

The President May Visit Camp Thomas.

Invited to Come on the Fourth of July.

Governors Are Calling on the Soldiers.

Vaccination Prevents Many Troopers From Drilling—Camp Suffers From the Dust Nuisance.

CHICKAMAUGA, National Military Park, Tenn., June 8.—The usual hard drills and manoeuvres are occupying the various regiments of General Brooke's big volunteer army today. The temperature continues high, but it is again relieved somewhat by a steady breeze.

What the whole army is now praying for is a hard downpour of rain.

The dust is increasing daily and unless rain soon abates it, it will become an almost unbearable nuisance. Thousands of horses and wagons constantly moving along the park roads and the long dry spell have combined to make this nuisance the worst, and in fact the only considerable one, with which the army has to contend.

Governor Bradley and staff, of Kentucky, who arrived last night, spent the night at Lookout Inn and went to the park at an early hour this morning. They were guests of the infantry regiments and the two cavalry troops of Kentucky yesterday. In their honor those commands have given a number of special drills.

Governor Hastings, of Pennsylvania, with his staff is scheduled to arrive Saturday and spend several days with the Pennsylvania regiment here.

A number of governors have been invited to visit the camp and it is believed that the invitations will be accepted.

A movement is now on foot to have President McKinley and each of his cabinet officers as can accompany him to inspect the park army on the 4th of July. A formal invitation will be extended and the president will be urged to accept.

If the invitation is accepted the president and his party will be elaborately entertained by the city and in the park.

The Letter hospital will probably be opened tomorrow. All the most serious cases will at once be transferred to it. The place is an ideal one, and the army patients will enjoy every comfort in it.

A large number of the volunteers are still suffering with sore arms on account of the vaccinations. The men of the several Arkansas have been unable to drill for several days on this account. The third Tennessee is being vaccinated today.

Brig. Gen. John A. Wiley, of Pennsylvania, who arrived last night, reported to General Brooke at headquarters this morning.

A number of new wells are being drilled in various portions of the park. The supply of drinking water is now ample and the pipe lines furnish an abundant amount for other purposes.

General Brooke has issued an order forbidding hucksters and peddlers going through the park. This order was effective today and the change is very noticeable.

Hundreds of wagons have been going from camp to camp selling stuff of various kinds, and a number have been making small fortunes off the soldiers. General Brooke ended the practice on account of the confusion it caused on account of the complaints about the poor quality of the things thus passed.

The First Ohio cavalry has been ordered to discontinue preparations for departure. It has been announced for several days that this regiment would move as soon as it could get in readiness. The reason for the change in orders is not apparent.

A number of regiments are scheduled to arrive here during the next few days. The first Kentucky is due tonight. The talk of transferring the army, or any part of it, is about at an end, and the men are settling down for the summer.

CREMATE GRIDLEY'S BODY.

Mr. Copman, of Yokohama, to be Intrusted with the Work.

WASHINGTON, June 8.—At the suggestion of Mrs. Gridley, widow of Captain Gridley, late commander of the cruiser Olympia with Admiral Dewey's fleet, the acting secretary of the navy has cabled instructions to Paymaster Galt at Yokohama to turn the remains of the deceased officer over to Mr. Copman, of that city, with a view to their cremation.

This action was taken in deference to the known wishes of the deceased and was based upon information that proper facilities for such work exist in Yokohama.

KENNEY INDICTED.

Delaware Senator Charged With Complicity in Looting the Dover Bank.

WILMINGTON, Del., June 8.—The grand jury in the United States court has evening returned indictments against United States Senator R. R. Kenney, Amos Cole, president of the Commercial Fire Insurance company; J. Franc Allee, chairman of the republican state committee; Harry Foard and J. R. McConigal, prominent residents of Dover; C. H. Butler and W. E. Coter, of Philadelphia.

They are charged with aiding and abetting the defaulting teller, William N. Boggs, to unlawfully funds of the National Bank of Dover. The amount charged in the indictment against Senator Kenney is $23,461.91.

The return of the indictment has caused a great sensation.

ON LIFE'S VOYAGE.

Six Young Ladies Graduate From Westminster Seminary.

J. Cumming Smith, of Indianapolis, Delivered the Address—Reception and Banquet at Seminary.

The fourteenth annual commencement exercises of Westminster seminary were held last evening in the parlors of the First Presbyterian church. There were six graduates: Miss Helen Gray Davis, of Noblesville; Miss Jessie Scott, Greenfield; Miss Jeannette Adele Stahl, Laporte; Miss Olive Blanche Coulson, Arcola; Miss Harriet Elliott, Lafayette, and Miss Isabella McClure, of this city.

As Professor Meyer, who presided at the organ, played a march, the young ladies of the seminary, dressed in pretty white gowns, entered the church and took the seats assigned them. Rev. Dr. Moffat invoked the Divine blessing and the Haydn quartet sang. Mrs. Leroy L. Plummer sang the waltz song from "Il Seraccio," to the accompaniment of Mrs. F. E. Stoudar, and Mrs. Wells then introduced Rev. J. Cumming Smith, of Indianapolis, who gave the main address of the evening.

At the close of Mr. Smith's address, Mrs. Wells introduced Rev. J. M. Davies, of Noblesville, who spoke of the recent decision of the synod concerning the adoption of Westminster seminary and made a plea for the support of the school by citizens of the city who are interested in a Christian education for the young. In a few words Miss Sharp then presented the members of the class with their diplomas. Miss Helen Gray Davis, president of the class, replied, thanking the principals and teachers for their labors in behalf of the class during the time which they had spent in the school. The closing remarks were made by Mrs. Wells, which, with another song by the quartet and the benediction by Dr. Moffat, closed the exercises of Westminster's class of '98.

Louis F. Curdes sang in the quartet in place of Mr. Yarnelle.

After the exercises the young ladies were tendered a reception and banquet at the seminary.

WAR AND ARBITRATION.

General Howard Addresses Congregational Society in Cleveland.

CLEVELAND, June 8.—At the second session of the seventy-second annual meeting of the Congregational Home Missionary society today, the president, Gen. O. O. Howard, delivered his annual address. His subject was, "War, Arbitration and the New Demand for American Home Missions."

The sixteenth annual meeting of the woman's department was held today, Mrs. H. S. Caswell, of New York, presiding. She said that the woman's organizations now cover the entire territory of the United States, with the exception of Alaska.

The woman's organizations have added to the treasuries of the national societies this year over $100,000.

Before another annual meeting some plan may be evolved by which men, women and children of each church may belong, as a united company to a prosperous church missionary society, lavishly pouring their offerings into the church treasury to be forwarded from that treasury to the national missionary societies for the great and beneficent work assumed by each. Mrs. Lydia Titchener Bailloy, of Seattle, Wash., delivered an address entitled "A New Vision." The concluding address was by Mrs. Alice Freeman Palmer, of Cambridge, Mass., ex-president of Wellesley college, in answer to the question "How can women save our country?"

COLUMBIA REPAIRED.

Cruiser Is in Good Shape to Before Collision With the Portsmith.

NEW YORK, June 8.—The United States cruiser Columbia, which has been in dry dock at the navy yard since December day on account of her collision with the British ship Fescolin, was floated today. New plates have entirely repaired the starboard side of the vessel, which was stove in by the Fescolin, and the cruiser is as sound and well protected as when she was first put into commission. The Columbia will probably resume active service before the end of the week.

NOT GUILTY.

Wilson Governor Atkinson, of West Virginia, Acquitted of Forgery.

CLEVELAND, Ohio, June 8.—A special from Glenville, W. Va., says:

The jury last night returned a verdict of not guilty in the indictment in which Mrs. Atkinson, wife of the governor, was a co-defendant. This ends the long and noted case, in which Mrs. Atkinson was charged with forgery.

Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Stewart, of West Berry street, have as their guest their daughter, Mrs. Montgomery, of Youngstown, Ohio.

DONS CLAIM VICTORY

Say Sampson's Attack Was Bravely Repulsed.

American Loss Given as Being Over a Thousand.

Spanish Tale That Captain Philip Was Killed.

There Is Nothing in Sampson's Dispatch Concerning the Death of Commander of the Texas.

CAPE HAYTIEN, Hayti, June 8.—No further war news was received here this morning.

ST. THOMAS, Danish West Indies, June 8.—No war news reached here today.

MADRID, June 8.—10 a. m.—Dispatches received here from Havana, from Spanish sources, say "the Americans were again repulsed at the last bombardment of Santiago de Cuba."

Continuing these reports assert that the damage done to the batteries and all the batteries are in condition to reply to the enemy's fire. During the second attack Colonel Ordonez was on board the Reina Mercedes and personally assisted in working her guns. Every one regards Colonel Ordonez and General Linares as the heros of the day."

According to official Spanish dispatches received here, the exact loss of the Spaniards at Santiago de Cuba, on Monday, is as follows:

Land forces, one soldier killed and five officers wounded, including Colonel Ordonez, slightly wounded. Sea forces, the second officer in command of the Reina Mercedes, five sailors and twenty-nine marines killed and an officer and eleven sailors wounded. The official dispatch also says that many of the wounded, including Colonel Ordonez, are able to attend to their duties.

It is announced here that the Spanish steamer Benito has "run the blockade of Manzanillo" and arrived at Jamaica.

HAVANA VERSION OF THE SANTIAGO FIGHT.

(Copyrighted, 1898, by the Associated Press.)

HAVANA, June 7.—(Delayed in transmission)—Details from Spanish sources at Santiago de Cuba were received here today of the Spanish losses during the bombardment of the forts there by the American fleet on Monday. The "marine chief" killed on board the Reina Mercedes was former Captain Emilio Acosta Eyormanu. Ensign Alejandro Molines, also of the Reina Mercedes, was killed.

Colonel Ordenez of the artillery and inventor of the cannon bearing his name was slightly wounded. Some other officers were slightly wounded by projectiles, shells and fragments scattered by the explosion of shells on land.

The insurgents today dynamited a passenger train near Cauasi, province of Pinar del Rio, overthrowing one car and derailing the train.

CAPTAIN OF THE TEXAS IS REPORTED KILLED.

NEW YORK, June 8.—A special cable dispatch from Madrid says that in the course of Monday's commanding at Santiago de Cuba, Captain Philip, of the United States battleship Texas was killed by a Spanish shell. There is nothing in other dispatches from West Indian waters to substantiate the report.

MOUNTAIN HOWITZERS TO BE USED AT MANILA.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 8.—General Merritt's latest order for the campaign in the Philippines is that a battery of six mountain Howitzers shall be taken on the next expedition to Manila. To move the guns, carriages and ammunition in the Philippines a pack train of mules will be required. It is understood that Lieutenant Carson, Fourth United States cavalry, will be given command of the battery.

The general court martial in session at Camp Merritt has convicted John Campbell, of the Tenth Pennsylvania volunteers, who attacked a colored man at Mount Gretna, Pa., just before the regiment left for the coast. A light sentence was imposed, as Campbell has practically been in prison a month.

CRUISER VIZCAYA SAID TO BE BADLY DAMAGED.

NEW YORK, June 8.—A special from Kingston, Jamaica, reports that the Spanish cruiser Vizcaya and the torpedo boat destroyer Furor were badly damaged during the bombardment of Santiago's defenses on Monday.

A shell from the Brooklyn is said to have burst under the Vizcaya's port quarter, dismounting a gun, injuring the cruiser's rudder and wounding several of her sailors.

A SPANISH ACCOUNT OF THE BOMBARDMENT.

MADRID, June 8.—10 a. m.—A semi-official note was published here today, purporting to give an account of the bombardment of Santiago de Cuba by the American fleet on Monday last.

"The American navy, under Admiral Sampson, has dreadly attacked Santiago de Cuba and a bloody encounter ensued. The Americans made three attacks on the Spanish marine and land batteries, which replied. As a consequence the Americans were repulsed with heavy losses, estimated at fifteen hundred men. The American projectiles, however, sank the Spanish cruiser Reina Mercedes."

WHAT AGUINALDO HAS ACCOMPLISHED.

MANILA, June 1, via Hong Kong, June 8.—Following is a summary of Aguinaldo's work since his landing three two weeks ago.

He has assembled a force of 3,000 men with arms. He has fought many skirmishes.

Two good batteries have been captured.

The whole province of Cavite has been taken.

Sixteen hundred Spaniards are prisoners.

He has supplied his men with 2,000 rifles, Mausers from abroad, and 2,000 magazine rifles and six field guns taken from Spaniards.

He was a good deal annoyed at the attempt of some of the newspapers to indicate the very point selected for landing the troops and siege guns in the neighborhood of Santiago.

If it were true that the department had selected a place where there is a strong wharf upon which the vessels may discharge the heavy seige train directly, the publication of that fact, if authenticated, might very naturally lead the Spaniards to destroy that particular wharf and thus seriously hamper the operations of the troops. Careful inquiry at other places in the war department, where information as to the movement of the troops might naturally be expected, developed the fact that no word had yet come of the departure of the military expedition from Tampa. As the troops are under orders to go to sea just as soon as they can be made ready without further direction from the department is deemed probable that they will get off some time during the day and notice to that effect will be the next news received at the department.

No further word from Admiral Sampson was received at the navy department. The bulletin made public by the department last night in confirmation of the press reports of the attack upon Santiago last Monday is believed to be merely a skeleton statement of Admiral Sampson's cablegram, which it is surmised contained a good deal more information than at was deemed prudent to make public.

Of course to protect the naval cipher, the matter published was a paraphrase, and it was said at the department this morning that the term used in the bulletin "silenced works quickly without injury at any time," was based upon a statement in the original dispatch broad enough to indicate that the ships had sustained no injury, and that there had been no casualties among the personnel of the American fleet.

Naval officers today expressed the belief that about all of the force landed Monday from Sampson's fleet were marines, and that their purpose was not so much to take military possession of the landing as perhaps to spike some guns and destroy some batteries that might have been recaptured by the Spaniards to advantage after the retirement of the American fleet from the action. One object of Admiral Sampson's attack which has escaped general observation, though exceedingly important, was pointed out at the navy department.

This was to prevent the Spaniards from making a successful attempt to remove the obstruction of the channel caused by the wreck of the Merrimac. Having silenced the forts at the entrance of the harbor, which, when effective, obliged the American fleet to lie many miles out at sea to keep out of range of their guns, Sampson will now be able to place one or more of his ships close to the mouth of the bottle where it can lie in comparative safety and yet be able to command easily with its guns the wreck of the Merrimac.

CAPTAIN PHILIP WAS NOT KILLED.

WASHINGTON, June 8.—Reports coming from Spanish sources and apparently originating in Madrid have stated that Captain Philip, of the Texas, had been killed by a shell shot by the Spaniards. The president said today that the report undoubtedly was untrue and said that it was evidently baseless, as Admiral Sampson's official report stated that there were no casualities.

At the navy department considerable indignation is felt at the report of Captain Philip's death, the department saying that no basis whatever for it exists and that it is calculated needlessly to alarm his family and friends.

CRUISER ST. PAUL SAILS UNDER SEALED ORDERS.

NEW YORK, June 8.—The auxiliary cruiser St. Paul sailed at noon today under sealed orders. She has taken aboard since her arrival off St. George, S. I., on Friday, nearly 5,000 tons of coal and 250,000 gallons of water.

ALL IS QUIET ALONG THE BLOCKADE LINE.

KEY WEST, Fla., June 8.—10 A. M.—An auxiliary gun boat which arrived here this morning from Cardenas reports all quiet there, except that the auxiliary gun boat Leyden is making things very lively for the Spaniards by blazing away at them whenever she sees a movement on the Spanish gun boats or on the defensive works at Cardenas.

The British collier Roath, a sister ship of the Restormel, was held up on June 4 by an American gun boat. Not responding promptly to a blank shot, a solid shot was sent across her. Next day she was held up by a second gun boat and obeyed immediately.

The Roath was in ballast, bound for Mobile from San Juan de Porto Rico, where she had discharged her cargo of coal.

CASES GO OVER.

Schell and Compton Will Not Be Tried Before December.

No Criminal Cases Will Be Tried in Fort Wayne This Term and There May Be No Session of Court.

Ed. Schell and his erstwhile partner, Compton, may yet escape from the clutches of Uncle Sam. United States Commissioner Logan has received information that at the coming session of the United States court in Fort Wayne no criminal cases will be tried. This means that the cases against Schell and Compton will go over until the December term of court. In conversation with THE SENTINEL Schell remarked that he had not had his say, and if the cases ever came to trial he was certain of acquittal. The litigation, however, he says, is expensive.

Commissioner Logan has also notified Judge Baker of the civil cases on the docket and there may be no session of the United States court in Fort Wayne this summer. At the soonest it will not convene before June 21.

JUDGE GRINNELL DEAD.

The Man Who Prosecuted the Chicago Anarchists Dies Suddenly.

CHICAGO, June 8.—Judge Julius F. Grinnell died suddenly today at the Illinois Trust and Savings bank.

Judge Grinnell was famous for the record he made as a fearless public servant, particularly as state's attorney during the prosecution of the Haymarket anarchists.

Judge Grinnell was born at Nassau, N. Y., in 1812. He was at one time a professor in the Oglenburg academy.

New Jerusalem Conference.

CLEVELAND, June 8.—The conference of the church of the New Jerusalem of the United States was opened today with a business session which continued until nearly noon, after which a number of papers were read and discussed. The annual address was delivered by Rev. Willis L. Gladish, the subject being, "The Lord's Temptation."

Miss Margaret Dean, of Cesian, was visiting in the city yesterday.

CORKING THE NEWS.

War Department Holding Up All Information.

Will Not Allow Embarkation of Invading Army.

Landing Place Is Kept Strictly a Secret.

It Is Expected, However, That News of the Sailing of Transports Will Soon Be Received.

WASHINGTON, June 8.—Secretary Alger this morning positively declined to say whether or not the United States troops had sailed yet from Tampa for Cuba. He holds that, notwithstanding the bottling up of the Spanish squadron in Santiago, there are still good and sufficient reasons why every precaution should be adopted to prevent the Spaniards from obtaining information as to the departure of our troops, the point selected for their debarkation and the strength of the expedition.

He was a good deal annoyed at the attempt of some of the newspapers to indicate the very point selected for landing the troops and siege guns in the neighborhood of Santiago.

If it were true that the department had selected a place where there is a strong wharf upon which the vessels may discharge the heavy seige train directly, the publication of that fact, if authenticated, might very naturally lead the Spaniards to destroy that particular wharf and thus seriously hamper the operations of the troops. Careful inquiry at other places in the war department, where information as to the movement of the troops might naturally be expected, developed the fact that no word had yet come of the departure of the military expedition from Tampa. MORE TRANSPORTS FOR PHILIPPINES.

WASHINGTON, June 8.—Assistant Secretary Meiklejohn has chartered the steamships Indiana, Morgan City and City of Para for transport of troops to the Philippines; has closed a contract for the Victoria, Olympia and Arizo, of the Northern Pacific steamship line, and secured the privilege of acquiring the Tacoma and the Columbia if needful. All five on condition they are given an American register. He also ordered impressed into service the Senator, Queen and City of Pueblo, of the Pacific Coast Steamship company, if found satisfactory.

THE NEWS FROM CAPE HAYTIEN.

(Copyrighted, 1898, by the Associated Press.)

CAPE HAYTIEN, Hayti, June 28.—(Correspondence of the Associated Press)—There are some 900 tons of coal at this port, held by foreign manufacturing concern which they will not sell except at an exorbitant price. This concern has cabled to the United States for a further supply of 2,000 tons of coal, but it is uncertain yet whether it will get so much.

The correspondent of the Associated Press has information showing the completeness of the control exercised by the censor at Santiago de Cuba over all cable communication between that place and points on foreign territory. The censor has a special apparatus on his desk in front of him which records all messages sent over the cable, even the private gossip exchanged between operators.

A consular case has just arisen at Gonaives, which has tested the question as to whether the Haytien government has the right to prescribe the language in which a dispatch written by a diplomatic or consular officer to another officer of his government and presented for transmission over the state telegraph shall be couched. Great Britain has no consular agent at Gonaives. On May 12 the British consul general at Port Au Prince requested the American minister, Mr. Powell, to extend his protection over an English subject at Gonaives. The return of the difficulty into which this person had fallen is unknown to the correspondent, and in any event, is not essential to the matter in question.

United States Minister Powell addressed a telegram in English to the American consul at Gonaives. At the office of the government telegraph office in Port Au Prince the message was refused because it was not written in French, according to the regulations devised by the government.

Mr. Powell declined to be controlled by these regulations in communicating with a United States officer on matters of purely official importance and informed the Haytien authorities that he considered the effort to force him to use the French language an infringement of his ministerial rights.

The minister of the interior offered to frank the message and send it free if he were permitted to translate it into French beforehand. To this Minister Powell refused to accede and at last the Haytien minister yielded.

It is said that this is the first time the government has waived its regulations in this particular.

BUTKE'S HEAD OFF.

Mayor Scherer Has Him Removed as Weighmaster.

Captain C. C. Reese Appointed to Succeed Him—Petroleum Pulman's Head Also Drops—Caltion a Copper.

The board of safety held a special meeting this morning and carried out Mayor Scherer's orders that Henry Butke should be removed from the position of weighmaster. It was alleged that he had been neglectful of his duties in not collecting from farmers the full amount owing for use of the city scales. The truth, however, is that Mr. Butke was removed to make room for Captain C. E. Reese, who was appointed to succeed him and will commence work in the morning as weighmaster unless Mr. Butke refuses to give up the place, which he may do. The change is not received well in democratic circles and there may be a contest before the matter is finally settled.

OFFICER PALMER FIRED.

At the regular meeting of the board of safety last evening Patrolman Palmer was relieved of his star and Pete Collins was elected a policeman to succeed him. It was alleged that Palmer violated rule 45 of the laws governing the police department. Collins went on duty last night and this morning filed his bond.

SOLD WITHOUT LICENSE.

Poundmaster Trammel has filed an affidavit against A. A. Martin, charging him with selling liquor without a city license and a warrant has been issued for Martin's arrest.

NOTES.

The city council will meet this evening in committee of the whole to discuss the proposed annexation of property contiguous to the southern limits of the city.

There was no police court this morning.

The board of works this morning inspected the work on the streets in South Wayne which are about to be paved. This afternoon they are investigating sewers just completed in Fletcher's and Winch's addition.

Clerk A. M. Schmidt today rent out scores of notices to property owners to repair sidewalks.

The receipts from gardeners and farmers for market space this spring did not reach the amount expected for the reason that there is no roof over the market place. There has been some agitation in favor of roofing the market, and there is no doubt that the additional revenue received would in a few years pay the expenses of making the improvement.

The test of the two new LaFrance engines was satisfactory, and this morning the board of safety ordered a voucher drawn for $5,819, payment in full for the old engines and part payment for the new. Mr. LaFrance has been here a week or more and may not leave for a few days to come.

The Dorcas society of Trinity English Lutheran church will picnic at Robison park tomorrow, if the weather permits. The party expects to start at 2 o'clock. This will be the closing meeting of the year and is generally devoted to pleasure instead of work.

HAWAII IN THE HOUSE

Grosvenor Tries to Give It the Inside Track.

Resolution to Allow It Precedence Defeated.

Johnson and Henderson Make Strong Protests.

Senator Mason Presents a Bill Extending the Postal Franking Privilege to the Soldiers.

WASHINGTON, June 8.—Today's session of the house began with a slightest burst of the annexation of Hawaii. The regular order pursuant to unanimous consent granted yesterday was the consideration of the conference report upon the sundry civil bill.

Mr. Smith (Rep. Mich.) demanded the regular order, but withdrew it temporarily to permit the consideration of a minor measure.

Mr. Grosvenor (Rep. Ohio), a leader of the annexationists, gained recognition and asked unanimous consent to read and have referred to the committee on rules a resolution providing for giving the Hawaiian resolution precedence over all other business except conference reports until disposed of.

"I will say to the gentleman," quickly interjected Mr. Henderson, republican, of Iowa, a member of the rules committee, "that it is entirely unnecessary to read or present to the house his resolution. He has only to deposit it with the clerk and it will be referred appropriately."

"I understand," responded Mr. Grosvenor, "but I want it made plain that the resolution has been introduced and sent to the committee."

"I object," cried Mr. Johnson, republican, of Indiana, and Mr. Smith, republican, of Michigan, renewed his demand for the regular order and the resolution was forced through the regular channel.

IN THE SENATE.

WASHINGTON, June 8.—Soon after the senate convened today Mr. Hale, of Maine, chairman of the naval affairs committee, reported favorably a bill to organize a hospital corps of the United States navy, to define its duties and regulate its pay. The bill passed.

Under the bill the pay of hospital stewards shall be $60 a month, hospital apprentices, first class, $30 a month and hospital apprentices $20 a month with the increase on account of length of service as is now or may hereafter be allowed by law to other enlisted men in the navy. The house provision that the application of the act be limited to the duration of the present war with Spain was eliminated from the bill.

Mr. Mason, of Illinois, reported from the committee on postoffices and post roads, a bill extending the franking privilege through the mails to the officers and men of the army and navy during the existing war, the privilege to extend only to first-class matter, each piece weighing not more than one ounce.

Mr. Platt, of Connecticut, regarded the measure as very sweeping in its provisions and while he desired, he said, to extend all proper privileges to American soldiers and sailors he could not let this bill go through without examination. On his objection the measure went over.

Mr. Quay, of Pennsylvania, resigned from the committee on commerce, and his colleague, Mr. Penrose, was appointed to fill the vacancy.

The senate concurred in the house amendment to the joint resolution directing the secretary of war to return to the state of Ohio flags of certain volunteer regiments of Ohio, the house amendment being also to return the flags of the Ono Hundred and Thirteenth New York volunteer infantry.

BUSY DAY AT THE WHITE HOUSE.

WASHINGTON, June 8.—Secretary Day was the first caller to greet the president today. He spent about half an hour with him. On leaving he said there were no important dispatches and no developments in the war situation. One story that was current during the day at the white house was that Captain Philip, of the battleship Texas, had been killed by a shell fired by the Spaniards in the recent bombardment. The president was in consultation with a senator when he received a press dispatch to that effect. He promptly handed over the dispatch to be read and remarked that "was nonsense" and that there was no reason to believe it to be true.

He cited Admiral Sampson's official dispatch announcing no casualties, and said if the report was to be given credence, he would have been wired immediately.

Throughout the forenoon there was a long line of callers. Practically all of them sought war appointments. Senators Lodge, Turpie, Fry and Fairbanks, Platt, Thurston and White were among the callers.

LIGHT UNIFORMS ORDERED.

Thirty Thousand Cotton Duck Suits Are to Be Sent to the Troops.

NEW YORK, June 8.—The award of the contract for the light-weight uniforms for the troops which are sweltering in the south in heavy woolen garments was made today.

The ever-pending delay has been due to various causes, the chief complication having resulted from the effort to substitute cotton duck for canvas. The result has been that the greater part of the suits will be made of cotton duck, which has been found superior to both of these and in some respects better than the imported Khaki cloth, which has been highly recommended.

The test to which the different materials, including canvas, drilling, Khaki cloth and duck, were submitted, showed conclusively that the duck was the best. It is stronger, more impervious to rain and more flexible than the others under the same tests. The result was a decision to order 30,000 suits of cotton duck, six and a half ounces to the yard in weight and of a brown color. To give a fair field test to cotton drilling there will be 2,000 suits of it ordered and put alongside the others.

The contract will call for the delivery of 5,000 suits a day within five days after the contract is made. As fast as made they will be sent to the troops, those farthest south getting them first.

LOGAN'S CAVALRY.

J. T. McElfatrick Receives a Letter From the Adjutant.

The Ranks of the Fort Wayne Company Has Been Increased From Twenty-Five to Forty.

J. T. McElfatrick this morning received a communication from J. B. Allison, first lieutenant and adjutant of Logan's volunteer cavalry, notifying him that the quota of the Fort Wayne company had been increased to forty and advised him to have several reserves. The officers of the regiment held a meeting June 4 and decided to urge the consolidation of organization and regimentation. The members of the several companies are also urged to be in readiness to report on short notice as Mr. Logan has received information from the United States authorities that as soon as the companies already enlisted are filled to their maximum there will be a call for more volunteers and the company's soonest ready to respond will be the ones enlisted. Mr. McElfatrick has thirty men now ready for duty and will increase them to forty as soon as possible.

LOCAL LINES.

The Young People's society of the Plymouth Congregational church will hold a social tomorrow evening. An interesting and unique program has been arranged.

The Waldhar league of St. Paul's Lutheran church last evening elected Herman Selmon, Walter Gerberding and George Dannenfelser delegates to the national meeting of the league which will be held in July in this city.

The marriage of Miss Alfretta Bowers, of New Haven, Ind., and Jerome Hathaway, of Cleveland, will occur tomorrow evening at the home of the bride's parents. Miss Bowers formerly lived in this city and has many friends here.

J. O. Brown has been awarded a contract to remodel the front of the Reynolds dry goods store. The plate glass in the show windows will be removed and after the columns are taken down new glass will be placed in the windows. In each of the windows there will be only one immense pane.

Rev. L. L. Benson will deliver an address at the annual convention of the Northern Indiana Baptist association, now in session at Elkhart. There are fifteen charges in this association, covering the northwestern corner of the state, and each is represented by the pastor and two delegates-at-large and one more delegate for every ten members.

At noon yesterday, at Huntington, occurred the death of William H. Cast, from a complication of diseases. Mr. Cast had been in poor health for a number of years and the result was not altogether unexpected. He was fifty-six years of age and had lived in Huntington many years. Until his health failed he was actively identified with the business interests of the city. Some years ago he was leader of the Emerson male quartet, a musical organization which was frequently heard in Fort Wayne. He leaves a wife. Mrs. Sylvester Dinius, of Fort Wayne, is a sister, and Mayor S. T. Cast, of Huntington, is a brother.

Jolly Pathfinders in "A Devil's Gold Mine."

THERE is prospect that the war revenue bill will become a law this week and congress thereafter will have to show cause for continuing in session.

THE optimism of Blanco is sublime. What a western boomer the Spanish commander would make!

IT is about time for the Hon. Marcus A. Hanna to come to the surface for air. His retirement from the public view has left a vast abyss of emptiness.

DEWEY sticks to his post in Manila bay like a grown-up Casabianca. He won't leave without orders and when he does he may not leave the town.

THAT affair at Manila has shown the people of America what the Spaniard considers a licking. He won't admit the worst of it until he is entirely wiped out. So far there have been only "Spanish victories" in Cuba.

THE Havana authorities, acting under the impulse of dire necessity, have decided to develop coal mines in Cuba. The presence of the despoils has been known for years, but no attempt has been made to turn them to account. This well illustrates the non-progressive character of Spanish rule in Cuba. The natural resources of the island have never been more than partly developed, and the unenterprising Spaniards have deliberately wasted their opportunities. When they are driven away Cuba should enjoy an era of prosperity unknown in her previous history.

THE wheat harvest has already begun in Texas and in states farther north the reapers will soon be hard at it. This year's crop is estimated by statisticians of repute at from 650,000,000 to 700,000,000 bushels. It is very evident that the farmers have freely followed the advice given them and have planted more wheat, for last year's crop amounted to only 530,000,000 bushels. The enormous increase would furnish a splendid bear card were it not for the war and the fact that Europe is still short. Even as it is there is some reason to look for a year of declining prices, in strong contrast to the year of advancing prices now closing.

THE torpedo boat, which gained such a high reputation during the Chinese-Japanese unpleasantness, may lose it during the present war. Many rate, it has done nothing yet to demonstrate its efficiency. The only vessel on the American side to be badly damaged since hostilities opened was a torpedo boat, while on the Spanish side the sunwing made is still worse. At the very outset the Spanish torpedo boats demonstrated their inability to make a long voyage, and even the torpedo boat destroyers have proved most disappointing. One of them was so disabled after the trip from the Cape Verdes that it was compelled to leave the fleet, while the other two failed utterly in the only attempt that they have made so far to attack American ships. Possibly the torpedo boats and torpedo boat destroyers will redeem themselves later on, but it does seem now as if they had been overrated.

ON MONDAY the fleet under Admiral Sampson engaged the forts that defend the water approaches to Santiago de Cuba and for several hours a terrific bombardment ensued. The result was the dismantling of the strongest defenses of the city and the silencing of the Spanish batteries. At the same time, under cover of American warships, a considerable military force was landed near Santiago. There is yet some hard fighting in prospect at Santiago and further bombardment will be necessary in order to effectually reduce the fortifications, but a good start has been made and the work will grow easier as it progresses. A large military expedition is now en route from Tampa to Santiago and it will make an assault on the landside in conjunction with the insurgents. The doom of Santiago is sealed and the destruction of the bottled fleet of Spain is assured. Immediately following the successful investment of Santiago will doubtless come an attack on San Juan and occupation of Porto Rico. After that Havana will be given attention. The Cuban capital presents the hardest problem of the Cuban campaign, but it cannot long hold out against a combined attack of the American fleets and the army. The campaign is moving along with a vigor it has not heretofore been given and a speedy ending of the war will be the result—if the administration does not get another fit of compunction against fighting.

Poorly Rewarded Services.

It will probably surprise many persons to be told by "Ex-Attache" in the New York Tribune that the late William E. Gladstone, who has just been buried in Westminster Abbey, London, amid almost unexampled demonstrations of national sorrow and affection, spent the greater part of his public career, extending over threescore years, in monetary difficulties of so acute a character that he was forced by the precarious condition of his finances to dispose of his celebrated collection of porcelain and pottery, his much cherished library, as well as his town house." The statement is added that the eventide of the famous British statesman's life was made free from anxieties of this character through the kindness and generosity of his brother-in-law, the late Sir Stephen Glynne, who left him the use for life of his castle and estate of Hawarden.

"Ex-Attache," who has from time to time shown intimate knowledge of European affairs, says further that "Mr. Gladstone's principal rival, the late Lord Beaconsfield, died heavily in debt and was only preserved from premature political extinction by his marriage with that wealthy widow whose kindness of heart and devotion to her husband atoned for her lack of comeliness, for her vulgarity and downright stupidity." These facts are referred to as proving that public life in England is not a source of revenue and emolument. Numerous other instances are cited and it is shown that such service is no longer possible except to rich men. This is conspicuously illustrated in the house of commons, the members of which receive no pay. Consequently it has come to be the case that only men with large incomes will enter parliament or assume the onerous financial burdens which are involved. A body which is composed wholly of the wealthy and leisured class certainly cannot with propriety be called representative, and it is not surprising that there is a movement on foot to pay members of the British house of commons, much after the manner of compensating American congressmen. The United States system may have its defects, but it also seems to have some merits which are attracting the attention of British statesmen.

The rewards of public life surely are not well distributed when a statesman like Gladstone, whose inestimable services to Great Britain entitled him to the highest honors and rewards, is saved from financial distress only by the generosity of friends and relatives.

BURNED WITH GAS.

An Explosion Slightly Injures Two Employes at the New Court Ho. Sts.

George McGuire and Edward Redding were badly burned while at work on the new court house yesterday. They tried to ignite the gas in the furnace and it wouldn't burn on the first attempt. Another piece of paper was thrown into the furnace and there was an explosion, flames shooting from the doors and burning both the men about the face. Dr. Dinnen dressed the burns, which are not considered dangerous. Charles Martin, another employe at the court house, had one of his hands badly mashed, and three fingers were amputated.

Wesley Johnson, of Eel River township, went to Chickamauga yesterday to visit his son who is a soldier in camp there, and who has written to his friends at home that he is home sick. Mr. Johnson was once a soldier and he remarked that he knew what it was to be home sick, for he had spent three months in Libby prison.

TOLEDO WON AGAIN.

The Mud Hens are Determined to Even Up Old Scores.

Kilen Made a Terrific Home Run--Spring-field, Mansfield and Youngstown Ran Other Winners.

The Mud Hens won another game from the Fort Waynes yesterday, when a lucky hit might have registered the game on the won side of the per centage column. Several times there were men on bases and a hit meant runs, but the hit wasn't made and the runs didn't come. The feature of the game was a terrific home run hit by Kilen. He landed on one of Mr. Ewing's curves with so much force that the ball alighted on the roof of the armory, a hit which was equalled only once before, Lew Whistler having batted the ball over the armory. The game was close and exciting enough, but Fort Wayne had to be on the losing end of the score. The same teams play today, then the Fort Waynes go to Grand Rapids for four games. Score:

NOTES.

Mansfield has released Pitcher Emig.

Pitcher Campbell, of Grand Rapids, has been sent home. He is taking treatment for his arm. The ligaments of his pitching wing seem to be in a hard knot, and unless that knot can be untied his days of usefulness in the box this season are over.

Toledo Commercial: "The Fort Wayne team is a nice lot of gentlemen. There was an absence of kicking and wrangling that was refreshing to the crowd. Eddie O'Meara played second base, as Sharp is out of the team, and he did very well."

Grand Rapids Press: "Grand Rapids is supporting her ball team better than any town in the Interstate league. This is the verdict of the management on the present trip. The attendance in Ohio is something fearful. Home towns are going down in their cash boxes continually to make good the guarantees."

State Journal: "Will wonders never cease? The Detroit team has signed Peck Sharp to play second base, and he will join the Tigers in Kansas city, if he does not miss a train or get off at Bonaparte, Iowa, to see his pa, who runs the hotel in that town. Sharp was released by the Columbus team in 1896 on account of failure to keep in condition, and the following year he bobbed up as second baseman of the Dubuque club in the Western association. His release soon followed and Uncle Peck drifted to the Fort Wayne team of the Interstate league, where he finished the season of 1897 and has been playing this year. A deal of some kind was made by Van Dor Beck, who secured the release of Sharp from Fort Wayne. Sharp is a comedian of an original type, a rocking good hitter and a fair fielder in his position, and if he cuts out the extract of malt, keeps good hours and takes care of himself, he is of far more value to a team than several Western league second basemen."

NOW GET YOUR GUNS.

There will be a base ball game that is a base ball game at Lakeside park Sunday when the Leos and the Fat Elks meet in deadly combat. It is not announced at what hour the game will commence but probably as soon as "Old Sol" looks over the horizon in the morning the Elks athletes will commence to prance about the diamond so that at least five innings may be completed by sundown. Curiosity seekers will be compelled to keep hands off, but anybody will be entitled to take a glimpse of the pretty fellows in tights and knickerbockers. There will be plenty of men to fill up the gaps which may appear in the mine during the day. The Leos will be made up as follows: Catcher, Ogden Pierce; pitcher, Will Peltier; first base, Louis Geib; second base and captain, Frank Mohr; third base, Joseph Freiburger; short stop, Joe Schwartzkopf; left garden, Leo Ivans; right garden, Frank Caley; center garden, W. W. Wagoner; bench, Louis Centilivre, Chas. Centliver, Russ Ytberg, Von Goetz, M. V. Walsh, Sid Hubbard, Harry Pickard; water boy, Cooney Bayer; umpire, A. C. Altier.

The Fats are as follows: Catcher, Henry Taylor; pitcher, Dave Eckert; first base, Abe (Shiny) slinsky; second base and captain, F. E. Patt; cent; third base, William Urbahns; short stop, Fred Beach; left garden, John Mohr; center garden, Bide Barnett; right garden, George Olmock (who agrees not to make a speech); bench, Patrick Kane, Phil Rapp, John Reuss, Ben Lehman, Andrew Glutting, Byron Hattersley; surgeons, Dr. G. C. Stoneen, Dr. McOscar; water boy, Murray Hartsett.

Al Jaxtheimer, F. E. Parcell and Frank Mohr are making the arrangements for the game and promise there will be something on third base that every batter will relish.

THE COUNTY WINS.

Circuit Court Jury Decides Against Water Power Co.

A Verdict of $1,100.40 for Allen County Commissioners—Sheriff Dunn Takes Horse Thief.

The county commissioners have won their case against the Fort Wayne Water Power company. The case was on trial three days before Judge O'Rourke and a jury and last evening arguments were completed and the jury retired with instructions to returned a sealed verdict. This verdict, when opened this morning, was a finding in favor of the full amount of the claim, with interest. It is possible an appeal will be taken. On a previous trial Judge O'Rourke decided in favor of the Water Power company, but the supreme court reversed the finding and sent the case back for rehearing with the above result.

TAKEN TO PERU.

H. T. Proback arrived in Fort Wayne last evening and identified his stolen colt. Later he started to ride it back to Peru. Sheriff Dunn, of Miami county, also came to the city last evening and at 6:30 left for Peru with Isaiah Hipshire, the old fellow who stole the colt. He is certain to serve a term in prison.

COURT NOTES.

Seven criminals now confined in the county jail were this morning taken to the city building where Photographer Miner took their pictures for the rogue's gallery.

James Noecker, who has been held in jail on a paternity charge, was released yesterday by order of Judge O'Rourke.

The case of Henry Schelz against the city was stricken from the circuit court docket yesterday.

Henry L. Eloy has begun action for a divorce from Minnie A. Eloy. Colerick & France are attorneys.

Lucretia Green has qualified as guardian of Minnie May Green.

LADIES' AID SOCIETY.

An Interesting Meeting Held Last Evening—Dyke Eisher's Report.

Ladies Aid society No. 12, held a very important meeting last evening. Dyke Fisher, the delegate to the convention May 18 and 19, handed in her report and the suggestions offered at the state convention and adopted were found very helpful for the year's work. After the business session there followed short talks by Comrades Dougall, Griswold and Bricker. The society is in a prosperous condition. Captain Dougall presented the society with a beautiful song book of the national airs. The national convention will convene at Omaha, Neb., in September, and the Indiana division will be represented by Miss Nellie Ried, of this city, as a delegate at-large.

HOOLEY BANKRUPT.

Promoter of the Dunlop Tire Deal Has Gone Broke.

Was Britain's Greatest Financial Promoter and Was Thought to be Worth Many Millions.

LONDON, June 8.—A receiving order in bankruptcy has been issued against Ernest Terke Hooley, for years prominent as the biggest company promoter in this country, prominently interested in bicycles, land and other concerns, and who was supposed to be a multi-millionaire.

Mr. Hooley reached the pinacle of prominence in 1895 when he promoted the Dunlop Tire company and was supposed to have cleared $12,500,000 by that deal alone. He has since been identified with the promotion of the Bovril company and with many bicycle companies. It is understood that not any of the latter was profitable to the stock holders.

In the meanwhile, however, Mr. Hooley lived a sort of Monte Cristo existence, bought yachts and race horses and numerous historic country seats. In January of the present year Mr. Hooley purchased the racing center Britannia, formerly the property of the prince of Wales, from John Lawson Johnstone. During 1895 he purchased the schooner yacht Verona from the earl of Lonsdale. Mr. Hooley is a member of a number of yacht clubs.

For months past financiers have predicted that Mr. Hooley was in deep water.

OIL CAN EXPLODED.

Three Children Meet a Frightful Death in Allegheny.

PITTSBURG, Pa., June 8.—Three children met death in a frightful manner last evening in Allegheny. By the explosion of a can of oil their clothing was ignited and the children burned so terribly that they died in a short time.

The victims were Ella, Edith and Harville Watts, children of Charles Watts, of Ferney's Hill, near Woods Run avenue, aged eleven and seven years and four months respectively.

The eldest child proved herself a heroine, for with the flames roasting her body, she tried to carry her baby brother to a place of safety. Mrs. Watts was also burned in trying to save her children.

The children were playing in an out-house in the yard and one of them struck a match. In the same room was a large can containing two gallons of oil.

When the match was thrown down it dropped into the can, and the explosion followed instantly.

ALLEGED PILOT A SPY.

Harvard Brings Prisoner, From Kingston Who is Too Inquisitive.

FORT MONROE, Va., June 8.—The auxiliary cruiser Harvard arrived at Hampton roads at 4:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon with a Spanish prisoner on board. He is believed to be a spy. The man was sent to Commodore Sobley last week by Mr. Dent, American consul at Kingston, Jamaica. Consul Dent sent the man with information that he was a pilot, thoroughly conversant with the harbor of Santiago.

The so-called pilot was allowed to board the St. Paul at the consul's suggestion and was taken to the flagship Brooklyn. He had no sooner boarded the vessel than he began to ask questions about the warships off Santiago. His actions at once aroused the suspicions of Commodore Sobley.

CASE OF MALINGERING.

Private Shoots Off His Finger to Avoid War Service.

ATLANTA, Ga., June 8.—Private Mays, company A, Eleventh United States infantry, has presented the first instance of malingering in the present war. Mays was stationed at Mobile and May 10 went to his commander, exhibited a bloody stump of a finger and declared that he had shot it off accidentally.

He was tried by court martial, convicted of mutilating his own body for the purpose of avoiding active service and sentenced to two years' imprisonment.

He arrived at McPherson barracks Sunday to begin his term. Up to that time he had strenuously denied his guilt, but now he has confessed to an old comrade whom he met at the post that the wounding was intentional, as he did not care to expose himself to Spanish shot and shell.

SPIES MUST LEAVE CANADA.

Colonial Secretary Chamberlain Sends an Order Against Them.

OTTAWA, Ont., June 8.—The official notification from the British government that Lieutenant Carranza and Mr. DuBosc must get out of Canada, has reached the government, and it is now under discussion. The order came from Right Hon. Joseph Chamberlain, the colonial secretary, to the governor general, and was by the governor general transmitted to the cabinet.

MONUMENT TO GLADSTONE.

Queen Victoria Announces Her Intention of Honoring the Statesman.

LONDON, June 8.—In the house of commons a message from Queen Victoria was read announcing her majesty's intention to direct the erection of a monument to the late William E. Gladstone in Westminster abbey, in accordance with the wishes expressed in the address of the house of commons to the queen.

READY FOR A BOND ISSUE.

Treasury Department Prepares to Invite Bids When Authorized.

WASHINGTON, June 8.—Preparations are substantially complete at the treasury department to invite offers for the bonds for carrying on the Spanish war as soon as the bonds are authorized by congress. There will be no delay in issuing a circular stating the terms under which the bonds are offered and inviting bids at par. Envelopes have already been prepared, addressed to every national bank, to the postmaster at every money order office and to the representatives of certain express companies who have offered to aid in the placing of the loan.

The circulars announcing the loan will be placed in these envelopes and dispatched as soon as the exact terms of the act of congress are known. It is the present intention to offer $200,000,000 in bonds at once, reserving the right to issue an additional $100,000,000 under the proposals of the minority of the finance committee, in case an additional issue become necessary.

Thirty days will probably be given for receiving bids before the loan is allotted. Allotments will be made at once, however, for the full amount of all bids for $1,000. It is not anticipated that these will reach a sufficient amount to absorb the whole loan, but it is desired to give the preference to the small bidders

He Caught Nine Asleep, but Never Could Tell How He Got the Other.

"No, young man, I can't tell you nothin, not but there's things enough happened along the Delaware, an, for that matter, right here in Californoo, to fill a hundred little books chock full, but I ain't no composer. But I wish to land you'd come 'round before Jabe Cook died. He could a 'commodated you with as many yarns as you could shake a stick at. True ones! Of course. Jabe won't no great hand on lyin—not ginerally. He ferried here for—oh, I don't know how long. Begun when I was a boy. Run a small boat, an when there was teams or many people look them over in a big scow.

"There ain't nearly any heft of work 'bout runnin a scow. Jabe wouldn't a-took to it if there had been, for he was a sort of lazy cuss—didn't hanker after work. When you pole out an git pinted right, the scow'll run itself, an then there's time for swappin horses an talkin. That's where Jabe's talent come in—on talkin. He could talk a blue streak—beat the bull shootin match at it. It beat all how much he knowed about everybody for miles round. An when he begun on one o' his stories he was bound to go through with it. Never knowed him to leave a story half way but once.

"One day a passel of us young chaps had been up Hollister hreek fishin. When we got back to the ferry, Jabe wan't to be seen, an we set down on the beach to wait for him to come an take us across the river. We'd been settin quite a spell, when all of a sudden we heard him shoutin an callin to us. He was comin from an old stone quarry, an I swan if the feller didn't have a live rattlesnake in each hand. We were fast enough 'bout runnin to meet him, but a little skittish 'bout gittin very clost to the snakes, until we were sure he had each one gripped clost enough to the head so's it couldn't turn to bite. It's safe enough carryin rattlers that way—if you hold on tight. The day was hot an Jake was that excited he fairly stuttered a-tryin to tell us how he kotched the snakes an 'the way we slung questions at him didn't help to cool him down none. A city chap, he said, had promised him $5 an a good jack-knife for a live rattler. He'd kinder calkerlated on findin one that day because all the signs were 'bout right for their doin out.

"'Say,' interrupted Si Brown, 'ain't you gittin to know 'most too much 'bout rattlers?'

"'You'll know more about manners when you're growed up,' was Jabe's answer. This was a cock-dologer on Si, for, though he was nigh on to 40, he was a little cuss.

"'Well,' Jabe's story was awful long, for he'd had rather a rough an tumble sort of a hunt, but the upshot of it all was he found the first rattler asleep behind a holler log, an, said he, 'I crept up as still's a cat after a mouse, an reached over my forked stick an nabbed him.' An astin his notions to his words, Jabe brought his right hand over—brought it over too near the left. Quicker'n you could say 'Jack Robinson,' the left hand snake stuck his fangs into Jabe's right hand, an the right hand snake did the same for his left hand.

"Jabe's yells, which was enough to wake the dead, an the general thrashin 'round of arms an snakes, scart us boys till every one of us went lickety split up the river bank. We went back when the snakes were gone an helped Jabe home. Stran for the doctor, an I was soon a-legin it up the road after whisky.

"No, Jabe didn't die, though he come within an ace of it. He felt awfully cut up 'bout the hull business an to this day we don't know how he kotched 'that other snake."
—New York Sun.

Children's Feelings.

Dr. Gould cited some peculiar instances of personification of objects by children and of devotion to them so intense as to amount almost to worship. Two small girls made a special pet of a stone, to which they gave the name Tom. Others, becoming interested in all mica through affection for one small, white mouse, formed themselves into a secret society for the protection of the creatures which are usually the detestation of all womankind. Other instances were given of children who cherished particular affection for special pillows or blankets, who even had pet names for them and who refused to be comforted if separated from the beloved object.—Lecture Before Baltimore Folklore Society.

Nose In Stock.

"I have been in the business 40 years," said the floorwalker, "but I don't know it all yet. You saw that young woman with the green hair?

"Yes," replied the ribbon clerk.

"She came up to me and asked if we had any nice house gowns especially suitable for wearing when one was looking for burglars."—Cincinnati Enquirer.

BRAKEMAN SHOT.

Al. Baldwin Tries to Kill Him at Toledo.

First Sent a Bullet Half Through the Man's Body and Then Filled Him With Hard Shot.

Mrs. Richard Kelley, of 73 Hoagland avenue, was summoned to Toledo yesterday by a telegram which stated that her husband, a brakeman on the Wabash road, had been injured. The message contained no particulars and it was supposed that the brakeman had met with an accident while in the performance of his train duties. But such was not the case, as will be seen in the following extract from the Toledo Bee of last evening:

"Al. Baldwin, of the Wabash hotel, at the foot of Summer street, is under arrest on a charge of shooting one Richard Kelley, a brakeman, with intent to wound. The shooting occurred about 11:30 last night during a row at the house and immediately Baldwin came down to the police station and made a report of the affair, giving himself up a prisoner. He was sent back with two officers to make an investigation. The officers found that Kelley had been twice shot, once in the side with a revolver and once in the back and hips with a shotgun. Dr. Lawless had been summoned and decided that neither of the wounds were dangerous. Kelley was removed to St. Vincent hospital and Baldwin was brought back to the station for the night. He will probably be liberated on bail.

"His version of the trouble as told to a Bee this morning is that hoand an ex-engineer, C. Hubbard, had some trouble early in the evening and he punched Hubbard. Kelly, according to Baldwin's story, rather took the matter up and there was a good deal of quarreling between the two men all night. Finally about 11 o'clock Baldwin closed the hotel. A moment afterwards he stepped outside the door. He says that as he did so Kelly rushed at him. Baldwin had a gun in his coat pocket which he always takes up stairs with him at night and he drew this. In the scuffle it went off and Kelly was slightly wounded in the side. Kelly then got the gun, and, as Baldwin avers, snapped it at him several times. Baldwin says he ran into the house, Kelly following him with the revolver. Baldwin grabbed a shotgun which stood in the hall and as Kelly turned to run back fired, putting the charge into Kelly's legs and back. The latter is resting easy at the hospital this morning and his condition is not considered at all serious."

Al Baldwin formerly resided in Fort Wayne. He was for many years employed on the Wabash road; first as an engineer and later as a conductor. He was one of the men let out during the American Railway union strike, and since that time has conducted a boarding house in Toledo, his chief patrons being railway men. The story told here of the shooting differs from that published in the Bee, inasmuch as it lays the blame entirely upon Baldwin. Kelly made an effort to hurt the old man in the scuffle, his object being to take the revolver from Baldwin. He succeeded in this, but not until he had been shot. The ball entered the hips and passed through the body, but did not touch any of the vital organs. When the revolver was taken from Baldwin, he ran up stairs and soon returned with a shotgun. This he leveled at Kelley and sent a charge of bird shot into his back and hips. The matter was kept as quiet as possible, nobody here knowing anything of the shooting until last evening. Kelley, the unfortunate brakeman, bears an estimable reputation for sobriety and good behavior and his friends in Fort Wayne will be surprised to hear of him being wounded in a fight.

A HALF HOLIDAY.

Until October the Bass offices will not be open Saturday afternoons and the men therein employed will be free to spend the half holiday as best suits themselves. This is a practice that could well be emulated by other establishments in the city. The men effected appreciate it and show their gratitude by giving better service, if such a thing is possible, during the hours they are on duty. Mr. Bass has always shown due consideration of the rights of his employes and it is to this fact probably that there is always many applications when it is known there is to be a vacancy in any department of the great works. It is said that there has never been a strike at the Bass works.

A PERMANENT SCHOOL.

The Fort Wayne school of instruction for engine men in the employ of the Pennsylvania company, which was inaugurated by Road Foreman J. M. Lindley, of the Vandalia, is to be a permanent thing. This morning a car in which to hold the meetings was placed in one of the courts at the shops and it will be equipped with all the necessary apparatus for illustrating subjects which have a bearing upon the trade. The air brake car will also remain here, a part of the school's equipment, and will be presided over by Capt. H. M. Diehl. The school will be under the supervision of Louis Kinnaird, who will call to his assistance at various times Frank Crawford, Dr. Drayer and other gentlemen qualified for work of that character. For several weeks the school met in the carpenter shop.

THE FOUR RATS.

A shopman told his wife, on awakening one morning, a curious dream which he had during the night. He dreamed that he saw coming toward him, in order, four rats. The first one was very fat, and was followed by two lean rats, the rear rat being blind. The dreamer was greatly perplexed as to what evil might follow, as it has been understood that to dream of rats denotes calamity. He appealed to his wife concerning this; but she, poor woman, could not help him. His son, who heard his father tell the story, volunteered to be the interpreter. "The fat rat," he said, "is the man who keeps the saloon you go to so often, the two lean rats are my mother and me, and the blind rat, father, is yourself."

The employes of the Bass works have ordered the largest and most expensive flag ever brought to Fort Wayne. It will measure 26x40 feet and will be floated from a handsome pole erected on the machine shop building. The Kerr Murray employes will also purchase a flag and will endeavor to get one still larger than the banner ordered by the Bass employes.

KLONDIKE RATES SLASHED.

A big cut in Klondike rates was announced yesterday by the West Shore and the Nickel Plate railroads. These roads have put in force a new through second-class passenger rate of $25 from New York to Seattle, as against a previous rate of $68.75. This is the first time the Vanderbilt roads have taken part in the Northwestern passenger rate war which the Canadian Pacific began.

TALK OF LIGHT.

National Electric Light Association in Session.

President Insull's Annual Address—Favors Municipal Control of Electric Lighting.

Chicago, June 8.—The twenty-first convention of the National Electric Light association, commenced a three days' session at the Auditorium today. After a meeting of the executive committee, President Samuel Insull, of the Chicago Edison company, delivered his annual address.

President Insull pointed out that American manufacturing methods, by standardizing machinery, tools and products, resulted in economies that permitted the sale of American made apparatus throughout the world in competition with apparatus produced at a labor cost on wage very much lower than the pay of American workmen.

On the other hand American standardizing manufacturing methods decreased the cost and increased the efficiency of the apparatus used by those engaged in the manufacture and a sale of electricity to a degree that enabled central station managers to do a profitable business on a scale of prices that has decreased with rapidity unknown in any other industry.

A most searching investigation was made to determine how small a profit it was safe to exact from each customer. Mr. Insull showed that the determination of a fair price that would encourage the use of electricity and make a reasonable profit for the station, must apportion the cost in such a way as to induce the largest possible use and for all practical purposes.

It was a sound proposition, he said, that profits were limited by advantages given; therefore, each service should bear only its fair portion of cost. This would give to each its full share of advantage.

The discussion of cost and price, he said, led naturally to the consideration of legislative control of electrical central station competencies. He contended that reliance upon competition as a regulator of prices had always been, and in the nature of the business, must always be a failure. He agreed with those who demand legislative control of these monopolies. He said there should be one organization in a municipality, its products to be sold on the basis of cost plus a reasonable profit and its property and franchises taxed as much as users were willing to pay in their service bills, and when it was thought desirable that the industry should be operated by the municipality, let the franchises provide for the taking of the plant, and this put the municipality in a position to serve all users to the best advantage.

By settling many vexatious questions on these lines the bad effects of much ill-advised legislation could be maintained, be speedily overcome and benefit in proportion to the stability of the business will be realized by public and private users. Summarized, his position was embodied in these two sentences:

"First, franchises granted public service corporations should secure them the same degree of protection in their rights to their property as it enjoyed by other investments.

"Second, public control of charges for service based on cost, plus a reasonable profit and eliminating the factor of competition, is the proper safeguard for the interests of users, taxpayers and investors."

Calvin R. Rice, of Brooklyn, read a paper on "Cost of Generation and Distribution of a Unit of Electricity."

Following this paper, there was a general discussion of "Prices and Discounts for Electric Current and Methods of Billing Current to Customers." Among the notable visitors to the convention is Professor Fujie, the principal authority on electric lighting in Japan.

SWEDENBORGIANS.

General Convention of the New Jerusalem Church Meets in Cleveland.

Cleveland, Ohio, June 8.—The seventy-eighth session of the general convention of the New Jerusalem church (Swedenborgians) of the United States of America began here today. Delegates are present from nearly all parts of the country, as well as several from foreign lands.

The first five days of the convention will be devoted to the council of ministers, after which the work of the general convention will be taken up. The session today was largely of a preliminary nature, the first business session not being held until tomorrow.

The convention promises to be one of the most successful in the history of the church.

A ROCK ON THE TRACK.

Baltimore and Ohio Train Derailed and Engineer Killed.

Cairo, W. Va., June 8.—The east-bound passenger train No. 4, on the Baltimore and Ohio road, due here at 8 a. m., was derailed a quarter of a mile west of here last night. Engineer Hanway was fatally injured, Fireman Griffith slightly and two tramps, Dan Reardon and Thomas Perts, had broken legs. No passengers were hurt.

The derailment was caused by a rock being placed on the track.

Milwaukee Coal Heavers Strike.

Milwaukee, Wis., June 8.—About 200 coal heavers employed along the docks in Milwaukee have gone on a strike for an advance of one cent per ton for unloading coal. As a result twelve boats laden with coal are tied up, with the prospect of remaining so for several days.

ORGANIZE A BALL CLUB.

The Battery Boys Win a Ten Inning Game From the Zenex Bic Club.

Chewalmeda Park, June 6, '98.

The Fort Wayne battery has organized a base ball club as follows:

Corporal Chas. C. Mungen, captain and first base; Al. Howitt, second; F. Barr, third; J. Smith, left field; R. Brannan, center field; Corporal Vodermark, right field and pitcher; Christ Weller, short stop; George Wilcox, catcher; F. Hendrix, pitcher; Meyers, pitcher; Gumpper, pitcher; Knoll, third base.

The battery had a ten inning game with Battery C, of Zanesville, Ohio, last Thursday afternoon, defeating them by a score of 12 to 7, amid the cheers of all the batteries camped here.

Corporal Mungen was absent from roll call Saturday night, and came in after all was over. When questioned as to where he was he replied that he had corralled a pie wagon and at once took his section to bring in the prize. They have been eating pie ever since.

Private Kid Smith has been appointed rubber for all the base ball players, and says he is stuck on his job.

The boys are getting disgruntled at the cigar men of Fort Wayne. The batteries on each side of us receive good home-made cigars every week, while we have to smoke Georgia weeds or go without. We don't want the earth, but just a little remembrance.

The friends of Lieutenant Cleary had better toll him to ring off on his old, old plea. From

One of the Battery E Boys.

A TASTE FOR READING.

Benefits Derived From a Fondness for Good Literature.

Ask any hostess of your acquaintance what type of guest she has found the hardest to entertain during a protracted visit and she will answer, "The woman who never reads," says a writer in the Philadelphia Inquirer.

Probably you know her yourself. She slips into your guestroom some day, with the promising assurance: "Now, I don't want to be made company of. Just let me be one of the family and look out for myself."

You are a busy woman, and you congratulate yourself that your hospitality is to be extended to one of your sex who is capable of making her stay something besides a nervous strain on the part of yourself as hostess and your household in general.

You have fitted up that guestroom of yours with especial reference to the hoped for bookish tastes of its occupants. There is a goodly assortment of current literature scattered about. Being a reader yourself, you can imagine nothing more delightsome than an opportunity for cozy companionship with the latest magazine or novel.

You delicately allude to your thoughtfulness in providing the, to you, literary feasts, and suggest to your guest that she take her pick of all that the family library contains and then—well, then comes the disillusionment.

Never while that woman is in your house do you catch her with a book or paper in her hand. Days when you run short of amusements for her she wanders aimlessly about from room to room, is plainly dependent over bad weather and sets all your hospitable instincts on edge by the ill concealed fact that she is bored.

"Oh," you sigh, "if she would only read! Just to see her 15 minutes of the day with her eyes fastened interestedly upon some bit of printed matter!"

A taste for reading may be as surely cultivated as any other taste, and a healthy appetite for good literature is as necessary for mental nourishment as good food is for physical well being.

To get right at the root of the matter, the reading habit needs to be cultivated in the nursery. As soon as children are able to pick out the words in their primers they should be taught to consider that more enjoyment is to be found between the covers of a book than among all the toys and gimcracks that clutter up the playroom. No need to make bookworms of them, but a useful mother may implant the reading idea into the juvenile mind and so carefully nurture it that in after years it will bear intellectual fruits of incalculable benefit.

Laziness is usually the foundation for the childish request, "Please read to me," provided the youthful petitioner is able to read to himself. The same obliging grandmother or gentle aunt who is always ready to do the thoughtless bidding in this direction is also responsible for the fad of spinning nursery yarns to listeners who are old enough and schooled enough to call their own tales from books.

When there is no personal application on the child's part, how can there be any mental stimulus? No wonder we find so many insipid, vacillating minds among grown ups when we remember how little thought concentration is exacted from the average child.

There would be fewer restless men and certainly fewer discontented women if the reading habit were made a feature of nursery training.

Fortunate is the man or woman who has discovered in books that world which will widen the most contracted sphere and glorify the most commonplace existence.

The Donnelly Cipher.

Ignatius Donnelly discovers in the inscription on Shakespeare's tomb a cryptogram which reads, "Francis Bacon wrote the Green, Marlowe and Shakespeare's plays." He goes even further and suggests that Bacon wrote "Don Quixote." Perhaps he is right. Every body remembers, says the Boston Pilot, the philologist who derived the word "restaurant" from two Latin roots, res, a thing, and taurus, a bull; ergo, restaurant, "a bully thing." There is also the case of the scholar who found the origin of the English word "ing" in the Latin "equus," a horse; whence came the adjective "equine;" whence, omitting the "equi," and changing the final "e" into "ng," "for the sake of euphony," came the colloquial form "ing." But then for we have no proof that Francis Bacon was the author of "Marching Through Georgia."

Dubiously Fond.

"Dobson's wife seems to be an indulgent woman."

"Indulgent! She is the kind of woman that will tell him she sees a street car coming whether she does or not, just because she knows he wants one."—Detroit Free Press.

Heart Photography.

"Say," exclaimed little Willie, suddenly breaking a long silence and turning to his mother, "is there such a thing as a photographic heart?"

"Why, what do you mean, Willie?" asked his mother in surprise.

"Well, I heard Chub Jones who was here last night tell sister Sue that her features were photographed on his heart," explained the boy, "and, judging from the way he was holding her, I should think they ought to have been."—Chicago Post.

The Theory and the Fact.

Good Minister—I don't see how I am to get through my sermon today. It's almost church time.

"It is about the wise and foolish virgins."

"But you were writing at that sermon last night. Why didn't you finish it?"

"I couldn't. The lamp went out."—New York Weekly.

Recovering French Treasure.

For many years a local legend in Frankfort-on-the-Main had it that the treasure of gold lay buried in the Main river just beneath the big old bridge. On moonlight nights, it was said, one could see the gold glisten in the water. Recently the fact became patent that there must be a foundation for this old tradition, for skippers steadily fished up gold pieces from the river bed in the vicinity named. At last the Prussian government made a thorough investigation, and within a week one treasure at least was brought to light—about 1,500 French gold coins of the times from Louis XIV. to Louis XVIII. as well as of the first republic. This is evidently part of a French war treasure lost or buried there during the troublesome Napoleonic period.

Nine Generations.

Mrs. Sallie Slaton, of Acree, Ga., now 96 years old, has, according to a local paper, 225 children, grandchildren, great-grandchildren and great-great-grandchildren, and in addition to this formidable number, seventy-five have died. Therefore, the total reaches the remarkable sum of 310. There are seven children, the eldest of whom is 70 and the youngest 42, and none of them have ever figured in a case at court.—Tribune.

No Flattery Accepted.

De Mille—"If there is one thing I detest, it is flattery." Mensley—"That's so! As I was saying to Snigleton the other day: De Mille is generous to a fault, but he cannot stand flattery." De Mille—"By the bye, Mensley, I'll just draw you a check for that little account. No thanks, my dear fellow."—Truth.

The Only Thing Needed

From the List of Dangerous Diseases is the Education of the People.

Ever since the discovery that catarrh, bronchitis, pneumonia and consumption were purely local diseases, and by inhalation of medicine in the form of vapor, the seat of the disease is reached the whole world have been all their energies to finding some method of applying by this means liquid and dry medicines to the head and throat. Now they have succeeded to that extent that a glance at the reports published by the different boards of health of all the large cities in the country, which show not only a great decrease in the number of deaths yearly from these diseases, but a startling growth in the number of persons cured. This fact alone is a conclusive evidence of the extraordinary curative power and the great interest to mean a lack of ability on the part of the medical profession to cure these diseases, but many remedies which would kill these germs, but could not be applied to the parts affected by any ordinary means, other than the discovery of "Hyomei," a breathable balm of eucalyptol, pure as it exists in the healthiest forest regions of the Australian continent. Hyomei is breathed by the patient, yet finds its way to the head and throat, and one of mild application to the most delicate child. It is not a drug, but a remedy that simply began to test the efficacy of this new remedy, and they, after two years' trial, found that in over 1,000 cases there was none, even when pronounced incurable by physicians, that Hyomei, the Australian Dry Air Cure, in the only treatment by which it was not completely cured. The extraordinary record can be reached and cured.

Further space, it is claimed that in those who are predisposed to catarrh and consumption, if the doors and windows are not left open their children in the use of "Hyomei," and the next generation will be freed from those dread diseases. If you'd more, you can write to the company for their book, which proves these claims from the lips of thousands and has reached the people the value of "Hyomei."

Those gentlemen sent down to the office several boxes of the finest strawberries ever seen in Fort Wayne and we are informed that they are only a fair sample of the berries they are daily serving to their patrons. The smallest berry in the baskets was as large as a walnut and many of them were nearly as large as hens' eggs.

NO PINKERTONS.

Chicago Detective Agency Not Employed to Hunt Down Spanish Spies.

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 8.—In reference to repeated assertions that William A. Pinkerton, of Chicago, had been to Washington, to confer with the war and navy departments, in reference to spies in this country, it is authoritatively stated at the treasury department that Mr. Pinkerton received no such call as has been reported. He visited Washington principally for the purpose, it is said, of assuring the various heads of departments that his agency was not engaged in working for Spain.

The fact that his people had been employed to make investigations in connection with the filibustering expeditions before the present war broke out, and the necessarily intimate relations that had existed between the agency and the Spanish representatives in this country, led to a belief in some directions that he had continued in the Spanish employ after hostilities began, and it was for the purpose of explaining the exact attitude of his agency, and of expressing his loyalty to the government, it is said, that Mr. Pinkerton came to Washington.

The employment of the Pinkertons to do any work in this connection, it is said, has never been thought of, inasmuch as its own secret service, under the direction of Mr. Wilkie, is doing excellent work, and further that there is a legal bar to such employment.

Have you seen that blue madras shirt at Patterson's?

The Epworth league of Wayne street M. E. church held a very enjoyable lawn social last evening.

A Startling Statement.

A pastor, listening to the outline of a sermon based upon the dying thief, took a card from his pocket, and wrote this sentence which had impressed him, "He was a dying thief, you are a living thief." The next day he called upon the Methodist minister, and, finding him absent, left his card. Imagine his horror when he discovered that he had left that card with the successive sensation upon its back. It naturally required some little circumlocution and diplomacy to "untrain" the relations thus put into a state of dangerous tension by this apparently De Lome-like card.

See the new summer neckwear at Patterson's.

Cracks in Stoves.

Cracks in cast-iron stoves may be effectively closed up and cemented by the use of a mixture composed of wood ashes (parred through a sieve), finely powdered clay, and a little common salt. These ingredients are worked up with some water, and applied to the stove while cold. The cement hardens on being heated, and it is said, will neither split nor crack.

SKINNED THEM.

Some Gullible People Buy Worthless Paper.

The Diamond Investment Company Proves to Be a Fraud as Its Predecessor, the Bond Investment Company.

The holders of the Diamond investment bonds have complained to the police that the paper now held by them and long overdue remains unpaid. The company was gotten up by the genius who sprung the Bond investment company upon an unsuspecting and gullible public a few years ago, for which he spent a term in the penitentiary. The Diamond company paid a few bonds in the start and then quit. It is estimated that the management is $12,000 ahead of Fort Wayne. The police say no action can be brought against any but the man who negotiated the sale of the bonds.

GOLD SEEKERS DROWNED.

Several Prospectors Lose Their Lives Crossing Lake Bennett.

SEATTLE, June 8, via Victoria, B. C., June 8.—H. J. Keeler, who has just returned from British Lake, says that steam and gasoline launches are now running on Lakes Bennett and Lindemann. No steam vessels have got past the Caribou Crossing this spring, but small boats are daily making the run. Mr. Keeler says that a week ago Sunday three men, whose names he could not ascertain, were drowned close to Caribou Crossing, on Lake Bennett. He has been in camp at the head of Taglah for over six weeks. It is his belief that at least twenty persons have been drowned on the lakes since the ice began to break up.

BLONDIKE STEAMER WRECKED.

VICTORIA, B. C., June 8.—The new stern wheeler Iskoot, belonging to the Klondike Mining, Trading and Transportation company has been wrecked on a rock in the west inlet. She will be a total loss. She was on her way to the Stikeen in charge of Captain McLennan and Pilot O'Brien. It is stated that the pilot mistook the channel which leads into west inlet for the mouth of the Skeena river. The Iskoot was one of the finest equipped river vessels on the Pacific coast. She was insured for $20,000.
